Work of Rescue Squad Contributes Much To Welfare, Safety of Citizens in This Area

By MIKE KATSIAS
Today on the first day of August, the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad begins its sixth annual Fund Raising Drive to allow it to continue its benevolent operation for the residents of this area. Their service costs you nothing and this group of men is on duty 24 hours a day to lend assistance in event of the need for emergency service.

The Rescue Squad is not supported by any tax levies, but relies strictly on the contributions of the interested public. During the past year, nearly 600 persons called on it for assistance. Some of these calls were simple transportation, but the majority were to persons in serious trouble.

Following the lead made by many communities of comparable size and character, in May of 1955, the local unit had its inception. With 13 members and an old second-hand ambulance which had been purchased for the token price of one dollar from the City of Virginia Beach, a group that would cover emergencies beyond the protection of the fire and police department began its operation.

Next the unit acquired an old Dodge panel-truck from John Fitzgerald for a dollar, then a Pontiac station wagon was converted into an ambulance, and the equipment came continued with the acquisition of a boat with trailer and motor. The pride of the Squad is the 1955 Cadillac ambulance made especially for coverage of all injuries. It has proved to be one of the most valuable pieces of equipment they have.

They now maintain two well equipped ambulances, two fully equipped trucks including an auxiliary power plant and portable flood lights, a public address system, hydraulic power jacks and acetylene torch cutting equipment, a boat trailer with outboard motor for water emergencies.

The Rescue Squad is also a member of the Civil Defense of Virginia Beach and by virtue of belonging to this organization and with city help, a new crash truck has been put into use just this past week.

Members of this group are ordinary citizens, from every walk of life; here you will find a mixture of gas station owners, lawyers, city employees, and telephone workers all generously donating their time to aid those in need. Each of the 43 members must measure up to rigid qualifications before being accepted for service. There is a pledge of time and effort while on duty.

To maintain and use this equipment, each member must successfully complete the American Red Cross Standard and Advanced courses in first aid. An examination is given to see that all members are well-versed in the manipulation of all gear used by the unit. To keep abreast of the new methods and equipment, a compulsory training program is part of the Squad's activities. On weekdays from 8 p.m. till 8 a.m., two men are always on duty and on week-ends a 24-hour schedule is in effect. During the days of the week, a unique volunteer program is administered by the group. If a call comes in, a member of the squad is notified and quickly goes into action. The calls range from heart attacks, accidents, drownings, to broken limbs. In each case, the squad member who answers the call is ready for the emergency.

This year's Squad Captain is C. S. Kiley. Other members holding group positions are: R. E. McClanahan, 1st Lieutenant; C. C. Caton, 2nd Lieutenant; O. W. Wade, sergeant; G. G. Beggie, secretary; Wm. H. Phillips, treasurer; R. E. McChesney, public relations; and G. R. White Jr., chaplain.

Some noteworthy statistics were released by the group in preparation for their Fund Raising Drive: 758 calls were answered for the year, a total of 5,559 since its organization; 11,205 miles were driven in service for the year, a grand total of 79,594 miles; and 10,376 man hours were volunteered during the past year bringing the total to 49,451 on that score.

"The generous donation of the property behind the fire station by the City Council, a new building which will house the unit is being erected at the present time. The structure is valued at $32,000 and will be a tremendous improvement over the rapidly deteriorating quarters now being used. The old home of the Squad was donated by the Standard Oil Co. and made of light tin. 'You can punch a hole in those buildings with your fist,' said R. E. Mc-Chesney, public relations head. "We need this new building very badly." A standard joke of the group with little humor are the revelations of the cold winter nights spent in those buildings.

The new headquarters will be two stories in height and easily store the equipment used by the Squad. Upstairs in the building will be the location of the sleeping quarters and the meeting room upon its completion.

One of the big operational problems is the $2,600 item for insurance. The proposed 1957-58 budget calls for operational sum of $15,000. This includes such costs as utilities, maintenance, travel expenses (tolls), and other operating expenses.

The slogan "We Need Your Help — You May Need Ours" is one which should have an important meaning to many of the residents of the community who have received Rescue Squad aid. It is a sincere request by a group of men who have aided their fellow citizens in many emergencies during the past five years, they wish to continue this worthy operation.

The drive for funds will last throughout the month and even as it goes on, the Rescue Squad goes on providing trained help to stand by in case of any arising emergency where it can be of assistance. Without the contributions of the public the unit would cease to function here in this area.

"Our Governor's Highway Safety Committee says we don't commit robbery, assault or murder just because we think no police officer will see us. The Committee also says that if we felt the same about traffic laws we wouldn't see from 800 to a thousand traffic deaths in Virginia every year."

Small Group Attends Meeting Here for Republican Nominees

Approximately 35 persons attended a meeting here Tuesday night to hear Senator Ted Dalton and other Republican candidates and the host for the group, John H. Bell, stated that more would have attended in his opinion, if it had not been for the heavy-weight championship boxing bout on TV at the same time.

Bell said that local Republicans were well pleased with the crowd but that undoubtedly more would have attended if the fight had not been on TV.

In answer to a question put to him by a Sun-News reporter, Bell said that the city and county republican committees were present and a few workers. He did not elaborate.

Claiborne R. Bryant, treasurer of the local Republican group, had little comment to make on the meeting, except to say that he agreed with what Dalton had to say about industry and travel development in the State.

In addition to Dalton, other candidates present included Horace E. Henderson, the party's choice for lieutenant governor; and William M. Harris, candidate for the House of Delegates. Dalton spoke on the tourist potential and the need for attracting industry to the State. He said he would seek a program to give more employment and opportunity for Virginians and "in turn a higher standard of living."

Dalton also told the small group of party leaders and workers that they need not worry about the school issue. "Morally we are right," he said.

Youngsters Enjoy Watermelon Feast

These youngsters, all participants in the Virginia Beach summer recreation program at the city playgrounds on 24th Street are shown as they enjoy a watermelon feast with recreation supervisors. The recreation program this year has been the most successful in history. (Photo by Boice)

Rec. Program Exhibit Marks Eighth Week

The special event for the eighth week of the Virginia Beach Summer Recreation Program will be a high lighted by an exhibition of basket craft, copper craft, clay craft, puppet and Indian costumes. Everyone is invited to attend the exhibition which will be held at the Virginia Beach High School gymnasium. The time will be from 2 to 4 on Friday August 2. There will be over 150 exhibits on display and prizes will be awarded on the basis of first, second, and third place.

After the exhibition, a roller skating party will be held at the playground so all up your roller skates and join in the fun. Parents are invited to join their youngsters at the party and exhibition. Refreshments will be served and contests will be open to all who attend. The following contests will be run off: bubble gum blowing for young and old. Balloon blowing and bursting contests, bag races. Shoe scramble races so make sure you bring some old shoes. The final event of the day will be an Indian costume parade, all costumes will be made by the children.

You youngsters who have not visited with us this summer and wish to get in the fun, drop by the playground area at the Cooke School and the other at the Va. Beach High School and join the other happy youngsters. All school age children are invited to attend the program.

In the four years from 1897 to 1900 $51,000,000.00 in gold was extracted from the famed Klondike area in northwestern Canada by hand methods now considered primitive.

Red Cross Chapter Seeks Games, Cards, Novels

Mrs. Stuart C. Mallory, Executive Secretary, Princess Anne Chapter, American Red Cross has issued a plea for donations of any games, playing cards, jigsaw puzzles, paper back novels and so forth. Anyone having any of these items may take them to the Red Cross office at 18th and Arctic Ave., Virginia Beach or call V. B. 958. These will be given to Navy ships going to the Mediterranean on long cruises.

Scanning... THE BEACH By MIKE KATSIAS

After giving it some thought, I decided to write a column about the beach. I have been a newspaper man for many years and I have seen many things. I have seen the beach from the inside and the outside. I have seen the beach from the point of view of the tourist and the resident. I have seen the beach from the point of view of the businessman and the politician. I have seen the beach from the point of view of the scientist and the philosopher. Pirates Widen Lead Over Legion In Princess Anne Little League

July 22—The Pirates widened their lead on first place with a 6 to 0 win over the Bears. Tommy Garneau gave up 3 hits, struck out 10 and walked 4 for the winners. He was aided in victory by the hitting of Robert Eckon who had 2 for 2 and Eddie Johnson who had 3 for 3. Jimmy Flippen pitched for the Bears and gave up 7 hits, 4 walks and struck out 1. Wade Johnson had 3 hits for 2 trips to the plate and Dennis Malhot got the only other Bear hit.

July 23—The scheduled game between the American Legion and the Peppers was rained out. No date has as yet been set to play the game.

July 25—The Amcas overcame the Peppers by a score of 13 to 4. Mike Oxner started for the winners and went 3 1/2 innings during which he gave up 3 hits, 3 walks and struck out 3. John Crowling came on the mound in relief, gave up no hits, walked 3 and struck out 4. Kenny Ames found the mark of the Pepper mound staff for a single, double and triple, in 4 times at bat. Mike Oxner got 2 for 4, 1 double and Steve Gallagher had 2 for 4.

Larry Bell, Billy Grimstead and Johnny Sprull for the Peppers gave up a total of 9 hits, 15 walks and 4 strikeouts. Larry Bell walked two consecutive home runs for the losers for 2 hits in 4 tries. The only other Pepper hit was gotten by Dick Cannon.

July 26—Five errors proved costly to the Amcas when they lost to the Bears by a 5 to 3 score. For the Bears Wade Johnson gave up 9 hits, struck out 9 and walked 3. Steve Gallagher, all star pitcher, gave up 4 hits, 4 walks and 3 strikeouts, 3 errors and a home run. Tom Tyler, Don Russell and Bob Schaeffer, in addition to the 4 hits Steve Gallagher, who went the distance for the Amcas, struck out 5 and walked 4. Steve hit 3 for 3 times at bat and Ricky Wade also had 3 for 3, a 1 double.

July 28—At NAS Oceana Field the Pirates defeated the American Legion by a score of 10 to 8. Dale Honeck started for the Pirates and in 3 1/2 innings gave up 1 hit, 4 walks, 1 hit and 1 strikeout. Bailey Spence relieved him and in the remaining 1 1/2 innings gave up 1 hit, struck out 2 and hit 2 batters. PRINCESS ANNE LITTLE LEAGUE ALL STAR GAME

On July 24, the Princess Anne Little League All Stars met the Sixth Avenue Little League of Portsmouth All Stars at Carey Field, Princess Anne won with a score of 7 to 3.

Sixth Avenue won the toss to be home team. In the first inning Johnny Blackman struck out the first three batters to face him. In the bottom of the first inning Sixth Avenue scored 2 runs on 3 hits and 2 errors.

In the second inning Blackman struck out the first 2 batters to face him and got the third man to fly out to the right fielder. In the bottom of the second Wayne Pickrell got a base hit and then Bobby DeMille struck out the next 3 batters.

In the third inning Kenny Ames flied out to the pitcher, Blackman gave up 2 walks, Larry Bell struck out 2 batters. Bailey Spence reached first on an error by the second baseman and two runs scored, tying the score. Sixth Avenue was retired 1, 2, 3 in the bottom of the third.

James Tarter received a walk in the fourth inning, stole 2 bases and after Steve Gallagher struck out, he scored on Jack Mins' base hit. Mins reached third on an error and scored on Kenny Ames' sacrifice. Sixth Avenue could not change the 4 to 2 score in their half of the inning.

There was no scoring for either team in the fifth inning. With 2 out in the sixth Dale Honeck singled, Tommy Garneau singled and with them aboard Larry Bell hit a homerun to make the score 7-3. In the bottom of the sixth Jerry Maddrey hit a homerun with none on to make the final score 7-3.

Bobby DeMille went all the way on the mound for Princess Anne and gave up 4 hits, struck out 6 and walked 1. Princess Anne's hitters of the day were Jack Mins, Dale Honeck and Tommy Garneau with singles and a homerun by Larry Bell.

Johnny Blackman did the pitching for Sixth Avenue Little League giving up 4 hits, striking out 13 and walking 5. Their hits were gotten by David Broadhurst, Jimmy McClain, Wayne Pickrell and 4 homeruns by Jerry Maddrey.

Rotarians Extend Winning In American Little League

The Rotarians extended their winning streak to four games by defeating the Cubs 4-2 in an American Little League contest July 26. In addition to Rotarian David Bill's 9th and tenth home runs the game featured three hit pitching by Ted Hanson for the winners and four hit pitching by his mound opponent Steve Standing.

The league leading Cubs scored a run in the top of the first inning when the first batter, Bill Crosby, reached first on a Rotarian error, advanced to second on an infield out, and scored on Bill Bralithwaite's single.

In the bottom half of the first the Rotarians scored what proved to be the winning runs on David Bill's first home run of the night. Ted Hanson, who was hit by a pitch, and Mike Clark, who reached first on a base on balls scored ahead of the heavy hitting Rotarian shortstop.

The Cubs tallied their second run in the third inning when Johnny Fuller stole second base after being walked and crossed the plate on a double by Bill Bralithwaite. The only other Cub hit of the ball game was a sixth inning single by Johnny Fuller.

Ted Hanson singled in the Rotarian half of the second inning, but died on third base. Steve Standing didn't allow another hit until David Bill's fifth inning bases empty home run which increased the Rotarian lead to the final score of 4-2. This was followed by a single by Lauren Potter who was retired 1, 2, 3 on a base for the final Rotarian.

A special feature of the week is a Track and Field Day to be held between the part time playgrounds at the Oceana Community Field at 1:00 p.m.

PLAYGROUND HI-LITES
OCEANA: A checker tournament was held July 22nd and the winners were as follows: 6-8 yrs. Robert Longenecker, 9-11 yrs. Freddie Grosskreutz, 12-14 yrs. Tim Wilson.

J. B. DEY: Lou Breddlove, playground director, entertained the children of this playground with his guitar and folk songs.

THALIA: Winners of a checker tournament were as follows: 6-8 yrs. Beth Martin, 9-11 yrs. Alan Elliot, 12-14 yrs. Dwight Swain.

BAYSIDE: Kenny Kublas has the best decorated bike in the bicycle parade.

SHELTON PARK: Polk dancing has become a weekly favorite of the children and folk songs of the children are even bringing favorite records from home. Willie Bradley is a lad with dancing feet and he is instrumental in getting the other boys to participate.

LITTLE CREEK: The Little Creek softball team remained unbeaten in playground competition by overwhelming Kempville by a score of 34-3. The Boyce and Boyd brothers teamed with Bob Pritchard to form a combination of a hard hitting and sure fielding team. The softballers are casting their eyes towards John B. Dey playground, another team with a reputation.

KEMPVILLE: Keep your playground clean. Lee Gehrmann just did that by being the winner in a paper picking contest. Al Basnight won 1st place by having the prettiest decorated bike—Melody and Valerie Werner were winners in a jitter bug contest.

COURTHOUSE: Edgar Baldwin defeated Jerry Hayes in an area checker tournament. A quiet afternoon session was spent in exchanging and reading of funny books.

CREEDS: Richard Etheridge took on all comers in checkers recently—Remarkable?—He is only 6 yrs. old.

Pipers Holding Narrow Lead in Beach National Little League

Aug. 1—Pipers vs J. C. Hawks;
Thunderbirds vs Giants.

Aug. 5—Giants vs Pipers;
J. C. Hawks vs Thunderbirds.

Aug. 9—Pipers vs Thunderbirds;
J. C. Hawks vs Giants. "End of second half of play"

Monday, July 22—

The Thunderbirds defeated the Giants 22-19 in a wild first game behind the pitching of Lester Martin. The Birds received twelve runs in the first inning and the Giants came back in the second inning with fourteen runs. Pat Michaels, center fielder for the Giants, received two, two-base hits and batted in five runs. Henry Heckman hit a three run homer in the third inning for the Thunderbirds giving them a three-run lead. Hugh Barnes also found the magic for the winners.

In the second contest the Pipers trounced the Hawks 11-4. Jimmy Trump went all the way for the winners giving up eight hits and striking out six. Tommy Tarkenton had two hits for three times at bat and Pete Bonney had two hits for two times at bat. Glen Ward, short stop for the Pipers, hit his third homer of the season. To wind up the game, a beautiful double play was made from Pete Bonney (3rd base) to Tommy Tarkenton (1st base) to Ernie Armstrong (catcher).

Thursday, July 25—
The Thunderbirds and Pipers scored impressive victories to hold top honors in the clubs standings. The Thunderbirds walloped the Hawks 24-1 behind Jimmy Bentley's pitching who yielded only three hits. He and Dickie Allen both hit home runs.

In the last game the first place Pipers overcame the Giants 20-1. Glen Ward, the winning pitcher, yielded only one hit.

Player of the Week—

One good reason why the Pipers are the top team of the National Little League is because one of their top players, Glen Nord, whose superb playing won him the title of "Player of the Week." Glen is a pitcher, short stop and sometimes plays at third base. Prior to the two years playing Little League ball at Virginia Beach, he played Little League baseball two years in South Dakota.

Each game, Glen gives fine support to his team, however, during last Monday's game of the 22nd against the Hawks, he hit his third home run of the season and had two hits for four times at bat. In the game against the Little Giants on the 25th Glen was the winning pitcher, yielding only one hit. He rates one of the top batting averages of the league with a .562.

Baseball is the favorite sport of the family of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Nord of 806 - 8th Street, Virginia Beach. Besides Glen, they have another son, Tommy, who is a member of the successful Thunderbirds.

Glen, eleven years old and a 7th grader, loves baseball and is an avid collector and builder of model airplanes. He is an especially good student and hopes to keep his grades high throughout school so that he may realize his ambition to enter the Naval Academy at Annapolis. You know almost at once, when talking with Glen, that this is no idle dream; and that he has determination to succeed in what he wants to do. He leaves in a few weeks, with his parents, to make his home in Minnesota and our best wishes and congratulations go with him.

Dodgers	8	3	—
Cokes	7	5	1 1/2
Yanks	6	7	3 1/2
Spots	3	8	5

The Dodgers continue to lead the league, having won 8 of their last 9 games. The Cokes remain in the race by winning 6 of their last 8 games. The schedule favors the Dodgers with two of their last four games against the last place Spots. The Cokes have to play one game each against the other three teams.

July 22—Cokes 7 - Yanks 6
The Cokes gained a half-game on the league-leading Dodgers by defeating the Yanks 7 to 6, scoring three unearned runs in the top of the seventh inning for a 7 to 5 lead. The Yanks almost pulled the game out of the fire when Kenzie Miller, on first by a fielder's choice, stole second, and home to cut the lead to 7 to 6, but Stencil flied out to Coke first baseman Lucas who doubled Thomas at third to end the game.

Fronsbarger, Cokes, and Mike Thomas, Yanks, both pitched good games, the Cokes getting 5 hits and the Yanks 4. Fronsbarger allowed one earned run and Thomas 2.

July 25—Yanks 3 - Spots 2
The Yanks and Spots played the lowest-scoring game of the season with the Yanks winning 3 to 2. The game was scoreless for four and one-half innings when the Yanks scored three runs in the fifth inning on 2 hits, 2 errors and a base-on-balls. The Spots rallied in the top of the seventh inning to score two runs on one hit, 3 walks, 1 error and 3 stolen bases but fell short of tying the score when Barry Thomas grounded out to first base.

Kenzie Miller, now 2-1, was the winning pitcher and Barry Thomas 1-1, the loser.

July 26—Dodgers 6 - Cokes 5
The Dodgers increased their lead to one-and-one-half games by defeating the Cokes 6 to 5. Charlie Krummell drove in the winning runs in the fifth inning with a two run double. Walker, the losing pitcher, whose record is now 2-2, pitched 3-mist ball and walked only two. Chap-

EDITORIAL SPEAKING

Another Forward Step

Virginia Beach and this area is taking another forward step with the announcement that a target date of July 1, 1958, has been set for the initial performance of an outdoor drama to be staged in the Virginia Beach area.

The group spearheading this latest entertainment and educational venture is the Tidewater Historic Drama Association. The drama is tentatively titled "The Confederacy" and is expected to be written by Paul Green, the author who wrote the plays at Manteo, North Carolina, and the one at Williamsburg.

The addition of an outdoor drama here would tend to give Virginia Beach a well rounded program. The drama coming along just when the Beach will have its new convention building places this community in an enviable position among resort areas.

Governments of the various political subdivisions in the area have appropriated $100,000 of the estimated $150,000 needed to place the drama in production and the remaining funds are expected to come from the public and business interests. The response by the public and business interests here has been gratifying and all signs point to success in raising the necessary funds.

We believe the outdoor drama will be a tremendous attraction and we believe that it will add immeasurably to the Virginia Beach scene as well as to the entire Tidewater area.

Rescue Squad Deserves Your Help

How often during the past year have you heard the familiar wail of the siren which means that the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad is answering another emergency call? The service was initiated five years ago this month by a group of men who realized the role it could play in our community. It costs nothing for the use of this service, they rely strictly on the contributions which are collected during the annual Fund Raising Drive now under way.

During the past year the Rescue Squad answered 758 calls, a total of 3,689 since organizing. Here are some other figures that the interested public should be acquainted with: 17,308 miles were driven in service for the year, bringing the total to 73,998 and 10,276 man hours were volunteered, making it a total of 49,451 since organizing. They are impressive figures of an organization composed of 43 men who the people of this city should take great pride in.

The Virginia Beach Sun-News urges everyone to contribute to the future existence of this organization. Through the efforts of these men, quick assistance is offered any hour of the day and night, whenever the call comes trained help is ready to answer.

New equipment has been purchased and the Squad is in the process of building new headquarters to properly house and take care of it. As the population of the city and county continues to increase the role of the Rescue Squad will become even greater. The generous contributions and faith guide its destiny.

Bay Crossing Route Practically Set

The vote of the Chesapeake Bay Ferry Commission on a north-south crossing of the proposed bridge tunnel from a point in Princess Anne County to the Eastern Shore was fairly well expected after results of an engineering and traffic survey were revealed.

The commission voted seven to three in favor of the north-south route after the study showed that it was overwhelmingly the most desirable route. Proponents of an east-west route naturally were disappointed but they should not carry their fight any further.

Should the east-west backers insist on creating a controversy over the route of the bridge-tunnel, even after the traffic study showed the north-south route to be the desirable one, the entire project could possibly be delayed and even killed by such action.

All interests should now pull together so that no time will be lost in bringing the bridge-tunnel project into being. Its construction would mean more to the entire State than can be estimated. The Commission should now present a solid front to the State Highway Department so that progress can be made.

A Coast Guardsman Is Transferred

The Coast Guard has transferred a young man from Virginia Beach to the West Coast and for Virginia Beach it is no ordinary transfer. The man transferred is Thomas A. "Tom" Dailey, who has made his presence here during the past three years very definitely felt.

Dailey can be termed the "daddy" of Little League baseball here and a tremendous worker in the field of youth development. His untiring efforts with the Little League here and its formation three years ago have meant a great deal to this community. After watching the Little Leagues progress Dailey moved in to manage a team in the Babe Ruth League.

Tom Dailey is a man to be admired and Virginia Beach will certainly miss the Dailey family. Those who know Tom, and they are many here, wish he and his family an enjoyable trip to the West Coast and can only hope that they will be returning someday to Virginia Beach.

Arthur Miller Masury

Arthur Masury, who died the past Monday in a New York City hospital, had spent 56 years of his life in Virginia Beach and he and his family contributed immeasurably to the progress and development of this community and this area.

Mr. Masury was a member of the pioneers who gave Virginia Beach a big boost in moving forward in its development. He developed and improved much of the choicest residential property at the Beach today.

His passing leaves a great void that many newcomers are not aware, but to those who have lived here for many years the name of Masury and of Arthur Masury means much.

The Sun-News offers its sympathy to the family of this man who has left his mark on this community and who will always be remembered for his vision and foresight in its development.

"I didn't buy it to keep her warm," said the other. "Just to keep her quiet."

WELCOME HOME, 'ISAAK WALTON'

NEWS FOR AND ABOUT VETERANS

A new dynamic treatment developed by Veterans Administration for aged veteran-patients is rehabilitating many severely disabled older men who had seemed destined to spend the remainder of their lives in hospitals. VA said.

At the VA Hospital in Fort Howard, Md., for example, 50 of a group of 8 aged patients receiving rehabilitation treatment overcame their disabilities sufficiently so that they were discharged from the hospital.

At the VA Hospital in Minneapolis, Minn., 25 of a group of 230 left the hospital and took jobs, 49 others were discharged to their homes and all except 10 of the remaining 65 showed worthwhile permanent improvement.

At the VA Center in Bay Pines, Fla., 114 of a group of 385 returned to their homes, 80 went into the VA domiciliary home at Bay Pines to live, eight went to nursing home, and many others received enough benefit so they can live happier, more active lives within the hospital.

Dr. ABC. Knudson, Director of the Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Service at VA Center Office in Washington, D. C., said the outpatients in these and other VA hospitals were victims of strokes, hardening of the arteries, arthritis, multiple sclerosis, and other conditions.

They were placed on special rehabilitation wards for the aged at the hospitals after they received maximum benefits from specific medical and surgical treatment, Dr. Knudson said.

Some at first could not get out of bed without help, he said, others could not propel themselves in wheelchairs, and a number were too confused to be able to get about the hospital alone.

Dr. Knudson said an individual program of rehabilitation was planned for each, under guidance of a physician, who is a specialist in physical medicine and rehabilitation.

Young people of high school and college age are making a valuable contribution in volunteer service at some 76 Veterans Administration hospitals, VA announced.

The cheer and enthusiasm of the young volunteers and the services they perform are of great assistance to patients and members of the hospital staffs, a study just completed by a special subcommittee of the VA Voluntary Service shows.

In return, the young people gain satisfaction from fulfilling their responsibility for community service and often develop interests in careers in medicine and hospital work, the subcommittee said.

The hundreds of services performed by young volunteers at VA hospitals include delivering books and flowers to wards, acting as bookends, and other tasks, including shopping and writing for patients.

Those with special skills assist in laboratory and blood banks, help with preparation of hospital meals, and act as messengers for hospital departments.

VA said it is looking for more volunteers to activities involving direct contact with patients, such as consideration is given to the qualifications of students involved and the degree of supervision that can be given by the hospital staff.

The subcommittee making the study was composed of representatives from the American Legion, the Elks, the Moose, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion Auxiliary, the Salvation Army, and the VA Department of Medicine and Surgery.

Blind Violinist To Appear Here

Gerald McCarthy, an excellent sightless violinist, was born in Manhattan, N.Y., and after attending music school here lost his sight and was forced to continue his studies at the school for the blind in Philadelphia. He entered the University of Wisconsin at Madison, receiving his B.A., as well as his M.A., in music.

Mr. McCarthy was brought to the attention of Louis Roscilli when in summer of 1956, at the time of the Overbrook School for the Blind in Philadelphia, he was playing in Philadelphia. Association for Research and Enlightenment

The A.R.E. announces that a Bible Study Group will meet every Wednesday at 8 P. M. and any who wishes to study the Bible is welcome. Edgar Cayce, on whose "Readings" the A. R. E. was founded, taught the Bible in many denominations for over 50 years and read the Bible once every year for 65 years. Before his passing, he was Bible teacher at the Presbyterian Church here.

It is most happy that this Bible Study group has started at the Headquarters which was first dedicated 27 years ago as the Edgar Cayce Hospital and reborn as the A. R. E.

The group intends to study for years much of the Bible and has begun with the Book of Isaiah, and the Dead Sea Scrolls. All are welcome. Each Wednesday at the close of the meeting there will be additional study of Prayer for Healing.

OBITUARIES

MRS. ANNA J. ZEHRER

Mrs. Anna Jones Zehmer, 48, wife of Litt Hardy Zehmer, apparently died from drowning in Lynnhaven Bay late Saturday night or early Sunday morning. The body was recovered about 9:30 Sunday morning.

Zehmer is a vice president of the Bank of Virginia in charge of the Norfolk office.

Det. Sgt. R. H. Stone said Mrs. Zehmer's husband told him his wife probably retired around 10 p. m.

He said she must have arisen during the night and walked to the edge of the Zehmer pier. A pillow and a package of cigarettes were found there.

Stone said the pier is in disrepair and Mrs. Zehmer may have fallen, striking her head.

Mrs. Zehmer was the mother of two children, Randy Zehmer, 15, and Susan Zehmer, 13.

A native of Morrison, she had lived in the Norfolk area since 1944. Besides her husband and children, she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Nannette Ham Jones of Virginia Beach, and a brother, Bennett Jones of McLean.

Funeral services were conducted at the H. D. Oliver-Funeral Apartments Monday at 2 p. m. by the Rev. Edmund Berkeley, rector of Galilee Episcopal Church, of which Mrs. Zehmer was a member. Burial was in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

ARTHUR MILLER MASURY

Arthur Miller Masury, 59, husband of Mrs. Ruth Hoffman Masury, of 207 16th St., Virginia Beach, died in a New York hospital at 5 p. m. Monday after a short illness.

Mr. Masury was a native of Marblehead, Mass., the son of the late Dr. John W. and Mrs. Martha Miller Masury. He has been a resident of Virginia Beach for the past 16 years. He operated the Masury Real Estate Agency.

Surviving in addition to his wife are one daughter, Miss Sallie Masury of Long Beach, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. Frank Weir of California; five nephews and one niece.

The body was forwarded from New York to Macos Funeral Home, Virginia Beach.

BAYSIDE LIONS CLUB

The Bayside Lions Club will hold their regular meeting Wednesday night, August 7, at 7:30 P.M. at the Shore Drive Inn.

The president, R. L. Beale, Jr., announced that the speaker for the meeting will be Richard S. Holland, vice chairman of the Chesapeake Bay Ferry Commission. He will talk to the club on the very timely subject—the proposed tunnel from Kiptopeke to Chesapeake Beach.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH QUEEN CONTEST

Mrs. A. L. Zavlenski, Youth Chairman of the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach has asked me to warn the residents of Chesapeake Beach and surrounding areas that some imposters, some of them boys, have been duping the public by telling them that they are collecting for the "Chesapeake Beach Queen Contest"—which they are not.

Each of the three girls have been working hard on collecting a penny a vote. The girls are Fay Abernathy, Carol Frenette and Carol Morris. They each have their names and pictures on their containers, so when you contribute to them you know the money will go in the right direction.

The Queen contest is held each year in connection with the Summer Festival which is sponsored by the Woman's Club of Chesapeake Beach. The girl who turns

Chesapeake Beach Festival Chairmen Busy

Mrs. Frederick Rieder, general chairman of the summer festival of the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club, to be held August 10 at the beach community center, has announced the names of sub-chairmen who are now hard at work preparing for this annual event.

The following club members are in charge of the various booths and activities which have proved so popular in past years: White elephant booth, Mrs. F. G. Hampton; bakery, Mrs. W. B. Meekins; handwork, Mrs. W. H. Gaylord; country store, Mrs. C. Gordon Oliver; food, Mrs. Harry W. Fulford; garden, Mrs. T. B. Petty; children's games, Mrs. R. W. Fels; grab bag, Mrs. C. G. Faison; decorations, Mrs. J. W. Grandy, III, and teen hop, Mrs. A. L. Zavienski. In addition, there will be pony rides and a merry-go-round for the youngsters.

The crowning of the festival queen will take place at the teen hop in the evening at the community center. Contestants for the honor are Misses Carol Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Morris; Carol Prentiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Prentiss; and Faye Abernathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Abernathy. All are busy soliciting votes in the form of donations to the Community Center building fund, with the most successful slated to wear the crown. All proceeds of the festival will go to the building fund, a joint project of the Woman's club, the Chesapeake Beach Men's Club and the Volunteer Fire Department.

A patio party, honoring the candidates for queen, was held Saturday night, July 27, at the home of Mrs. W. B. Meekins on Lake Joyce. Hostesses were Miss Pat Meekins and Misses Susan Sheely, Patsy Bassmore and Phyllis Hurst, the three attendants of the candidates. Local teenagers turned out in large numbers, paying a small admission charge for the further benefit of the building fund.

'Nickels for Farm Youth' Contest Now Under Way

Richmond, Va.—Farm youth in the six-state operating territory of Southern States Cooperative, will have the opportunity to win up to $68,000 in the "Nickels for Farm Youth" Contest to be held by the cooperative during August, September and October.

Southern States Cooperative currently serves over 350,000 farm members in the states of Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Here's how the "Nickels for Farm Youth" Contest will work: During the three-month period of the contest, farm youth under 21 years of age can collect used Cooperative Mills formula feed tags bearing a star and redeem them for cash at their local Southern States Cooperative Service Agency. The tags will be worth five cents each and must have at least three of the five points of the star showing to qualify. Tags must be turned in at the same local Agency throughout the contest to insure participants accurate total scores.

Farm youth whose parents are employees of Southern States Cooperative or its Cooperative Service Agencies are not eligible to participate in the contest.

The special tags will appear on all Cooperative Mills feeds except broiler and turkey feeds and scratch grains.

The individual boy or girl in each of the six-states who collects and turns in the greatest number of used tags will also receive a cash award of $100. The youth with the second greatest number will receive $50 and the third place winner will get $25. To be eligible to win one of these state awards a youth must turn in at least 250 tags.

Farm youth may also use the contest to earn money for their FFA Chapters, 4-H Clubs, FFA Chapters and other youth organizations.

Further details on the contest may be obtained from local Southern States Cooperative Service Agencies.

James Pharmacy Opens at Hilltop

James Pharmacy, above, will have its formal opening Friday and Saturday, August 2-3. Owned and operated by E. M. James, the pharmacy is located on the corner of Great Neck and Laskin Roads at Hilltop. The building is air conditioned and includes a soda fountain-luncheonette and a prescription department headed by Mr. James. During the grand opening, the firm will award prizes and free gifts. As part of their celebration, the pharmacy will display a Triumph TR-3 English sports car on their floor. The car is being furnished by Eastern Auto Distributors of Norfolk, Va.

Buddies Can Enlist and Train Together in U.S. Marine Corps

Two, three, four or even five buddies can walk into a Marine recruiting office and be given assurance they'll all be scheduled to remain together throughout the initial phases of their training. Master Sergeant John W. Speice, of the Marine Corps Recruiting Sub Station at Room 407, Post Office Building, Norfolk, Virginia, announced that now he has the authority to guarantee that close friends who enlist together will be assigned to the same "boot camp" platoon.

The Buddy System—the Leatherneck recruiter calls it—applies even after graduation from recruit training at Parris Island, S. C. The buddies go together to Camp Lejeune, N. C. for their advanced individual combat training, still belonging to one platoon.

Sergeant Speice says the new idea is paying-off threefold. First, prospective applicants like the idea of beginning their active duty with one or more friends whom they've known many years. Second, the Marine Corps can more readily maintain enlistment quotas and its highly coveted status as an "all-volunteer" service. Third, but not least in importance as Sgt. Speice pointed out, the Buddy System recruitment is at no increased expense to the government.

"In fact," he remarked, "the more prospects who can be administratively processed, enlisted and trained at one time, the more efficient our overall personnel operation."

The guarantee of recruit and infantry training together becomes null and void in a few circumstances. Each enlistee of a buddy group is given fair warning that disciplinary action, hospitalization, training set-backs, discharge or other similar action can cause individuals to leave the originally assigned platoon.

Asked if girls could get the same guarantee by joining the Marine Corps with their friends, the local recruiter answered in the affirmative but immediately qualified it with, "Men will train in men platoons and girls in Women Marine platoons."

"Should a man enlist with his girl-friend? We can guarantee only that they'll train on the same island together — Parris Island!"

Virginia Artists Asked to Design Christmas Seal

A call has gone out for Virginia artists to design the 1958 TB Christmas Seal. The "call" is emanating from every one of the local tuberculosis associations in Virginia, from the Eastern Shore to Lee County in the far western tip of the State, and was announced today, July 26, by Edmund Brill, Richmond Chamber of Commerce Publicity Director and chairman of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association's public relations committee.

"This is a national competition in 'art for heart's sake,'" Brill said, "and we are urging every Virginia artist to enter. There is a $500 award, and a great deal of favorable publicity for the winning artist on a national level. We are arranging a display of Virginia entries in a Richmond department store window the week of September 16."

Brill said that the contest was being given particular emphasis this year because the 1958 Christmas Seal will be chosen by a national jury in October of 1957, and 1958 will be the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Virginia Tuberculosis Association. "Just imagine the millions and millions of Christmas Seals that are used each year," he said. "If a Virginia artist would be chosen as the 1958 designer for the Seal, it would be a great honor for the State. Last year a Virginia artist, Wesley Dennis, was in the nation's top ten submitting designs. We want to try for first place this year."

The State TB association has had numerous requests for rules and specifications, and all indications point to enthusiastic participation by artists all over Virginia.

Brill urged artists who are interested in learning more about the contest to get in touch with their local TB associations for information.

Four Varieties of Winter Wheat Grown in State Named Undesirable

Four varieties of soft winter wheat produced in Virginia have been named by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as "undesirable" because of inferior milling or baking qualities and are to be discounted at 30 cents per bushel in price support rates. The discount will apply on the 1958 wheat crop. The discounted varieties are: KanQueen, Kawale, Nured and Seabreep.

Discounts were first adopted on wheat under the 1956 price support program to discourage wheat of inferior quality finding its way into commercial and export channels. A total of 31 varieties have been placed in the "undesirable" classification but most of these varieties are not produced in Virginia.

Regulations for the price support program provide for producer classification regarding undesirable varieties based on his knowledge of the varieties he seeded and harvested.

FORT STORY TELLINGS -

ROTC
More than 350 Reserve Officer Training Corps Cadets from 12 Colleges and Universities left Fort Story Friday afternoon after a full week of amphibious training here.

The cadets, who will complete a six-week training season with the US Army Transportation Training Command this week, received classroom and practical instruction in DUKW driving, cargo handling, landing craft operation and other facets of amphibious operations.

ROTC training was under the planning and direction of the 14th Transportation Battalion, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Joseph S. Bostick. In addition to their amphibious training, the cadets received a four hour class on mine warfare, presented by representatives of the Engineer School, Fort Belvoir, Virginia.

A visit to the NEESE site of Battery "D" of the 36th Missile Battalion and a tour of Hampton Roads Army Terminal completed the cadets' stay in this area.

NEW BARC

A new huge 98 1/2 ton amphibious BARC, the first of 14 scheduled for delivery this summer, arrived at Fort Story last Wednesday.

The BARC, which was constructed by the Treadwell Corporation of Midland, Pennsylvania, was taken in tow by a 65-foot, 300 horsepower tugboat, owned by the Hoven Tug Company of New Orleans. The tug, skippered by Captain Arthur Harris, made the 35-day, 3700 mile trip with her cumbersome load down the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers, across the Gulf of Mexico, through Florida's Cross-Strait Canal and up the inter-coastal waterway.

At one point the BARC was called upon to trade roles with the tug, when the boat grounded on a sand bar in the Cross-Strait canal. The BARC took the tug in tow and freed her with no effort.

Treadwell Officials, David B. Minor, Chief Development Engineer and Dave Davenport, Inspector for Treadwell, hailed the BARC's seaworthiness and announced that three more of the huge amphibians are ready for delivery. As soon as a larger tug arrives at Midland, Pa. two more BARCs will start the long trip to Fort Story.

ARCTIC TRIP CANCELLED

With three Fort Story units participating in Arctic Operations already this summer, a fourth, the 554th BARC platoon, had its scheduled trip to the Far North cancelled. The 554th was scheduled to leave last weekend, along with Fort Eustis' 285th Transportation Company, for the Baffin Islands, to resupply airbases of the Northeast Air Command.

The 155th and 565th Terminal Service Companies departed July 22 from the Naval Amphibious Base, Little Creek, for their summer tour in the Arctic as part of Project 572, while the 570th Terminal Service Company sailed earlier in the month to participate in Operation OAP-FINE.

A reduction in freight requirements was cited as the reason for the cancellation of the 554th's trip. The unit will continue training here with their huge 98 1/2-ton BARCs.

CUBMOBILERS

Fort Story's Hill Top Road will be bustling with activity Saturday as the Cub Scouts of the Norfolk-Ski-coast District practice up for the big Cubmobile Derby. The scouts are making final checks on their home built racers and improving their driving skills in preparation for the 3rd annual Cubmobile Derby to be held here at Fort Story the 11th of August.

The big race will find more than 100 boys competing for the 48 trophies and 27 ribbons that will be presented to the winners in various racing events that will be held.

Chairman of the Cubmobile Derby, R. L. Barnes, estimates a crowd of 4000 people will be present to observe the boys speed down Hill Top Road.

SAFETY RECORD

Nearly eight months without a traffic accident! That's a record of which drivers assigned to the Transportation Motor Pool at Fort Story are justly proud.

The six military and 21 civilian drivers assigned to the Motor Pool operate sedans, buses, and trucks for post level organizations, and so is shown by their safety record, they do it well. Recently 16 of the Motor Pool's civilian staff were cited by the National Safety Council and the Civilian Personnel Division of the US Army Transportation Training Command for superior driving.

Major George E. Thibodeau is Post Transportation Officer, and First Lieutenant Karl Shank is the officer in charge of the Motor Pool.

The Very Reverend Hugh E. Dunn, S. J. President of Carroll University, and Father William Miller, ex-Dean of the Cleveland, Ohio institution inspected ROTC training at Fort Story last week, along with J. Howard Peebles, Professor of Engineering, at Tulane University and Donald Young, Treasurer of Bucknell University.

The educators were guests of Colonel George E. Woods, Jr., post commander at a luncheon Wednesday at the Fort Story Officers Club, where they conferred with Major General Rush B. Lincoln, Jr., commanding general of the US Army Transportation Training Command, and Colonel George W. Barry, Deputy ROTC Camp Commander.

Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning were spent in visiting the ROTC training sites, during which time the distinguished guests had a try at piloting a DUKW themselves. The visitors had an opportunity for an informal visit with the cadets Wednesday evening. Almost half of the 350 cadets training here represented John Carroll, Tulane, and Bucknell.

RESERVEISTS

US Army Training at Fort Story, temporarily suspended while preparation and training for ROTC cadets were in full swing, went underway again this week as the largest encampment of Reserve to train here this summer begins to assemble.

The 244th Transportation Battalion, commanded by Colonel Alfred G. Karper, is undergoing training this week and more than 500 Reservists from 11 units from Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Florida are scheduled to arrive this weekend to commence their two-week Active Unit Training.

The Reserve Terminal and Amphibious Truck units will engage in MOS (military occupational specialty) training, on the Fort Story beach. The training is designed to further skills of the individual soldier, and to implement the training he receives at his hometown armory.

A large crowd which had gathered in the street to watch temporarily "hindered" the firemen. Eventually, the area was roped off to give the fire fighters more room to work. The fire department remained at the store from 6:30 p.m. when the call was answered until 9:30 p.m. damping out the smoldering wreckage.

William Moskowitz, the owner of the store, said the stock was partly covered by insurance, but could give no estimate of the damage until he took stock by daylight. Moskowitz leases the premises. He said it probably would be about 30 days before the store could be opened again.

Apparently starting in an office at the rear of the store, it spread to the ceiling and down a wall into the showroom at the front. The roof, ceiling and walls were badly damaged. Smoke and water inflicted considerable damage on the stock.

Local Store

Damaged by Fire and Smoke

The usual calm of a Monday evening here at this city was interrupted as a fire badly damaged a clothing store on Atlantic Avenue between 18th and 19th streets. Thirty-five firemen, 22 of them volunteers, fought the blaze for an hour before bringing it under control in the Wilmos Store.

A large crowd which had gathered in the street to watch temporarily "hindered" the firemen. Eventually, the area was roped off to give the fire fighters more room to work. The fire department remained at the store from 6:30 p.m. when the call was answered until 9:30 p.m. damping out the smoldering wreckage.

Apparently starting in an office at the rear of the store, it spread to the ceiling and down a wall into the showroom at the front. The roof, ceiling and walls were badly damaged. Smoke and water inflicted considerable damage on the stock.

William Moskowitz, the owner of the store, said the stock was partly covered by insurance, but could give no estimate of the damage until he took stock by daylight. Moskowitz leases the premises. He said it probably would be about 30 days before the store could be opened again.

County Treasurer's Office Busy Year Around

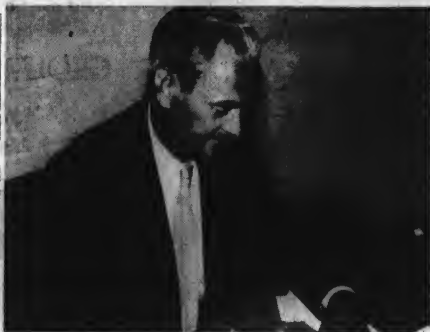

By MIKE KATSIAS
(Editors Note: This is the first in a series of articles designed to acquaint the people of Princess Anne County with the municipal agencies that are responsible for the efficient operation of their county government.)

One of the most frequently visited offices on the "hill" at Princess Anne County is the building which houses the county treasurer and his staff. Last year this branch of the county government handled some $5,700,000 in funds. The treasurer's office is the hub of government throughout the land, the County of Princess Anne is no exception to the rule.

"All revenue and all disbursements for county government operation are handled by our office," stated V. Alfred Etheridge, county treasurer. The staff is kept constantly busy with the flood of revenue which daily finds its way to them.

Functions

Here is a partial list of some of the many functions that comprise the workload of this governmental branch of the Princess Anne system. County auto tags are sold, due to the continued case of annexation by the City of Norfolk, this function has kept the office in constant activity. At last estimate, some 24,000 tags had been sold. Revenues for building and electrical permits is another. An assorted mass of state business licenses, dog tags, state income tax, real estate and personal property tax helps complete this brief summary of an ever-increasing schedule.

V. ALFRED ETHERIDGE
Treasurer of Princess Anne County

Every year, six months prior to the General Election, the county treasurer has the responsibility of certifying the list of those who have paid their poll tax and are thus eligible to vote. This is an assignment which has just been completed for 1957.

At present, the office is busily at work addressing the real estate tax bills which will be sent out to county owners around the last of September, they will be payable by December 5, 1957. Competently completing the work for this assignment is one of the most demanding that is grasped with. Due to the avalanche of tax bills that follow, on November 15, an extra crew works up until 10 o'clock each night through December 15. This is only set-up to handle the real estate bills that will meet the deadline date—countless late bills trickle in afterwards.

The Staff

Besides Etheridge, there are 12 other treasury employees for the county. The two deputy treasurers are John C. Bradburn and Ben M. Oldham. The remaining 10 are women employees who handle the vast clerical work of the office. All are under bond and have easily adapted themselves to the system used by Princess Anne.

Speaking highly of his staff Etheridge said, "Fortunately for the county and my responsibility as treasurer, my staff is a very efficient one." The employees daily balance the sheets of the office in this department, there must be no error. Once a year, the state auditors go over the revenues and expenses of the county—it's a lengthy procedure which takes four months to complete.

One statement points out the efficiency credited to this office—the three cashiers collected some $4,000,000 last year and out of this total, only $60 in errors resulted!

Operational Cost

The year of 1952 marked one of great expansion for the County of Princess Anne. "It was the year they started to streamline the government," said Etheridge. Many new offices were created which prior to that date did not exist. Among them was the creation of an executive secretary, who plays a managerial role similar to the town manager. A Planning Commission with a director and a zoning enforcement officer came into being. Then, full-time building, plumbing and electrical inspectors were added. To expand the recreational program, a director and staff were hired. A Comptroller's office was initiated to keep a close surveillance on expenditures for the county. Previously provided by issuing a contract, the vital Sanitation department was installed. "From a population of 37,000 in 1950, we have grown to the extent of 90,000 at the present time—in the county, this point alone marks the reason for the necessary annual increase in our operational cost."

The students of the county have increased from 6,723 in January of 1954 to the number of 14,683 at the present time. This is another reason which stands for rising cost. Teacher's salaries have increased, new and energetic policy formulated by school officials, all blending to offer an adequate and efficient system for the children of the county.

Even with the need for operational increase, real estate tax in the county has not increased since 1953. The public notices an increase in operational cost for the county, but at the same time, does it notice the measures taking place in its governmental agencies and school system? Efficient government in Princess Anne is a typical example of this case in fact!

Security Stressed

Etheridge brought out that when he deposits any of the funds of the county, the bank in question must secure an equal amount of government bonds to offer absolute security for these funds. The ordinary depositor is insured up to 10,000, this would hardly be sufficient for such a big and vital deposit as the county makes.

A state law requires him to have a bond amounting to 15 per cent of the money to be handled by his office during the year—this totaled $865,000. To offer more security measures, every employee is bonded up to $10,000 each.

The average cost of the operation to the county for the 365-day year is computed at approximately from 11,000 to $12,000 per day. This necessitates the county treasurer to sign some 2600 checks per month personally. Only teachers checks are signed by a check machine, and when that plate is not in use, Etheridge sees to its safe removal from any other use.

"Every penny we collect is put through a validating machine—no money is accepted without a receipt being issued, this is the highlight of our treasury system." The validation machine allows the treasurer's office to keep an unmistakable and complete record of all paid transactions. Deputy Treasurer Oldham gave a convincing demonstration of the effectiveness of the validating tape as he retraced a tax bill paid last year. On a busy day, this tape can easily be close to the length of a room. It is of prime importance in completing the security and administrative cycle of the treasurer's responsibility to the county's tax payers.

The county treasurer is an important position, the overall financial responsibility is his. His staff is the link which is called on to keep these affairs in order. When thinking of them, let such thoughts as the many duties, the postage bill which totals $4,000 a month be vivid reminders. Princess Anne County operates on what is referred to as a balanced budget—the government begins the year with no funds remaining from the last and ends the year with none. "Everyone must live within the budget," stated the treasurer in concluding the informative interview. The past Monday, a new budget was put in operation for the county government. Many agencies will draw on its revenues and services. It will be the job of the treasurer's office to keep record of another financial picture.

Splash Party at Princess Anne Country Club

By Alice G. Parker

A bevy of teenage bathing beauties performing in the Aquacade were the main attraction at the Pool Splash Party on Saturday Night at the Princess Anne Country Club.

Three hundred and fifty-three members of the Club and their guests gathered at six o'clock for cocktails at poolside, on the pool terrace and in the Clubhouse. The three Mermaids, Mrs. Gerry M. Ashburn, Mrs. Roy M. Niel, Jr., and Mrs. David G. Adams reclining on a float in the middle of the pool dispensed refreshments to all who swam out to receive them. A diving exhibition by Johnny Atkinson was interrupted by the antics of the two clown Butch Maloney and Elliott Bridges which added to the merriment of the cocktail hour.

The Boys over Forty Diving Contest was won by Dr. R. B. Venner who received the most applause. Others entering the competition were: Dr. J. A. Cooke, Commander Eugene Rankin, Captain Bush Winters, Captain Edward Outlaw, and several others reluctant to reveal their age by being named.

A Buffet Dinner was served both on the pool deck and in the Main Dining Room after which dancing was enjoyed on the Pool Terrace to Jimmy Thompson's Band. Mr. Roy M. Niel, Jr., Manager of the Club, and the Club Entertainment Committee, conceived the idea of the Pool Splash Party, the first event since the Pool's opening in early June. Mrs. David G. Adams, whose Camp Counselor experience served her well, produced and directed the Aquacade. She was assisted by Mrs. Warren Johnston, wife of the Club Tennis Pro, who formerly swam professionally with Elliott Murphy's Aquacade in the World's Fair Pool in 1951 and did competitive diving for the Women's Swimming Association, and Mr. David Jones, Pool Pro and Swimming Instructor formerly at Beach Country Club, Greenville, North Carolina Pool, and instructor of recruits during a tour of duty in the Navy.

At intermission, the Aquacade was presented by the Club's perennial announcer, Commander Wynne V. Whidden. A diving exhibition, well executed, by the Misses Peggy Rankin, Mary Linda Standing, Barrie Oast, Betty Rankin, Katya Shoemaker, Donale Bill, Penny Bell, and Susan Winters was equally well received.

With the exception of Mrs. Warren Johnston and Mr. Kenneth Brethauer, all participants in the Aquacade were teenage members of the Club. Mrs. Johnston and Mr. Brethauer performed an Aquacade figure "The Bird" surrounded by the Princess Anne Country Club Mermaids: Miss Katya Shoemaker, Shelby Parrish, Mickey Ballillo, Mott Mason, Susan Winters, Penny Bell, Amy Fuller, Bonnie Bell, Mary James Sadler, Mary Linda Standing, Barrie Oast, Peggy Rankin, Nellie Ballillo and Betsy Turner. Several figures well executed by these young ladies were followed by a special figure by the Misses Katya Shoemaker, Amy Fuller, Shelby Parrish and Susan Winters. At the conclusion of the Aquacade, Miss Katya Shoemaker presented Mrs. Adams with a gift from the girls of the chorus in appreciation for the training she had given them. Before Mrs. Adams could say thank you, they picked her up and threw her fully dressed into the pool.

Guests at the "splash party" swim eagerly out to the boat in the middle of the pool to receive refreshments from three lovely mermaids. They are (left to right) Mrs. Roy M. Niel, Mrs. Gerry M. Ashburn and Mrs. David G. Adams. The party was held Saturday evening at the Princess Anne Country Club. Also on the agenda for the evening were a diving exhibition, aquacade, cocktail hour, buffet dinner and dancing.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and fables . . . for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Here's the ewan I promised you from the Home Economics Department of the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association.

To keep vegetables fresh, crisp and tasty until ready for cooking or serving, most kinds should be kept in the refrigerator. Following are a few suggestions from the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association:

(1) Vegetables need to be kept not only cold, but moist. In general, they should be kept in the refrigerator in film bags or in closed pans or non-drying compartments.

(2) Before placing greens and salad vegetables in the refrigerator, if they show any sign of dryness, wash, sprinkle or dip them as necessary.

(3) Do not refrigerate potatoes or sweet potatoes. For ordinary short storage in a home or apartment, they keep best at room temperature, but they should not be placed next to a radiator.

(4) Tomatoes, if not ripe, should be kept at room temperature until fully ripe, then should be refrigerated.

Keeping Fruits
With fresh fruits, the following suggestions are aimed at producing the best flavor and nutritional value:

(1) If fruits are firm ripe, as many are when purchased, give them plenty of time to mellow at room temperature. Citrus is an exception, and may be refrigerated immediately. It is ready to eat as purchased.

(2) In general, when fruits are at or near the ready-to-eat stage, place them in the refrigerator. Even bananas may be refrigerated after they have reached the ripeness that suits the individual consumer.

(3) All berries should be refrigerated as soon as received, because they deteriorate quickly if allowed to become warm.

(4) Any ordinary refrigerator temperature is good for fruit so long as it is above freezing.

Most everyone knows how to cook fresh vegetables! But then, every once in awhile we find someone who seems to have a magical touch. What are their secrets?

In the first place, these cooks who turn out better-than-usual results have probably learned to treat fresh vegetables with more than average respect. Too often we're careless in cooking these very familiar foods. Perhaps we forget and overcook them a little or serve them cool instead of piping hot or cook them in too much water or pay too little attention to preparation. It is not difficult to mistreat them, but it certainly is a tragic waste of delicious and nutritious foodstuffs.

Many hotels and restaurants have found that taking a few extra pains with fresh vegetables will impress their customers as much as any other thing they can do to improve their food. The same can apply in the home.

Crisp-Tender Vegetables

The homemaker wishing to make a name for her fresh vegetable cookery might first try learning to serve crisp-tender vegetables. We didn't say "half-cooked", but we mean slightly crispier than the very tender (actually soft) vegetables that are more common in this country. If you're of the "soft school" now, it may take a little practice to get the crisp-tender texture every time, but the effort will be worth it. You'll know it when you reach this gently crisp texture. The flavor and color will also be improved.

Do Americans on the whole like crisp-tender vegetables? The experience of some of our largest restaurant chains indicates that they do. Experiments brought an overwhelming approval for the better textured vegetables. The difference was noted by the customers and the result was that the restaurants became known for their fresh vegetable service.

Checkpoints
While overcooking is a prime danger, there are also several other points to watch. Here is a checklist of cooking tips for fresh vegetables:

1. Cook vegetables in the minimum of water needed to prevent scorching. Actual amount will vary with size of pan and amount of vegetables. One fourth to one inch is usually enough. This low water cookery method retains more of the precious nutrients in the vegetables, as well as producing good flavor and texture.

2. Salt the cooking water and bring to a boil before adding vegetables. After adding vegetables, bring to a boil again as quickly as possible, reduce heat and boil slowly so steam is not lost.

3. For root vegetables and lima beans, cover pan tightly and let trapped steam do the cooking.

4. For green vegetables, let some of the steam escape by leaving the lid off the first five minutes of cooking or by raising the lid several times during cooking or by placing the lid on the pan so that a little steam escapes continuously during cooking. This helps keep the appealing color of green vegetables, since you are letting destructive acids escape with the steam. If these acids are left trapped inside the pan, they break down the chlorophyll, which gives green vegetables their color.

The only exception to this rule is spinach, which cooks so fast it can be kept covered during the entire cooking period.

5. Members of the cabbage family, onions and turnips, should be handled in one of these three ways: 1) Cut them into small pieces and cook in small amount of water in a covered pan; 2) If they are to be cooked whole, or in large pieces, use an uncovered pan and a moderate amount of water; 3) Or, if cooking them whole and using a covered pan, leave lid off during the first half of cooking or raise it three or four times to let gases escape.

These procedures keep the vegetables from developing too strong an odor.

6. In baking, leave vegetables in skins to keep them moist. Rubbing potatoes with fat prevents crustiness. Open potato skins after baking if they are to sit for more than a moment before serving. This prevents soginess.

7. Add a little acid - fresh lemon juice or vinegar - to beets and cabbage to retain red color. A little milk in the cooking water will help keep the whiteness in cauliflower.

8. Don't use baking soda with green vegetables. It destroys nutrients and gives vegetables unnatural flavor and texture.

Here are some interesting statements in regard to Fresh Fruits and Vegetables.

Orange Is Chemical Storehouse
Scientists have found 160 different chemicals in the orange and they believe there are at least 10 more yet to be found.

Mobile Harvesters
In many areas, huge machines, capable of cleaning and packing 500 cartons of produce an hour, now follow harvesters along the rows in the fields.

Child Nutrition Lacking

According to nutrition surveys, less than half of the children in the U. S. eat all the milk and fresh fruits and vegetables they should.

Bananas Rate High
The U. S. imports about 50,000,000 bunches, or 3.2 billion pounds of bananas a year.

Cooling Fresh Vegetables

Experiments using dry ice with water ice to improve refrigeration of fresh fruits and vegetables have been carried out by the University of California Agricultural Extension Service.

Dixie Strawberries

Strawberries were first grown commercially in the Southern states shortly after the Civil War, but the greatest development has come within the last few years in California, where 65% of the national crop is now produced.

Strawberries are grown in commercial quantities in 39 states.

Low Water Cookery

The modern trend in preparing most vegetables is the use of as little water as possible and rapid cooking.

Fresh Produce Leads

Use of fruits and vegetables in 1955 was divided as follows: fresh, 62%; processed in all forms, 38.9%.

Prunes Are Type of Plum

Need Raw Fruits and Vegetables

Nutritionists generally agree that for most persons it is beneficial to eat some fruits and vegetables raw, as in salads, and from the fruit bowl, because in that way all the nutritional value is obtained.

Nearly 1/2 Million Produce Counters

More than 400,000 retail stores in the U. S., not including eating places, are selling fresh fruits and vegetables today.

Who's Who in Apples

There are around 7,000 named varieties of apples but only 17 are listed by U. S. Department of Agriculture as usually having yields of more than 2,000,000 bushels a year. These are the Gravenstein, Grimes Golden, Jonathan, Wealthy, Baldwin, Ben Davis, Cortland, Delicious, Golden Delicious, McIntosh, Newton Pippin, Northern Spy, Rhode Island Greening, Rome Beauty, Stayman, Winesap and York.

Asparagus was a popular appetizer at ancient Roman dinners. As early as 200 B. C. Cato gave detailed gardening instructions that would be considered good today, except that he recommended the use of seed from wild plants.

Brussels Sprouts from California

Commercial production of Brussels Sprouts is largely centered in California from San Francisco south, for 100 miles along the coast. The only other large growing areas are in the Long Island and Catskill sections of New York. Sprouts are marketed fresh from late August through March.

Fresh Produce Leads
All dealers, commission merchants, and brokers of fresh fruits and vegetables in wholesale quantities must be licensed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and abide by a strictly enforced marketing code.

He Knows His Onions

At one point during the Civil War, General Grant refused to move his troops without onions. The War Department sent him three trainloads the following day.

Counting Cranberries

To estimate the yield per acre of cranberries, Cape Cod growers toss a hoop into a bog, count the berries within the hoop and multiply the berries by the number of hoops to the acre.

Pre-Packaged Produce Increasing
Fresh fruits and vegetables in handy, consumer-sized packages are becoming increasingly popular. Pre-packaged items now represent about 20% of the total produce poundage sold in this country.

Cherries Are Ancient Fruit

Cherry pits of several species have been found in the Stone Age deposits of Swiss lake-dwellings, and in the mounds and cliff-caves of prehistoric inhabitants of America.

These facts, to me, are all very interesting - I've learned a great deal about Fruits and Vegetables I didn't know before - Have you? Bye Now.

MY PRIVATE MOVIE

There was a day last summer that I kept tucked away in the back of my mind, like a miniature mental movie all my own.
Sometimes, when other days aren't quite as bright as this one was, I take it out and reel off a private showing.

It was a Sunday. We'd been to church, Leo and the three children and I. Then we went home and packed up a big picnic bunch and took it down to the creek. It was one of those perfect summer days poets have written about. Everything tasted better than it could possibly have been. When we'd finished eating, the kids called their boats while Leo and I stretched out on the grass and looked up in the blue silk sky, all dotted with fleecy white clouds.

We didn't say anything, but I know that we were both thanking God for all the blessings he'd bestowed on us. I know that we were feeling, just then, particularly at peace with ourselves, and with the universe. I was thinking, too, of our kids as they'd come out of Sunday School that morning, with their bright faces glowing, and I gave a silent vote of gratitude to my parents for having raised me in the Church. Now I was able, in turn, to pass on this priceless heritage to my own children.

In this high summer, jet-propelled age we're living in, we need so much to guide our children in the right way. Without the aid of the Church I, for one, would be at a total loss and that afternoon I realized it, with particular emphasis.

I suppose, when you come right down to it, we really didn't do so much that Sunday. But it was a day that left me with a feeling of family unity, of togetherness.... I shall never forget.

Sometimes, when things are "flat slow and dreary," a parent needs to take time out to remember just how precious a family is. Whenever I find myself in danger of forgetting—I just dust off my movie and live that Sunday all over again, to myself.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest force on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values.
Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1)
For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4)
For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and economic support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Beach Beauty VI

MISS MERILYN MCCARTHY

Sometimes you ponder endlessly searching for the creative spark which will launch the chain of thoughts needed to complete your work and just when all seems lost, you remember a slogan—"We need your help—You may need ours!"

As most of you know, this month is that time of year when the Rescue Squad of Virginia Beach-Princess Anne asks for your aid to allow it to continue its benevolent operation in this community. This newspaper gave adequate coverage concerning this group last week, but enough cannot always be said.

The men who compose the Squad don't receive all the credit they richly deserve; it's time they did. If you've ever had to call for their emergency assistance, then the words on their behalf have real meaning to you. When you think about a contribution, remember the heart victims, the drownings, the attempted suicides, the devastating wrecks that need their aid—remember them well!

Miss Merilyn McCarthy, who hails from Cincinnati, Ohio, is the sixth beach beauty to grace our column this summer. Merilyn and her family are spending their vacation at Stanley Smith's Albemarle Hall Hotel here at the beach and taking advantage of every sunny day. This pert Miss plans to enroll at the university of Cincinnati and study Medical Technology. One of her pet hobbies is playing the role of the "analyst" with every person she meets (this could be very dangerous). Topping it all off, she's 18 years old and has the added attraction of hazel-blue eyes.

The big-name of Sammy Kaye and his band opens at the Cavalier and Cabana Club tomorrow night. Sammy is an old favorite with those who seek pleasant music for dreamy dancing. Kaye and his band have often been labeled the band with the sweetest music in the land.

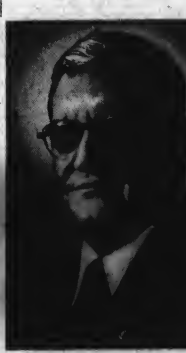

At the Casino Ballroom, the Sandmen continue their season's stand for likeable Harry Duerr. This combo provides the bouy mood which blends well with the informal surroundings.

Milton Abbott, the host tennis pro of the Cavalier, is all smiles after the completion of the Cavalier Invitational Tournament this past Sunday. The singles were won by Dave Snyder who is ranked 22nd in the nation. He defeated favored Hal Burrows who was formerly ranked 13th.

Burrows and Joe Davis of Tennessee.

To Visit Here

William R. Maul

Beach Rotary Club to Welcome District Head

The Rotary Club of Virginia Beach tomorrow will be host to William R. Maul, Governor of District 760 of Rotary International, who is making his annual official visit to each of the forty-two Rotary Clubs in eastern Virginia. He will address the local club and confer with President W. G. Temple, Secretary J. P. White and committee chairmen on Rotary administration and service activities.

Mr. Maul is Resident Manager of McLean Contracting Company, who build bridges, piers and similar heavy construction projects. He is active in civic affairs in the Norfolk area, a director and member of the executive committee of both the Tidewater Virginia Development Council and the Community Chest, a director of the Norfolk Chamber of Commerce, and vice president of the Builders and Contractors Exchange and the Hampton Roads Post of the Society of American Military Engineers. He is a member and Past President of the Norfolk Rotary Club and was elected as a District Governor of Rotary International for the 1957-58 fiscal year at Rotary's 48th Annual Convention in Lucerne, Switzerland, last May. He is one of 249 District Governors supervising the activities of more than 9,500 Rotary Clubs which have a membership of 446,000 business and professional executives in 102 countries throughout the free world.

Local Police Attend School

Chief Reeves Johnson has announced that he has sent 3 men to Williamsburg, this week to attend the second annual Va. State Arson Investigation School, which is being conducted in Williamsburg August 5th thru August 9th. Agencies cooperating in conducting this school are: the National Board of Fire Underwriters, National Automobile Theft Bureau, Va. State Fireman's Association, Va. State Sheriffs & City Sergeants Association, Va. Association of Chiefs of Police, Va. Fire Chiefs Association, Department of State Police, and Williamsburg Fire Department.

Those attending are Sergeant C. R. Bailey, officers J. J. Waterfield and William Moscoffian.

Indian Costume Parade Highlights Play Week

The eighth week of the Summer Recreation Program, was highlighted by an Indian costume parade and another outstanding exhibition of crafts which consisted of Indian costumes, potholders, clay modeling, puppets, copper craft, basket craft, bead craft, woodburning, and art. The children had a grand time after the parade and exhibition by participating in bubble gum blowing contests, balloon blowing contests, shoe-scrabble races, and plenty of soft drinks and popcorn.

Winners of prizes for the prettiest and most natural Indian costumes were: Small age group, 1st place Billie Walker, 2nd Lora Melton, 3rd Jimmy Hitts. Older age group: 1st Tommy Mathias, 2nd Jackie White, 3rd Kenneth Hill. Potholders: 1st Bobby Fryer, 2nd JoAnn Forray, 3rd Bobby Carol, 9 and up 1st Ann Fryer, 2nd Joan Boice, 3rd Eddie Smith. Puppets: 6 to 9 age group Winner Mary Bailey, 10 and up Regina Melton. Clay Modeling 1st Robert Bruce, 2nd Lora Melton, 3rd Harold Greer. Copper Craft 1st Sidney Duvall, 2nd Eddie Smith. Basket Craft, 1st Janice Connor, 2nd Phyllis Rainey, 3rd Tommy Mathias. Woodburning, 1st Bobby Bruce, 2nd JoAnn Bruce.

Balloon Blowing contest, 1st place winners by age groups, Ronnie Melton, Valerie Hearn, Lynn Tarkenton. Shoe Scramble 1st place winners by age groups, Moe Walcott, Robert Brady, Bubble Gum Blowing Contest, Jeannie Pinkham, DeJannet Hill, Billy Pinkham.

The ninth week of the program will be devoted to practice for the field day events which will be held on Friday, August 16. Field Day will consist of the following events: dashes, distant races, jumping, base running, ball throwing, basketball throwing, bag races, potato races, and many other events. Let's get ready for the field day events by practicing during the coming week.

It was a pleasure to have so many parents attend our exhibition last week and your participation in the bubble gum blowing contest was greatly appreciated.

Adm. Rickets Is Ship's Guest

NORFOLK — Rear Adm. C. V. Rickets, commandant of Destroyer Flotilla Four, was the recent guest for a cruise aboard Sea Scout Ship, USS Charles F. Cecil.

Following a tour of the Norfolk harbor aboard the Explorer ship, Admiral Rickets examined the Explorer Unit 36.

Participating in the cruise were R. G. Phelps, Pugsy White, Tommy Martinette, Harold Bock, Pat Godlewski, Tommy Bonds, Donald Cherry and Gene Presson, Thad Baumeister and obby Hanbury, of Unit 63, of Virginia Beach. Skipper of Unit 63 and also on the cruise, is Jack Bran.

W. E. Grumiaux is skipper of the USS Charles F. Cecil.

North Beach Route Termed 'Speedway'

A spokesman for the North Virginia Beach Improvement League has again called to the attention of the State Highway Department the need for some method of curbing the speed of automobiles on Route 60 between the Virginia Beach city limits and Fort Story.

The "speedway" condition of the highway in North Virginia Beach was pointed out in a letter from C. A. Mowry, president of the league, to Paul B. Coldiron, resident engineer of the State Highway Department. Mowry made several suggestions including the installation of traffic lights in the area.

He also pointed out the difficulty that automobiles have entering Route 60 (Atlantic Ave.) from cross streets.

There were "at least five bad accidents on this highway" during July. Included was one in which eight-year-old Rex Ehlright of Arlington died after being struck by an automobile while riding his bicycle. There were also two accidents on July 22, he said, in which an electric light pole was severed, interrupting power service.

"The North Virginia Beach Improvement League has been calling this situation to the attention of the Virginia Highway Dept. for several years," he said.

"The situation has gotten worse—not better—and we believe that at least three traffic lights are badly needed between 48th street and 53rd street to help control speeding, to protect life and limb of pedestrians and to give motorists trying to enter the highway from side streets a stoppage of traffic," he added.

Mowry further suggested that the lights could be cut off from Oct. 1 to May 31. This is the resort's off-season and the traffic problem is not as severe.

Busy Hands Prepare for Exhibit

Busy hands in this picture are those of youngsters in the summer recreation program here preparing articles for a forthcoming exhibit.

Purchase Agreement Signed for Surf Club Property; Price Reported Is $270,000

Three Virginia Beach men have signed a contract to purchase the Surf Club property in North Virginia Beach, it has been learned from a reliable source.

V. B. Hodgson, John B. Smith and Andrea Hodgson, all of Virginia Beach, have entered into a contract to purchase the property from Surf Properties, Incorporated, at a figure reported to be $270,000. The contract calls for delivery of the property around the middle of September.

The property involved in the transaction, one of the largest in Virginia Beach's history, includes the land fronting on the ocean from 56th to 58th street. The property fronts approximately 350 feet on Atlantic boulevard (Route 60).

The Surf Club, itself, was erected in 1936 and the original stockholders were Pretlow, Dard, Harry Lindsey, C. D. Barnard, Vivian Hodgson and H. Garrett Smith.

From 1936 until 1941 the club was in continuous operation through the summer months, but was closed during the 1942 season because of the World War Two. The club reopened in 1945 under the management of Jack Valentine who also operated the club in 1944 and 1945.

It was operated variously from 1946 until today by its owners with the exception of the past two seasons when it was leased for the season.

The purchasers are active in business here. Smith is co-owner of the Golf Ranch Motel and the Hodgsons are officers in the Hodgson Construction Corporation, a firm that has engaged in home building in this area for several years.

An announcement as to future plans for the property is expected sometime after September 1, according to one of the members of the group that signed the purchase contract agreement.

East vs. West in Annual All-Star Game Saturday

High school football stars from all sections of Virginia will display their talents in the East versus the West in the second annual All-Star classic Saturday night in Norfolk's Foreman Field.

The two squads, selected by sportswriters and sportscasters from throughout the State of Virginia, have been in Virginia Beach for about ten days with a schedule to practice two sessions each day.

At one point in pre-game estimate, the Eastern team was considered a slight favorite to whip the Western rivals. However, illness has slowed a couple of the East's stars and the contest looms as a close one. Last year two similar teams fought to a scoreless tie before approximately 7000 fans.

Two standout performers for the East are hospitalized. They are Norwile's Johnny Watkins and Warwick's Lowell Vaughn, both backfield starters. Watkins cut the tips off two fingers last week in a lumber mill accident and Vaughn has been confined with a case of influenza.

East Coach Tommy Thompson said "we are in a quandary for backs. I believe Vaughn may play but Watkins is very doubtful." Don Gromer, Maury star, may take over Vaughn's place in the lineup.

Meanwhile West Coach Ned MacDonald had high praise for his group of stars. He said "best group of high school players I've seen for speed and size."

Game time is 8 p.m. Saturday night. Tickets will be available at the stadium and are on sale at Beau's in Virginia Beach, Maury's and the Sportsman's Shop in Norfolk.

The contest is sponsored annually by the Virginia All-Star Foundation, a non-profit group of civic clubs and organizations in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. Proceeds from the game go for charity work of the group. B. M. Stanton serves as general chairman of the event.

Local Man in Air Force Team Competition

A former Virginia Beach man has been honored by his selection to take part in the bombing and navigation competition for the Air Force to be held October 30 at the Carswell Air Force Base in Fort Worth, Texas.

He is Captain Howard S. Myers, Jr., the son of Postmaster and Mrs. Myers of Virginia Beach. Captain Myers is the commander of one of the three crews of B-52 planes to take part in the exercise.

Another Beauty Queen Turns From Cheesecake to Cheese

What happens to beauty queens? One answer is that provocative question was supplied by Armour and Company, of Chicago, which has recently signed up Lynn Holden, of Milwaukee, 1957 "Miss Wisconsin" and winner of the most talented musician award at the Miss America Beauty Pageant in Atlantic City last September.

Miss Holden will make personal appearances in local supermarkets in Norfolk and Virginia Beach the week of August 12, 1957. She will visit the Rotary Club next Thursday.

PLANTERS, N.B.C. MAY BECOME ONE

The merger of the National Bank of Commerce of Norfolk and the Merchants and Planters Bank of Norfolk is expected momentarily, according to a persistent rumor in area banking circles.

While no official announcement has been made concerning the impending merger of the two financial institutions, sources close to the Norfolk banking picture feel confident that a merger will be announced shortly.

An official of the National Bank of Commerce declined comment on the merger, but indicated that it was being seriously considered.

According to the rumor, the merger of the two banks is reportedly to have been approved by the bank's respective boards of directors, but that final approval must be obtained from the stockholders of the two institutions.

Should the merger materialize, as is expected, the new single bank would move up in the ranks of banks in amount of deposits. As of December 31, 1956, the National Bank of Commerce showed deposits of approximately $170,000,000 and the Merchants and Planters Bank deposits were approximately $20,000,000.

If the rumor is confirmed the merger of the two banks may be announced this week, it is understood.

Seaview Beach Man Fined on Gaming Charge

PRINCESS ANNE — The operator of a concession at Seaview Beach, Negro amusement park on the Shore drive, was fined $100 and costs Monday in County Court after pleading guilty to a violation of the State's gambling statutes.

Joseph Gramberry, whose address was listed at the 900 block of Marietta Ave., Norfolk, also received a two-month jail sentence, suspended by Judge J. Davis Reed Jr.

The fine and jail sentence are the minimum penalties for violation of Section 18-284 of the State Code. This section prohibits the keeping or exhibiting, "for the purpose of gambling," of any gaming table or bank "of any name description whatever."

Gramberry was represented by Attorney Richard G. Brydges, who told Judge Reed the same operated by his client would be altered to conform with the State law.

EDITORIAL SPEAKING

A Solution Should Be Found

A letter made public this week from a spokesman for the North Virginia Beach Improvement League again pinpoints the flaw in our flow of traffic here as it relates to Route 60 from the city limits at 49th street to the military reservation at Fort Story.

This stretch of Route 60 in North Virginia Beach has consistently presented a traffic problem. Particularly is this true during the summer months when the area is crowded with out-of-state automobiles and there is a heavy flow of traffic.

The letter stresses the hazard of speeding motorists in the area of North Virginia Beach and the need for traffic lights that would tend to slow the speed of cars. This is a good point but there are other traffic hazards that need attention as well. A traffic fatality this summer pointed up the need of eliminating the blind corners on the streets entering the highway in North Virginia Beach.

A new effort should be made by officials to reduce the hazards of this stretch of Route 60. As it is an open invitation to those motorists who like speed, or who seem to be in a hurry. Some remedial steps should be taken before next summer rolls around.

Recreation Programs Nearing Close

The summer recreation programs in Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County are entering the home stretch and within a few weeks will close a most successful season. The two programs have been extremely successful this year and much of this is due to the organization and leadership that has been put into these programs.

For the boys baseball has been the main diversion during the summer months. Little League baseball has flourished both in the city and the county and the Babe Ruth league, American Legion and the county recreation program leagues have had highly successful season with a record number of players participating.

During the past few years we have witnessed great progress in our recreational facilities and its program. The work in this direction should pay handsome dividends and the youngsters today who are benefiting from this program will be our citizens in the future.

Our congratulations to city and county officials and to those responsible for the fine recreation programs in our area that are giving so much to our youngsters.

The All-Star Football Game

The second annual Virginia All-Star High School football game is scheduled to be played Saturday night under the lights at Norfolk's Foreman Field. This dream game pits the pick of the State's high school football talent against each other. One team represents the western part of Virginia and the opposing squad represents the eastern section of the State.

The annual grid classic is sponsored by the Virginia All-Star Foundation, a non-profit group of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County civic organizations. The entire promotion is handled by residents of this community and the county. The contest is a sports "natural" and the sponsoring group deserves a lot of credit for its promotion.

Last year was the first such contest and it attracted a fair crowd. This year the game looks as even better than the first one and a much larger crowd of grid fans should be present. Rival coaches of the two squads have labeled the talent this year as just about the best they have ever seen in high school plays.

Much work goes into this promotion and the members of the Virginia All-Star Foundation deserve much praise for their work in this undertaking, although none are looking for praise or credit or glory. This group is only interested in presenting the best high school football talent in the State in an annual game to promote the charity works of this organization.

The annual All-Star game Saturday night should receive the support of all good sports. It should particularly be supported by residents of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County since, after all it is staged by individuals from our area.

Sudan Grass Proves Boon In Drought Years

Blacksburg, Va., — Sudan grass was a life-saver for many Culpeper County farmers during the drought years. County Agent Roy F. Helms observes, and James Weaver, Jr., whose 267-acre grade A dairy farm is near the town of Culpeper, "has developed a system of summer and winter grazing that few have equalled."

He has used a combination of Sudan grass and rye, fertilizer and irrigation, this way: He divided a 21-acre field close to the barn into three 7-acre plots. On May 10 the first plot was drilled seeded with 40 pounds of Sweet and Piper Sudan, and irrigated. The next 7-acre plot was seeded 10 days later and the last plot, in June.

The field was covered with manure from his dairy barn during the winter and 1,000 pounds of 0-14-14 was applied when Sudan was seeded, along with 50 pounds of nitrogen. One month after seeding the first plot, Mr. Weaver turned in 40 Holstein cows and let them graze for 10 days. He then turned them into the next plot. After the cows had grazed each plot, an additional 50 pounds of nitrogen were applied.

When each plot had been grazed down twice, Mr. Weaver plowed and seeded to Auburn rye. The first plot was seeded August 10 and the others at 10-day intervals. He applied 50 pounds of nitrogen before seeding the rye.

Are you as wise today
as you were in '47?

Every Savings Bond you paid $75 for 10 years ago

Is worth $100 today... will be worth $134.68 in 10 years more.

Part of every American's savings belongs in U. S. Savings Bonds

If you hold U. S. Series E Savings Bonds that mature this month you can give yourself a pat on the back for the wise buy you made. For every three dollars you invested in 1947, you have four dollars now. (And, had you spent that money 10 years ago, chances are whatever you bought would have been long since worn out.)

Today you can be even smarter. All you do is just hold onto those Bonds. Keep them for another ten years and you'll get $1.80 for every dollar you put into them. For example, a Bond you bought for $37.50 will pay you back $67.34! And the best part of it is you don't have to do anything but keep your Bonds. No papers to sign. Not even a visit to the bank is necessary.

Remember this, too! Savings Bonds are one of the safest investments you can make. Your principal is guaranteed safe up to any amount—and your rate of interest is guaranteed sure—by the United States Government.

So keep the Savings Bonds you have now and add to them either through Payroll Savings or by buying Bonds where you regularly bank.

Yanks	7	7	2 1/2

The Yanks win over the Dodgers Friday night has given last year's champion Cokes a chance to repeat. If the Dodgers lose their two remaining games, one with the Cokes and one with the Spots, and the Cokes win the playoff of the Thursday game, they will be tied and a playoff for the championship will be necessary.

July 29—Yanks vs. Cokes
The third-place Yanks defeated the second-place Cokes 25 to 3 on 16 hits, 4 base-on-balls and 9 Cokes errors. The Cokes team was crippled by the absence of first-string pitcher Mel Fronabarger and first-baseman Lucas. Kenzie Miller allowed the Cokes only 2 hits, and struck out 9. Yanks Butch Clark and Bobby Bosher each had 3 hits.

July 30—Spots vs. Dodgers
The league-leading Dodgers beat the Spots 8 to 4 when David Fuller pitched a 4-hitter in his first starting assignment. The Spots rallied to score two runs in the top of the seventh but Fuller struck out Horton to retire the side. David Jones, Dodger third baseman, fanned his batting average with 3 singles in 4 times at bat.

August 1—Cokes vs. Spots
The Spots spotted the Cokes 10 runs and then bounced back to score 10 runs and stalemated the game at 12 to 12. Billy McClellan relieved Ray Whitehurst with none out in the third inning with two men on base and allowed only 1 run in 4 innings. Al Borum hit 2 singles and a double in 3 at bats.

Princess Anne Little League

The regularly scheduled games were suspended the week of July 26th while the All-Stars were participating in competition which took them to the District finals.

On July 26th Princess Anne Little League All-Stars met the Virginia Beach American Little League at Carey Field. Princess Anne emerged victorious with an 8 to 1 score.

Tommy Garceau went all the way for the win, giving up 3 hits, striking out 7 and walking 2, and hit one better. He was helped by teammate Larry Bell, who hit 2 doubles for 2 out of 3 times at bat. Kenny Ames, & James Tarter had singles for 1 hit out of 3 tries; Bailey Spence had 1 for 2 and Jack Mims hit a double for three trips to the plate.

Ted Hanson started for Virginia Beach. He went 1 1/2 innings, gave up 3 hits, struck out 5 and walked 2. The three hits for the losers were gotten by Billy Williams, Bill Brathwaite and Daniels.

In the top of the first inning Virginia Beach scored 1 run on 2 errors and 2 long fly balls. Princess Anne came back in the second and on 3 hits, & 3 errors scored 5 runs. Virginia Beach was unable to score again during the game. Princess Anne scored once in the bottom of the third and twice in the bottom of the fifth.

On July 31st Princess Anne All-Stars with a large following of parents and friends traveled to Dale Field in Portsmouth where Princess Anne played Port Norfolk. This game was well worth the trip to the interested spectators for it proved to be a real thriller. Final score: Princess Anne 3, Port Norfolk 1.

In the top of the first inning Port Norfolk scored 1 run on 3 hits. Don Powell, a left handed pitcher, struck out the first three Princess Anne men to face him in the bottom of the first.

With some fine pitching by Powell and excellent fielding behind Bobby DeMille for Princess Anne both teams remained scoreless until the bottom of the sixth. With that one run lead coming over bigger, Princess Anne came to bat in the bottom of the sixth for a do or die effort. With two out Kenny Ames stepped into the right pitch and sent it over the fence thereby tying the score. The teams could break the deadlock in the seventh. In the bottom of the eighth, with one out, Tommy Garceau found the pitch he had looked for all afternoon and hit a homerun for Princess Anne which won the game for them.

Bobby DeMille went the distance for the victors, giving up 10 hits, 9 strikeouts and 2 walks. DeMille backed by some heads up ball playing managed to strand 13 Port Norfolk men.

Don Powell for Port Norfolk pitched a terrific game and the only two hits he gave up were two big home runs. He struck out 16 and walked 2. During regular season play he had a record of 11 wins and no losses.

The game was one that neither team nor their staunch supporters will soon forget.

On August 2, Princess Anne traveled to Hampton to play the District Championship. Hampton-Wythe proved to be Princess Anne's Waterloo. Last year Hampton defeated them at the same point in competition and again this year Hampton defeated Princess Anne by a score of 5 to 0. Some fine pitching by Lane Kelly and 4 hits gave Hampton the victory. Kelly gave up 1 hit, struck out 11 and walked none. He got 1 hit for 2 tries; Davey O'Beirne had 2 for 3 and Joey Scavichio had 1 for 3.

Wade Johnson went 3 plus innings gave up 2 hits, struck out 4 and walked 1. He was relieved by Tommy Garceau who gave up 2 hits, 1 strikeout and 2 walks. Princess Anne was charged with 5 errors.

For three innings Kelly and Johnson had a pitcher's battle going. In the fourth inning Johnson gave up two base hits and was relieved by Garceau. During the inning on a total of 3 hits, 1 walk and 3 errors Hampton-Wythe scored 4 runs. Hampton scored 1 run in the bottom of the fifth.

The only hit for Princess Anne was gotten by Steve Gallagher.

Tourist Travel in Virginia Up 10%

RICHMOND—Tourist travel in Virginia during the State's 350th anniversary year is running more than 10 per cent ahead of last year, according to a mid-season survey conducted by the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce of over 500 sources.

Estimates from managers of Virginia resorts, historic shrines and local chambers of commerce showed the number of visitors at individual locations as far as ranging from 2 to 30 per cent higher than 1956's all-time record travel figures.

The majority of travel trade representatives, however, put their gains at something between 10 and 15 per cent better than last year. The State Chamber's annual survey of tourist trends last year showed the 1956 season topped 1955 by about 12 per cent.

Primary reasons cited for the increase were the Jamestown Festival, better promotion and advertising and a generally recognized national trend toward more travel.

The Jamestown Festival, itself—Virginia's major 1957 attraction—has been visited by more than half a million persons already, and several other big travel draws, including visits by President Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth, are yet to come.

At the end of July, 642,463 persons had visited the Festival Park at Jamestown, according to Colonel H. K. Roberts, administrative director of the Jamestown-Williamsburg-Yorktown National Celebration Commission.

Weekly attendance figures at the Festival area in late July showed more than 52,000 guests each week—an average of better than 7,500 visitors daily. The festival opened in April and will continue through November.

Traffic eastbound on U.S. Route 90 from Richmond to Williamsburg is up 60 per cent, Roberts said and on several days, the park area was visited by more than 50 school buses bearing youthful visitors.

These figures have, of course, meant business for other Virginians.

The manager of a new motel, with more than 200 rooms in Williamsburg, said he could have filled another 100 rooms each night since Easter.

From other facilities, too, the Festival received credit for increasing travel and trade. The others included reports from representatives of several small eastern counties, not generally considered tourist attractions.

But all the questionnaire comments did not contain praise.

A spokesman for one of the Shenandoah Valley caverns attributed his 10 per cent gain in business this year to better promotion and declared the Festival "has not been helpful—in fact it has distracted." Yet, this same spokesman reported last year as his best in history. A Roanoke hotelman observed, too, that his trade this summer "has been adversely affected by the Jamestown pull of travel" to the east.

In Richmond, where the number of out-of-town convention delegates is more than 6,000 ahead of the same time a year ago, disappointment has been expressed by local chamber of commerce officials because an expected "overflow crowds needing hotel and motel facilities" have not materialized. Early promotion of the Festival, which may have helped win some conventions to Richmond, was credited with helping the city this year.

The Festival won some credit and also some blame for an estimated 4.5 per cent increase in the number of visitors to The Mariners Museum at Warwick. Harold S. Soufflen, assistant director of the museum, credited the gain to improvements in the museum; the Festival, especially the International Naval Review, which brought 8,000 foreign sailors to the museum, and a general increase in travel.

But, he added, attendance during April and May, fell below 1956 figures, because bus tours, carrying school groups, often passed by the museum in order to have more time available to inspect the Jamestown Festival Park.

More than 2,000,000 visitors have ridden the Blue Ridge Parkway this year, despite a prolonged rainy spell during May and June, according to Howard B. Stricklin, acting superintendent.

Stricklin said the number of Parkway visitors this year is 2.8 per cent higher than last year, an all-time record season.

The Skyline Drive, which runs north from the Parkway along the Blue Ridge mountains, thus far this year has experienced a 5.87 per cent increase over 1956, according to William L. Featherstone, assistant chief park ranger.

The increase, Featherstone said, may be attributed to "an appreciable increase in travel" during January and February.

"In addition," he continued, "Shenandoah National Park is being included by an appreciable number of visitors to and from the Jamestown Festival."

Mount Vernon, George Washington's home, which annually draws visitors by the millions, at the end of June was running 20,000 persons ahead of the count made at the same time last year.

Walter C. Densmore, administrative assistant at Mount Vernon, attributed the increase to a "general trend, with a boost from the special Jamestown festivities."

From several parts of the state came reports by hotel men, who reported better times this year, but some complained that motor courts and higher costs are cutting into their businesses. What the hotel men reported—and some ran as high as 30 per cent—are due primarily to increased advertising.

One hotel operator from Southwest Virginia suggested the state should increase its appropriation for advertising to help bring more visitors to Virginia. Another suggested promotion of a winter travel season.

Another reason, cited by several persons, for increased numbers of Virginia tourists is interest in battlefields of the War Between the States.

"Slow Down, Live and Let Live," says our Governor's Highway Safety Committee. Speed is a heavy contributor to traffic tragedies and even when it isn't the direct cause, it is often a secondary one. The higher the speed, the more severe the crash - if it comes. Worry about getting there period - rather than getting there early.

When driving at night, our Governor's Highway Safety Committee asks us to remember that half of fatal traffic crashes occur in darkness although only about one-third of our total traffic volume moves then. Please slow down at sundown and double your caution.

Last state to enter the Union was Arizona in 1912.

"It is better to be a patient pedestrian than a pedestrian patient," says an English traffic slogan. Our Governor's Highway Safety Committee says there really aren't so many pedestrian patients because the pedestrian generally dies when hit by a car. Don't walk yourself to death.

Dutch railways will be fully electrified by 1967.

NEWS FOR AND ABOUT VETERANS

Harry F. Carper Jr., Director of the Virginia Division of War Veterans Claims, a State agency which assists veterans and survivors to obtain their lawful benefits, announces the following information of interest from his office in Roanoke.

There are many World War I veterans who still carry United States Government Life Insurance on a term basis, on which the premium increases substantially each 5 years. It is estimated that about half of these WWI term policies will have to be renewed for another five year term during the next 12 months at the increasing burden of higher cost.

I have just seen a suggestion in one of the veteran publications which may prove helpful to those veterans who have retired from employment, because of disability, especially men in the over 65 age group. Those WWI veterans still carrying term government insurance who are so seriously disabled that they can no longer work should apply for monthly disability benefit payments and for waiver of payment of the premium. Those men who are determined by the VA to meet the unemployment conditions will not again have to pay the premiums and will receive $5.75 monthly for each $1,000 of insurance in force. It should be understood, however, that these disability payments will reduce the total amount of insurance in force. In other words, if a veteran has $10,000 in term insurance in force and is found entitled to $57.50 monthly, each monthly payment will cut down the face amount of the policy by $57.50. The WWI insurance was a better deal than the WWII National Service Life Insurance in respect to the age limitation for premium waiver. There is no age limit in the WWI insurance, whereas the WWII insurance provides that premium waiver and disability benefits may not be granted unless the permanent unemployment commenced prior to the veteran's 60th birthday.

Thomas A. Moore, Norfolk service officer for the Division, at 203 City Hall Avenue, who visits the Community House, 18th and Arctic from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. on the second and fourth Thursdays each month, will be pleased to assist and advise any person concerning veterans' affairs.

COMPENSATION OR PENSION CAN BE SUSPENDED

Veterans and widows of veterans are inclined to receive VA benefits without becoming familiar with the circumstances under which the payments may be stopped. A badly wounded Virginia veteran, for five years after his wife had died, continued to receive an extra allowance on her dependency. He had overlooked his instructions and is now paying back what is for him a huge debt under conditions close to hardship.

Payment of compensation and pension may be affected by any of the following circumstances which should be promptly reported to the Veterans Administration:

1. Death of the veteran or a dependent.
2. Separation of veteran from wife or children, or divorce from wife.
3. Marriage of a child under age of 16.
4. Receipt of active service or retirement pay.
5. Failure to furnish evidence requested by the VA.

6. Fraudulent statements to the VA, whether intentional or not.
7. Hospital treatment or domiciliary care by the VA.

U.S. AIR FORCE ACADEMY APPLICATIONS

Among the recent high school graduates in this area who are planning higher education are those interested in applying to one of our service academies. The Air Force Academy began accepting applications for the class of 1962 on the first of this month, with the application period to run until January 31, 1958. There are a total of 433 spaces open and the young men who are selected will begin training on June 27, 1958. Upon receiving their degrees at the end of the four year course, they will be graduated as second lieutenants in the Regular Air Force.

Appointments to the Academy may be received through several channels. Eighteen will be filled by direct Presidential appointment and 36 will be reserved for promising young men already in service or in reserve. Some of members of the armed forces who are active, retired or died while serving are eligible. Eight vacancies are reserved for sons of men killed in action or died of wounds or disease during the two World Wars or the Korean War. Sons of Medal of Honor winners may be admitted without regard to quota. Most appointments come through Members of Congress, and it is my understanding that most Senators and Members of the House make their appointments by competitive examination. Your Congressman will be glad to see that eligible youngsters receive full information.

Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson, left, in his first official act as Secretary of the Treasury, and a $100 United States note. The note is a green and white bill, featuring a portrait of a man. The text on the note includes 'TREASURY DEPARTMENT', 'UNITED STATES OF AMERICA', and '$100'.

Truck-Trailer Combinations Have Blind Spot

Big truck-trailer combinations have both a blind and a deaf spot, the Tidewater Automobile Association reveals today. AAA traffic safety consultant George H. Elliott urged drivers of passenger cars to give an extra look on their horns as they overtake the huge freighters on the highway. "With thousands of area motorists taking to the highways for long vacation trips, this safety tip may be vitally important," he said.

The blind spot is caused by the high placement of many rear-view mirrors, the safety official said. "When the mirror is seven or eight feet above the roadway—about three feet higher than the top of a modern passenger car—and focused far back, the truck driver cannot see an automobile close beside his truck," Elliott explained.

"The deaf spot on the large trucks is directly to the rear," the safety official stated. "It is created by the partial vacuum which exists for a length of fifty or sixty feet behind a moving truck. An automobile horn blown within that area is not likely to be heard by the truck driver above other noises."

Elliott claimed that both situations can be overcome by the motorist, and he can pass a truck safely if he develops the habit of tooting his horn just as he comes abreast of the rear of the truck. Four steps suggested for safely overtaking highway freighters were:

1. Stay well behind the truck before attempting a passing maneuver—about one car length for each ten miles per hour of your speed.
2. Signal for a left turn, check your rear-view mirror and sound horn or flash headlights.
3. When coming alongside the rear of the truck, sound horn or flash lights again.
4. When you are well ahead of the truck, signal for a right turn and pull back into the right lane.

Have you added a new major electrical appliance to your home recently? If so, now is the time to check to see whether the wiring in your home is adequate, says the Institute for Safer Living. Increased use of electrical appliances may make your electrical system out-of-date. If it does blow frequently, that is a sure indication you need the advice of your utility company.

LEGAL NOTICES

"TAKEN NOTICE that the following ordinance will be proposed for passage at the meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia, on Monday, August 19, 1957, in the meeting room of said Board at Princess Anne, Virginia:

AN ORDINANCE REGULATING THE PARKING OF VEHICLES AND PROVIDING THE PENALTY FOR VIOLATIONS.

BE IT ORDAINED by the Board of Supervisors of Princess Anne County, Virginia:

1. The words "Park" or "Parking" as used in this ordinance shall mean to allow or allowing a vehicle, whether attended or unattended, to remain stationary in any one place for a period of time longer than is necessary to take on or discharge passengers from such vehicle.
2. The Chief of Police of the County is hereby authorized to establish "No Parking" zones or areas in which the parking of vehicles shall be prohibited. Such "No Parking" zones or areas shall be designated by clearly marked signs or by painted words on the roadway or curb.
3. No person shall park a vehicle in a "No Parking" zone or area.
4. No person shall park a vehicle upon a street, road, highway or alley in front of a private or public driveway, or within fifteen feet in either direction of a fire hydrant or the entrance to a fire station, or within fifteen feet of the intersection of streets, roads or highways, or within the limits of any pedestrian crosswalk.
5. No person shall park a vehicle in such manner as to block or obstruct the orderly and lawful passage of other traffic.
6. It shall be the duty of the police officers of the County to enforce the provisions of this ordinance by reporting to the Clerk of the County Court every violation thereof, giving the make and model of the vehicle, state license number, county or city license number, if any, the hour, day and place for any vehicle found to be parked in violation of this ordinance.

7. Each police officer shall attach to such vehicle a notice that such vehicle has been parked in violation of this ordinance and instruct the owner to report to the Clerk's Office of the County Court in regard to such violation. Each such owner may within forty-eight hours of the time when such notice was attached to such vehicle, pay to such Clerk's Office a penalty for and in full satisfaction of such violation the sum of two dollars for each hour, or fraction thereof, during which such vehicle was parked in violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance. Such person may, if he so elect, appear in court for trial at the time set forth in such notice. The failure of such owner to make such payment to the Clerk's Office within the said forty-eight hours or to appear in court at the time set forth in such notice shall render such owner liable for having a warrant of arrest issued against him and for the payment of court costs.

8. This ordinance shall become effective thirty days after its enactment.

Four to Face County Jury

PRINCESS ANNE — Four young Norfolk men will go before the next grand jury here, charged with the armed robbery of a county service station.

The four were ordered held by Judge J. Davis Reed, Jr., after a preliminary hearing in the County Court here Monday afternoon.

The men are Neal Bowman Melton, 22, of the 4900 block of W. View St.; James T. Setzer, 23, of the 6200 block of Wellington St.; Raymond Wilson Hardy, 18, of the 800 block of Volcott Ave. and Robert Lee Vernon, 18, of the 4800 block of Texas Ave. They are charged with the July 28 armed robbery of George Best, an attendant at the Spur Service Station on Little Creek Road.

Best stated that three men, two of them armed, robbed him of more than $80 in the early morning holdup.

These four men were apprehended in the vicinity shortly after the robbery.

Cooke School Registration Set

W. T. Cooke School, registration for 1st grade pupils and pupils transferring from other schools, has been set for August 13th & 14th from 9:00 a.m. to noon. To be eligible for entrance a child must reach his 6th birthday on or before October 1, 1957 and present a birth certificate for verification of age.

Pupils transferring from other schools should present a transfer or a report card.

During the first 6 months of 1956 more than 21 million people visited U. S. National Parks.

Lowest point in the U. S. is in California's Death Valley, 278 feet below sea level.

Gen. and Mrs. Edwards Will Be Honor Guests At Beach Party

NORFOLK, VA., July 27—Major General and Mrs. Farmer W. Edwards will be the guests of honor at a beach party given by the Third Antiaircraft Artillery Group officers at the Port Story club on July 31st at 5 p.m.

General Edwards is the 2nd Region Army Air Defense Commander (mid-Atlantic states) with headquarters at Fort Meade, Md. He and his staff are currently on a three-day (July 30 - August 1) inspection tour of Tidewater's 3rd AAA Group Nike and gun units.

Approximately 200 military and civilian guests are expected to attend the barbecue according to Colonel and Mrs. Donald W. Shive, Group Commander and his wife, who are hosting the affair.

Beach Group Leaves Sunday For FOP Meet

Three Virginia Beach men will leave Sunday for Phoenix, Arizona, to attend the national convention of the Fraternal Order of Police, according to E. A. "Sonny" Culverhouse, who represents the Virginia FOP Lodge.

Culverhouse is one of the members of the party going to Arizona. Others are W. W. "Bill" Davis and Henry Capps. Davis and Capps will be accompanied by their wives.

The local group will be members of the Virginia delegation which is expected to number approximately 20 men. The Virginia delegation will be on hand to bolster the candidacy of Claude J. "Bubber" Staylor, of Norfolk, for the office of national vice-president of the organization. Culverhouse serves as campaign manager for Staylor.

Virginia Beach representatives are also serving as goodwill ambassadors for the city. They will distribute salt water taffy candy donated by Forbes Candies and attractive writing pencils donated by Kellam-Eaton Insurance company.

Caps and Davis will represent Virginia Beach Lodge Seven and Culverhouse will represent the State Lodge. He serves as secretary-treasurer of the State group.

Super Race Of Insects Made

tion, the process that gives us more milk per cow and more eggs per hen, is now producing super races of insects and a headache for health authorities, industry and the pest control operators.

Dr. Ralph E. Heal, executive secretary of the National Pest Control Association, said today that the growing resistance to ordinary insecticides among common pests is becoming a major national health and economic problem.

DDT, the chlorinated hydrocarbon which at one time seemed to offer hope of wiping out most of the insect pests, is rapidly losing its effectiveness against many strains, Dr. Heal pointed out.

He said that the common household fly has been found to thumb its nose at DDT in almost all parts of the world. The fly which at one time fainted at the DDT label now wallows in it with increasingly less fatal effects.

Almost as resistant to DDT and similar familiar compounds such as chlordane is the German cockroach, one of the most common of all pests. Cat and dog fleas are also resistant to DDT over wide areas of the United States. Resistance among bed bugs is not as general but it has been spotted in almost all parts of the country. The latest to join the ranks of the resistant pests is the brown dog tick which has been found to be resistant in many areas in the southern states.

"Almost all of the medically important pests now have shown resistance to one fly which at one time fainted at the DDT label against them," Dr. Heal said. "The problem is world-wide in its scope and of serious concern to all who are responsible for the health of animals and men."

In the United States, the situation is especially critical because of our high standards of cleanliness including freedom from pests.

"Aided by university and industrial scientists, the pest control industry is constantly devising new weapons against insect pests, but the phenomenon of resistance is making the battle more complicated and more costly."

Dr. Heal said that where DDT and chlordane are no longer effective, pest control operators are using new insecticides such as malathion, and other newer methods that mean more expense and new training for the operators. Resistant insects — pests which cannot be controlled by insecticides formerly effective against them — apparently are the result of natural selection. The hardest of toughest insects of a kind survive exposure to an insecticide. Science has not fully explained this process but apparently some individuals have abnormal chemical ability to make the poisons harmless. From these individuals come progeny with the same characteristic and a whole new strain of resistant insect appears. Resistance to DDT among flies was first spotted in a Swiss scientist's laboratory in 1947 and since

Clerk of Court's Office 'Hub' of P.A. Government

By MIKE KATSIAS
This second article in this series dealing with the agencies which form the Princess Anne County government is found in the personage of John V. Fentress who has held the position of Clerk of Court since January of 1952. His office is called by many the "hub" of the county government, and upon closer examination the interested citizen can readily see why.

Besides the well-known role he plays as Clerk of the Circuit Court of Princess Anne, Fentress records the minutes of the Board of Supervisors at the body's monthly meetings and oversees the recording of deeds on sale of land in the county.

The deeds of the land sales are recorded and kept in huge ledgers for use by those seeking information concerning them. Since 1954, the office has employed the use of photostatic copies which preserve the life of the documents. Not only deeds, but all legal documents such as wills, divorces, and marriage licenses are recorded by this agency. Last year the office recorded an assortment of deeds, deeds of trust, and powers of attorney which totaled 10,800. This compares favorably with the record 12,400 during Fentress' tenure in office.

During the six court terms (one every two months), the Clerk swears-in witnesses and juries and accepts the verdicts of the juries. As Clerk of the County, hunting mid fishing licenses are, also handled under his supervision.

JOHN V. FENTRESS

In order to provide a more efficiently working system, Fentress has divided his staff into three sections which work together in harmony. Some handle law and chancery matters, others the map-making section, and the remainder work with the deeds, law and chancery deals with divorce cases, civil and criminal laws, and crimes against the county and Commonwealth.

The map-making section has a "new look" which has greatly aided the work of reproducing the old map books. With the introduction of a $1200 monia-feed controlled machine, original lines are processed through for duplicates to replace the old tracing method. The Clerk stated that his staff is reproducing all the old map books with the facilities offered by this device. Roland West and Gerald Williams are the two deputy clerks who assist Fentress in properly administering the various functions of this office. West deals with the law and court section and is assisted by Mrs. Emily Singwald. Williams handles the chancery work with the help of Mrs. Margaret Hood.

Throughout the interview, Fentress brought out one pertinent fact which he credited with making his office one which he believes to be quite efficient — the need for departmental cooperation. "The public should be enlightened on how seriously we need this important feature of government, it is the only way to offer the citizenry the best service." "We are continuously working with the Treasurer and Commissioner of Revenue to offer the utmost harmony in organization."

After the deeds are recorded in the Clerk's office, they are transferred to the Commissioner of Revenue's office. This allows the two agencies to keep up closely with each other in this phase of their work.

The combined role that the Treasurer and Clerk is another illustration of this cooperative theme. Upon certifying the list of eligible voters in the county, it is then forwarded to Fentress who has finished copies printed and distributed to the 17 precincts in Princess Anne.

If this harmony between these three important departments did not exist, their work could not hope to be adequate enough to meet standard requirements.

As anyone who ventures to the county "hall" can attest, John V. Fentress fills a position which constantly keeps him busy. His is a versatile office which calls for a man well schooled in the affairs of government with all its problems of administration. When the City of Norfolk completes its annexation suit against Princess Anne, the work will be that much more, but his colleagues have little doubt about the outcome.

Coast Guard Academy Exams Set for February

Congressman Edward J. Roberson Jr. has announced for the information of young men in the 1st District of Virginia that the United States Coast Guard has scheduled its nationwide competitive examination on February 24th and 25th, 1958, for those who seek appointment to the United States Coast Guard Academy at New London, Conn.

Congressman Roberson emphasized the opportunity offered young men who choose this four-year course which leads to a commission as a career officer in America's oldest sea-going service and a Bachelor of Science degree. Application must reach the Coast Guard Headquarters, Washington, D. C. on or before January 15, 1958.

A high school diploma is the minimum educational requirement, although high school seniors who are assured of being graduated by June 30 are eligible to take the examination if they will have at least 15 credits by that time. All applicants must have three units of English, two of Algebra, and one in Plane Geometry by graduation.

A candidate must be single and must have reached his 17th but not his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1958.

If additional information is desired, Congressman Roberson will be glad to receive the inquiry at his office, Room 116, House Office Building, Washington 25, D.C.

Linkhorn Park Registration Set August 13-15

Prospective First Grade students and transfers in any grade will register at the Linkhorn Park Elementary School Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 13, 14 and 15 from 9 to 12.

Parents with children entering a Virginia public school for the first time, regardless of grade, must bring a birth certificate. Children transferring from other schools must also bring report cards or written records from the school they last attended.

All parents from North Virginia Beach, Bay Colony, Birdneck Point, Linlier and Rudee Heights are requested to register their children at this time in order to facilitate pupil assignment to classrooms and buses before September.

County Women Attend Rural Affairs Meeting

Fourteen women from Princess Anne attended the Institute of Rural Affairs held at Blacksburg last week. They were Mrs. F. E. Walker Sr., County Chairman; Mrs. Henry McClanahan, Mrs. W. T. Peterson, Mrs. Fleetwood McClanahan, Mrs. T. C. Hunter Sr., Mrs. B. H. Copeland, Mrs. C. Fluke, Mrs. C. C. Muckols, Mrs. D. Parham, Mrs. C. J. Hiller, Mrs. Floyd Barnes, Mrs. Revie VanDusen, Mrs. I. L. Zimmerman, Mrs. L. Jackson and Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Elizabeth D. Deal. There were about 1200 men and women registered during the week.

The programs and speakers gave information on topics of interest to both men and women. Dr. Elizabeth Nige Todd Hunter, Dean of the School of Home Economics at the University of Alabama spoke on the Impact of Industrialization on the Rural Family. Lowell S. Hardin, Head Department of Agricultural Economics at Purdue University spoke on the Changing Construction of Agriculture. Various group discussions were held in the morning. These dealt with the Family, Food and the Family, Providing for your Heirs through Inheritance, Agronomy, Dairy, Fruit, Ornamental Horticulture, and Forestry. One of the most interesting for the women was Lighting for the Family Home. Miss Rose Cockey from Nela Park, General Electric Lighting Division was the speaker and showed many important considerations when planning for the lighting of homes.

In addition there were many types of recreation and social activities in the evening. Travels concerning New Zealand and Vacation in the National Parks, dancing, and table games. Those who could not attend missed a real opportunity.

Farmer's Daughter Has Diplomatic Career

Miss Alice Griffith is a native of the little town of Galveston, Md., right in the midst of the truck-farming section. She is proud of the fact she is a farmer's daughter, and in reality, always remain close to the soil. Today she can call herself a diplomatic career woman with 10 years of State Department experience behind her.

A few nights ago she told J. Wesley Gardner, of the Martha Washington, it was her longing to travel that took her from home after her college days. Miss Griffith went to Madison College, Harrisonburg, Va., graduating with honors. From there she went to Richmond University to take her M.A. degree, and proud of the fact her thesis on Edgar Allen Poe won her high reward. Upon graduation Miss Griffith looked about for a job that would eventually give her a chance to travel and see the world.

By a stroke of good luck she landed in the State Department, Washington, back in the days when James (Jimmy) Byrnes was Secretary of State. Her next overall boss was the learned Harvardite Dean Atchison and now John Foster Dulles. After several years in passport department Miss Griffith's chance for an over-seas job came, it being in Naples, Italy, when the beautiful Claire Luce resigned as Ambassador.

During her holidays Miss Griffith took every advantage to make use of her time in travel. Spain proved her greatest thrill with such cities as Madrid and Barcelona as centers. Holland and Luxembourg were interesting, but Paris and the rest of France almost too expensive for an American in her job. In Naples and Spain opera proved her true recreation. In Naples the name of Caruso still lingers in the Neapolitan mind.

Germany was her next assignment with Frankfurt her headquarters. While there she has visited Hamburg, Bremen, Hanover, Berlin and, of course Bonn. She likes Germany but is more inclined to prefer Naples with its gaiety, music and charm.

She says her one prize in Frankfurt is her maid Hedwig, also a farmer's daughter, and the first Frauine not interested in learning English. In spite of that fact Hedwig picks up my language without difficulty.

So Miss Griffith claims to be the farmer's daughter who wanted to travel. She has her wish but was glad to get home again. She returns to Germany in September.

Sammy Kaye To Appear at Beach Club

SAMMY KAYE

Sammy Kaye, King of Swing and Sway, and his Orchestra start a week's engagement at the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club Friday night August 9th. Featured with Kaye are the internationally famous radio and TV personalities, Barry Frank, Sandi Summers, the Kaydets and the Kaye Choir who keep each evening's performance sparkling with entertainment.

"Sammy Kaye's Orchestra is hailed as the country's top and most danceable orchestra and it is with great pride that we are bringing a band to the Beach Club that is so tremendously popular on the bandstand, on recordings and in radio and TV," stated Sidney Banks, president of the Cavalier. Banks went on to say that the attendance at the Beach Club this summer substantiated the management's opinion that this season's orchestras have been exceptionally good. "Garber," said Banks, "set a record for attendance."

According to record Sammy Kaye's recording sales have totaled more than thirty million discs and it's said the name "Sammy Kaye" on a phonograph record is like "Sterling" on silver. While his Columbia Records are consistently on the best-seller lists, Kaye is the only recording artist to have three discs simultaneously on the top 10 best sellers.

On the first evening of his first engagement at the Cavalier Beach Club Kaye and his orchestra will be broadcast directly from the bandstand both Friday and Saturday night at 10:30 to 11 over the CBS Radio Network. The network will carry Kaye's dance music on Thursday night August 15th which

Judge Floyd E. Kellam to Crown Beach Festival Queen

Judge Floyd E. Kellam will crown the festival queen at Chesapeake Beach Saturday night, as a climax of the annual summer festival sponsored by the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club.

The festival will begin at 3 p.m. and will be preceded by a parade, featuring the candidates for festival queen and their attendants. The parade will begin at 2 p.m. Candidates for queen and their attendants, who will ride in decorated cars are Misses Faye Abernathy, Carol Morris and Carol Prentiss, candidates, and Misses Susan Sheely, Patsy Bazemore and Phyllis Hurst, attendants.

The festival will be followed by the coronation of the queen at 8 p.m. and upon the conclusion of this event, dancing will begin at the community center and will continue until 11:30 p.m. The dance will be a teen hop.

The festival will be highlighted by popular attractions of past years. For the first time, booths will be set up inside the community center, but the usual pony rides and merry-go-rounds for the children will be available outside, as in the past. Another new feature will be the appearance at the coronation of the queen of pre-teens as flower girls and crown bearers. They are Misses Judy Hudson, Jane Edmondson, Pam Meekins, Kay Brooks and Frances Abernathy.

At a Wednesday meeting, teen age girls made decorations for the throne. The young lady raising the most money for the building fund of the center will wear the crown. Festival proceeds in general go to this fund and other activities of Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club.

There will be tea dances on Saturday and Sunday only during Kaye's stay according to information from the Cavalier.

Micro-Midgets Race Saturday

One of the nation's fastest growing sports, micro-midget auto racing, makes its third appearance of the season here next Saturday night at the Atlantic Speedway, where George Selas of Portsmouth will be rated the man to beat.

Selas, an auto mechanic who builds micro midgets as a hobby, turned back Tony Brannon of Greenville, N.C. in the opening show two weeks ago, fulfilling early forecasts that he had the fastest car in the area.

However, with new drivers turning to the tiny but powerful cars each week Selas will face plenty of competition.

Gene Benson of Norfolk, a young driver who made a big hit indoors two winters ago, will be back along with Leo Russ of Norfolk, winner of the national point championship last year.

Benson had a flat tire in his debut and Russ had motor trouble. Two other Portsmouth drivers, Blackie Festa and Chuck Cawthorne, also will return and must be rated as threats. Jimmy Yeates of Norfolk also will be highly regarded.

The program calls for 100 laps of racing plus time trials. The 35-lap feature will be preceded by three 10-lap heats and a 20-lap consolation.

Time trials will start at 7:30 p.m. and racing at 8:30 p.m. The Atlantic Speedway, a tenth of a mile banked, asphalt oval, is located one mile west of here off Virginia Beach Boulevard (Route 58).

DECISION AGAINST TIME

Vacation Should Be Restful

Here are some thoughts on late summer vacations:

An employer's and employee's conception of a vacation differ considerably. The employer emphasizes rest and relaxation for the vacationers. The employee thinks in terms of fun and activity.

Possibly more attention should be given to rest in connection with vacations. Too many people returning to work after their two weeks off sigh wearily and say "I'm glad to get back to the office for a rest."

The annual vacation in the United States has become an actual necessity for health and well-being. But for maximum benefit it should be restful above all.

Rest the mind, rest the eyes, rest the body, is good advice to the late summer and early fall vacationists.

The annual "rest period" should be spent so that you return refreshed rather than fatigued. Here are some tips on taking vacations for rest and relaxation: Don't get into a cross-country driving marathon. Realize that you can't see the whole United States in two weeks. Settle for a leisurely sightseeing trip if you spend the time in travel.

Rest the mind with books if you are going to settle down somewhere; if traveling visit historical places on the way. This kind of visiting will take your mind off present-day worries and troubles. You use your eyes more on vacation than you do normally. They are also subjected to unusual strain. For tired eyes use sun glasses that are most restful. It is also a good idea to carry a bottle of Murine in the car dashboard compartment. Move off the road when you feel tired and take a nap.

Keep the body relaxed by mild exercise. Don't attempt a strenuous athletic program. If you are going to do a lot of walking, do it in easy stages. Unless you are in really good condition — and few vacationers are — start your sports activities in mild doses until your muscles are limbered up.

And, finally, remember that the sun will burn the pale city dweller's skin. Use sun tan lotions and don't stay out too long. A sunburn isn't relaxing.

Remember, let the word "rest" rule your vacation at all times.

Light Wool Jacket Plays Important Role in Summer Wardrobe

In this air-conditioned era, light woolen jackets and sweaters play an important role in summer wardrobes. A treatment to make wools machine-washable—a special advantage for the light colored summer wools—shows promise in U.S. Department of Agriculture research.

Although it is still being tested and perfected, the process comes close to meeting requirements for an ideal shrinkage control for wools. It eliminates felting, the most common cause of wool shrinkage.

In this experimental treatment a blend of resin chemicals is applied to the fabric. After processing, they coat the fibers with a protective film that is tough and durable, yet flexible. Besides making the fabric shrink-resistant, the film helps reduce pilling (the formation of little balls of wool on the surface of the fabric). It does not weaken the fabric, or effect its natural water repellency. Although the first test washings after treatment caused a slight shrinkage, repeated launderings in a home washer had no further effect on the treated fabric.

The treatment can be applied to both woven and knitted wools. Tests have been made on socks, sweaters, and flannel and jersey goods. It promises also to be fairly inexpensive, and prices of treated goods should be well within practical limits.

However, before these shrink-resistant wools can be manufactured, some improvements must be made in the present laboratory process. Further research may reduce the amount of coating that fabrics must carry. The treatment makes fabrics a little more stiff.

THE PRESCRIPTION PHARMACY

To pay for Knowledge is Often Real Economy....

Can you measure the value of an examination and diagnosis by your Doctor? The fee paid to him is not for work alone. It is also for his knowledge, for knowing what to do.

Likewise there are years of study and experience that are a part of every prescription dispensed. Consider this, and note that the pharmacist's fee for professional knowledge is but a small part of the moderate cost of your medicine.

the example of Jamestown

"every man his own hearthstone . . ."

When John Smith returned to England in September, 1609, he left at Jamestown 500 colonists—vigorous, well-fed, housed, and well-armed.

Yet just eight months later, when Lord Delaware crossed from England and sailed into the James River, he found far downstream from the settlement all that remained alive—about sixty wretched, emaciated, half-naked men, women, and children . . . "most miserable and poor creatures."

Disorganized by corrupt leadership, weakened by greed and rebellion . . . the other four hundred and forty had perished—some by the Indian hatchet, but most by starvation in a land of plenty!

Delaware re-established order, set work rules for the colonists, and brought back a respect for religion. When ill health forced him to return to England several months later, Sir Thomas Dale became Governor. Dale immediately thrust out the socialistic system which forbade the colonists to own homes and land and also compelled them to bring to a common storehouse all they produced. Now, "every man was to have his own hearthstone and his own private tract which he was to cultivate himself." With this new freedom . . . with this new right of the individual to own, benefit and prosper directly in proportion to his individual labors, Jamestown began to flourish. For the first time, the colony was economically self-sufficient; for the first time, there was surplus instead of deficiency.

The example of Jamestown is one men learn again every time they attempt to work and live without free enterprise . . . without giving every individual the incentive of personal recognition of and reward for the accomplishments which come from his hands, his head and his heart. This is the freedom which has made the United States the most productive nation in history. This is the American Way.

TEA'S EASY WITH THESE TIME-SAVING TRICKS

When it's your turn to entertain the ladies, whether it's the church committee or just a friendly get-together, plan something a little different and have an outdoor tea. Set the table in a shady part of the patio or porch and serve dainty foods in buffet style.

Start with a big punch bowl brimming with amber iced tea — use Instant Tender Leaf Tea for speedy mixing and full rich flavor that no amount of ice can dilute. Save extra time, too by chilling the tea with lemon ice cubes — use a mixture of lemon juice and water and put time and lemon slices in the ice tray sections before they're frozen.

Arrange one or two trays with hot savory snacks and tea-time tidbits that are quick and easy, like these:

HAM TIDBITS

6 English Muffins 2 2½-ounce cans deviled ham
2 tablespoons chopped chutney

Split muffins with a sharp knife. Mix deviled ham and chutney; spread on muffin halves. Place under broiler for 4 minutes, or until ham is bubbling but not browned. Cut each muffin-half into pie-shaped quarters and serve immediately.

ROYAL NUT SAVORIES

Spread crisp ginger snaps with pineapple-cream cheese spread. Garnish each with canned blanched almonds.

RASPBERRY FINGERS

¼ cup margarine or butter 2 tablespoons crushed
1 cup confectionery sugar, sifted fresh raspberries
16 graham crackers

Cream margarine or butter in a bowl; blend in sugar and raspberries. Put 4 crackers together, sandwich fashion, with raspberry filling. Repeat with remaining crackers and filling to make 4 stacks. Wrap in waxed paper and chill. Slice each stack in half and serve.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK

SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and fables... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

The Greeks and the Romans enjoyed a wedge of meat between two slabs of bread, and so without a doubt, did the Babylonians, but it was the fourth Earl of Sandwich who made the English people sandwich-minded and gave the world a habit-forming luncheon.

Sandwiches today are for ought to be real food, served in a convenient form, when knives and forks are out of place. Even a tea sandwich should be good no less than dainty. Remember that sandwiches, which are in existence to assuage the pangs of hunger, should not be made paper-thin and practically tasteless. Sandwiches are not capes, and capes are not sandwiches.

Sandwiches and summertime, they are a perfect match for each other — sandwiches and summertime living. Everywhere, the summer scene has become more relaxed and casual with easy living joining hands with simple meals.

If meals are to follow this easy pattern, many will be planned around convenience foods. Among the first in this field were sandwiches and it is only lately that the terms "convenience foods" have come into our vocabularies. Sandwiches have long been the mainstays of summer picnics and easy meals. Not only are there myriad fillings to lend variety, but the choice of breads and buns at the bakery or food mart can change a favorite filling a dozen ways, too.

Sandwiches with a hearty filling make the meal — the supper or lunch. To team with soup or salad, upon the dictates of the weather, are sandwiches made with shrimp-cheese-egg fillings, clam-cheese fillings, or egg-chicken-liver fillings.

When temperatures push toward the 100° mark, choose a salad-type filling which could be sweet carrot, shrimp-dill-cucumber or garden salad.

Summer calls for sandwiches on the lighter side, too, as those that go with iced tea or come to the children's party. For these choose fig-nut or cheese-coconut fillings. Here are the recipes from the kitchen of the American Institute of Baking.

Shrimp-Cheese-Egg Sandwich Filling
¼ cup chopped, cooked shrimp
¼ cup grated process cheese
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
1½ tablespoons horseradish
½ cup mayonnaise
Combine shrimp, cheese, chopped egg, horseradish and mayonnaise. Yield: 1½ cups, or filling for six sandwiches.

Clam and Cheese Sandwich Filling
(3-ounce) package cream cheese
1 tablespoon mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 (7-ounce) can minced clams, drained
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon prepared mustard
½ teaspoon salt
Combine cream cheese, mayonnaise, clams, Worcestershire sauce, mustard and salt. Yield: ¾ cup, or filling for 4 sandwiches.

Egg-Chicken Liver Sandwich Filling
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
¼ pound (½ cup) chopped, cooked chicken livers
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
2 tablespoons chopped celery
½ teaspoon caraway seeds
Combine chopped eggs, chicken livers, mayonnaise, salt, pepper, celery and caraway seeds. Yield: 1 cup, or filling for five sandwiches.

Sweet Carrot Sandwich Filling
½ cup seedless raisins
½ cup shredded coconut
½ cup grated raw carrot
2 tablespoons chopped pickled green pepper
2 tablespoons creamy French dressing
Combine raisins, coconut, carrot, green pepper and French dressing. Yield: 1½ cups, or filling for six sandwiches.

Shrimp-Dill-Cucumber Sandwich Filling
1 (3-ounce) package cream cheese
¼ cup chopped, cooked shrimp
¼ cup diced cucumber
¼ teaspoon dill seeds
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Softened cream cheese. Add shrimp, cucumber, dill seeds and lemon juice. Yield: ¾ cup, or filling for four sandwiches.

Sandwich Month — U.S.A.

For casual living, bring on a large tray of ready-to-serve meats and let the guests or family help themselves. Meats included on this tray are canned luncheon loaf, salami, ham, bologna, tongue and liver sausage. Remember to include the relishes, mustard, pickles, etc.

Garden Salad Sandwich Filling

¼ cup prepared sour cream
¼ cup chive cottage cheese
¼ cup chopped salted peanuts
¼ cup chopped radishes
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
½ teaspoon prepared horseradish
½ teaspoon pepper
Combine sour cream, cheese, radishes, peanuts, parsley, horseradish and pepper. Yield: 1½ cups or filling for eight sandwiches.

Fig Nut Sandwich Filling

¼ cup finely chopped salted peanuts
¼ cup finely chopped figs
3 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
2 tablespoons honey
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
Combine peanuts, figs, mayonnaise, honey, lemon juice and nutmeg. Yield: ¾ cup, or filling for four sandwiches.

Cheese-Coconut Sandwich Filling

½ cup cottage cheese
½ cup grated coconut, toasted
½ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon mayonnaise or salad dressing
Combine cottage cheese, toasted coconut, salt and mayonnaise. Yield: ¾ cup, or filling for four sandwiches.

Cool treatment is the answer if sandwich bread is too fresh to spread easily. Chill the bread thoroughly in the refrigerator before making sandwiches and you'll do a neater job with less effort.

Caraway-Cheese Toasties

Delight them by the dozen at the picnic site or on the patio. Make a dozen Caraway-Cheese Toasties from each loaf of Brown 'n Serve French bread. For eight guests, cut two loaves of bread, diagonally, cutting not quite through the lower crust. Spread slices with caraway-cheese butter. To make: Combine ¼ cup soft butter or margarine, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing, ½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 cup grated process American cheese and 2 teaspoons caraway seed. String the loaves on a long, sharp-pointed skewer. Heat over hot coals, or under a broiler, turning the bread to brown on all sides.

Olive-Nut-Swiss Cheese Sandwich
Supper is a breeze with Olive-Nut-Swiss Cheese Sandwich and a cool, cool salad. Butter split bakers' buns. Spread, generously, prepared olive-nut filling on the lower halves. Top with a slice of Swiss cheese and cover with the bun top.

Picnicking has become the All-American pastime. According to a recent survey made by researchers, it is estimated that 85 per cent of all United States families picnicked or ate meals out-of-doors last year. It was also estimated that they ate 1.3 billion meals.

Parsley-Garlic Bread

To a man, they will "go" for the crusty slices of Parsley-Garlic Bread. Make it over the charcoal grill, or in an oven. Cut French bread diagonally, almost through the bottom crust. Spread with parsley-garlic "butter." To make: Combine equal parts of butter or margarine with finely chopped parsley. Add finely chopped chives or green onions and season with crushed garlic. Wrap in foil and heat over the outdoor grill, or in a hot oven.

Cheese-Ham Rolls

Going steady! Ham and cheese pair off to make a hot sandwich to be served bun fashion. Split and buttered bakers' buns are filled with a cheese-ham mixture made as follows: Combine ¼ cup deviled ham, 1½ cups grated process cheese, 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion, 2 tablespoons chili sauce, 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper and 2 tablespoons sweet picadilli. Wrap each bun in foil and heat either in the oven or on a grill for about eight minutes, or until the cheese melts. Bye now—Cool and easy summertime living—

Camp Woodrow Wilson and Camp Easter Seal to Merge

The former Camp Woodrow Wilson, a summer speech improvement camp sponsored jointly by the Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults and the University of Virginia, will be merged with Camp Easter Seal's Summer Treatment Center next year, it was announced today by Dr. William T. Sanger, President of the crippled children's Society.

The summer speech improvement camp, which was founded in 1949 by Dr. James M. Mullendore of the University of Virginia and operated for seven years, provided intensive treatment each summer for from thirty-five to fifty children with speech and hearing handicaps. Organized as the first of its kind in the South, it was located variously at the Woodrow Wilson Rehabilitation Center at Staebenville, the University of Virginia grounds, and at the Virginia School for the Deaf and Blind. The merger with Camp Easter Seal provides the first permanent location for the speech camp.

Dr. Mullendore, who has consented to continue as consultant for the speech and hearing activities in the summer program, expressed pleasure concerning this development, saying, "The Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults has been the greatest single source of help to us in the development of the Virginia speech and hearing program during the last decade. The objectives of the speech improvement phase of its Summer Treatment Center and the former Camp Woodrow Wilson are virtually identical. Through the combination of the efforts of the University of Virginia Speech and Hearing Center and the Easter Seal Society, I am sure that we will be able to provide further improvement in the rehabilitation facilities for the children of this state who are handicapped by speech and hearing disorders."

In addition to serving as a treatment center, the speech and hearing portion of the Camp Easter Seal will also provide a location for a portion of the teacher training program in speech and hearing which has been a part of the previous summer speech improvement camp.

Because the facilities of Camp Easter Seal are not yet completed, there will be no summer speech camp this year. The joint program in speech between the University of Virginia and the Virginia Society for Crippled Children and Adults will be resumed in the summer of 1958 and will provide services for approximately one hundred children in this field.

The Easter Seal Society is presently conducting a campaign for financial support for the completion of the camp facilities. A goal of $100,000 has been set as the cost for putting the camp into operation.

Pre-School Check-Up Advised

Is your child really ready for school? Soon many parents of preschool children will be asking themselves this question.

State Health Commissioner, Dr. Mack I. Shanholts, interested particularly in every child's physical readiness for school, notes that "all children should begin the venture in the best possible physical condition."

He reminds parents that "preschool children planning to enter Virginia schools in September should be taken to their physicians or to the nearest preschool clinic for a complete physical check-up.

"Prompt action is necessary in order that any medical treatments or corrections recommended by the physicians can be taken care of before the opening of school."

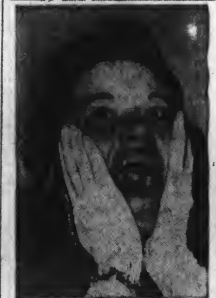

The state law requires that all children present evidence of a successful vaccination against smallpox before enrolling in Virginia schools. It is strongly recommended also that parents have their children immunized against diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus, and poliomyelitis.

Dr. Shanholts noted that a thorough medical examination should include checking the vision, hearing, heart, posture, and weight. A dental examination should also be given. He emphasized that any defects should be corrected now.

Quoting from the bulletin "Getting Them Ready for School," a joint publication of the State Department of Health and the State Department of Education, Dr. Shanholts said, "Delaying these corrections not only means the child will probably miss many days from school due to illness, but also that his health and well-being may be endangered. You owe it to your child to give him a clean bill of health."

Virginia Antiques Fair Plans Well Under Way

RICHMOND — Plans for the sixth annual Virginia Antiques Fair are well under way. With the Fair's opening date set on September 16, over a month and a half in the future, the Virginia Antique Dealers Association has already received acceptances from invited dealers. In response, dealers from Maryland, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania have begun to gather their merchandise for the trip to the Old Dominion. Add to these the exhibits of such Virginia dealers as Antiques at Woodlawn, Frances Rockenbough, Mrs. Leslie E. Bush, Bernard M. Caperton, The Croset Shop, Little Mountain Shop, Pewter Mus. and Sherwood Shoppe and the 1957 Antiques Fair promises to be the best yet in this growing Richmond tradition.

The 19th century grace of the Jefferson Hotel will be the setting for the Fair again this year. Since this setting and the added interest created by the Jamestown Festival foretell greater things for this year's Fair, the Antique Dealers Association has geared the planning to include more facilities for an increase in the number of exhibitors.

Some of the items already scheduled for exhibit and sale include Early American and 18th century furniture, jewelry, china, glassware and a number of collector's items.

The Fair will remain in the ballroom of the Jefferson Hotel from the 16th through the 19th of September.

Are you as wise today as you were in '47?

Every Savings Bond you paid $75 for 10 years ago

is worth $100 today . . . will be worth $134.68 in 10 years more.

Part of every American's savings belongs in U. S. Savings Bonds

If you hold U. S. Series E Savings Bonds that mature this month you can give yourself a pat on the back for the wise buy you made. For every three dollars you invested in 1947, you have four dollars now. (And, had you spent that money 10 years ago, chances are whatever you bought would have been long since worn out.)

Today you can be even smarter. All you do is just hold onto those Bonds. Keep them for another ten years and you'll get $1.80 for every dollar you put into them. For example, a Bond you bought for $37.50 will pay you back $67.34! And the best part of it is you don't have to do anything but keep your Bonds. No papers to sign. Not even a visit to the bank is necessary.

Remember this, too! Savings Bonds are one of the safest investments you can make. Your principal is guaranteed safe up to any amount—and your rate of interest is guaranteed sure—by the United States Government.

So keep the Savings Bonds you have now and add to them either through Payroll Savings or by buying Bonds where you regularly bank.

FORT STORY TELLINGS -

BEST MESS

Fort Story's best mess award for July was presented last week to Sgt. 1/c Charlie Jackson, Mess Stewart of the 461st Amphibious Truck Company, by Col. James C. Conine, Deputy Post Commander.

The presentation ceremony, held in the 461st mess hall, was attended by Lt. Col. Joseph S. Bostick, commanding officer of the 14th Transportation Battalion, Maj. G. L. Williams, Post S-4, Maj. Joe S. Tubbs, Executive Officer of the 14th Battalion, and First Lt. Nicholas H. Jongbloed, company commander.

Sergeant Jackson won for his unit the best mess award in January which was given for the entire Transportation Training Command.

PROMOTIONS

A summer from the 14th Transportation Battalion Commander, the first of August, gave Sgt. 1/c Alfred M. Herron cause to wonder, "What have I done now?"

Shortly after reporting to Lt. Col. Joseph S. Bostick, commanding officer of Fort Story, 14th Transportation Battalion, Sergeant Herron had the answer. He had been promoted to Master Sergeant. The Army's highest enlisted rank.

This is an honor not to be taken lightly. Sergeant Herron, Training NCO for the 461st Amphibious Truck Company, is Fort Story's first Master Sergeant in nearly a year.

Another promotion at the 14th Battalion brought smiles to Cpl. John W. James' face when Colonel Bostick presented him with Sergeant's stripes. Sergeant James is a member of the 554th Transportation Company.

BOATHOOK SALUTE

The traditional military wedding got an amphibious twist at Fort Story last week when newlyweds Private and Mrs. Dennis Fellbaum, at the conclusion of their marriage in the post chapel, walked through an arch of boathooks — Fort Story's substitute for the traditional arch of swords.

Private Fellbaum, a student in DEW drivers' training course of the 461st Amphibious Truck Company, and his bride, the former Sandra Zimmerman of Marathon, Wis., were married by Capt. William Martin, post chaplain. Following the ceremony the bride and groom toured the post in a shiny VDP-DKW, and were guests of honor at a reception in the 461st mess hall.

NOMAD

Fort Story's 600th Heavy Boat Company again participated in inter-service operations last week as they supported the Navy's Operation NOMAD at nearby Camp Pendleton.

Nine LCM's (Landing Craft, Mechanized) and 40 men from the 600th, under the command of First Lt. Robert Gleason participated in the two-day exercise.

Operation NOMAD was held for the benefit of Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps Cadets who are presently in training at the Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base. The exercise was designed to give the cadets practical experience in amphibious and vertical assault tactics.

SOLDIER OF THE MONTH

Soldier of the Month honors for the month of August at Fort Story went to James C. Russell of the 347th Transportation Company.

Sergeant Russell holds down two jobs in his company, that of the Troop Information Representative and Section Sergeant.

Russell enlisted in the Army in October 1950 and took basic training at Camp McCoy, Wis. Upon completion of basic training he was sent to Korea in May 1951 and served with the 3rd Amphibious Truck Company. In September 1952 he returned to the United States where he re-enlisted and went back to Korea in December 1952 to his old outfit the 3rd Amphibious Truck Company. April of 1954 he again returned to the United States and was transferred to Fort Rust, Va., and on to Fort Story in June 1954, where he was assigned to the 347th Transportation Company.

BLOODMOBILE

The 461st Amphibious Truck Company took the honors last week (August 1st) as 180 Fort Story personnel visited the Tidewater Bloodmobile. Forty-seven members of the 461st donated blood.

The visit of the bloodmobile to Fort Story was sponsored by the Special Services Division. This is the second time Fort Story donors have exceeded the quota established for the post.

The 347th Transportation Company supplied 31 donors, the 600th Heavy Boat Company 20 donors, Headquarters Company 14th Battalion 16 donors, and the 554th 10 donors.

COMMAND INSPECTION

A "GI Party," is an institution peculiar to the Army that is neither looked forward to nor enjoyed by those participating, but a round of such parties paid off for members of Fort Story's 10th Transportation Battalion as they faced Maj. Gen. Rush B. Lincoln Jr., Saturday morning in a Command Inspection.

Polishing boots, weapons, and barracks floors are all part of the GI Party, and battalion personnel, their equipment and their barracks alone when the Commanding General of the Transportation Training Command made his inspection. Accompanying General Lincoln on his tour were members of his staff as well as Col. James C. Conine, Fort Story's acting commander, and Lt. Col. E. A. Morgan, the commanding officer of the 10th Battalion.

RESERVISTS

Five hundred Reservists, the largest USAR contingent to train at Fort Story this summer, opened two weeks of Active Unit Training here Monday afternoon with a ceremonial review on the post parade ground.

The USAR encampment is made up of members of 11 Reserve Units from Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Florida and Maryland. Senior units for the training period will be Detachment 1 and 5 of the 9201st Army Reserve Technical Service Unit of Boston. Col. E. H. Springfield commands Detachment 1, while Detachment 5 is commanded by Col. Allen E. Dick.

Nineteen officers of the 2748th Transportation Troop, Command "C" of Cincinnati, Ohio are participating in on-the-job training with staff sections of the 5th "TTC" during the second week of their encampment here. The unit, commanded by Col. Alfred G. Karger, engaged in classroom instruction, practical demonstrations, and range firing during their initial week of training.

ALL STAR TEAM

Fort Story is host this week to 22 members of the Eastern Virginia All Star Football Team and their coach, Tommy Thompson.

The young footballers are quarantined on the post while working out in preparation for Saturday night's All-Star Game against the Western Virginia All-Stars at Norfolk's Foreman Field. Coach Thompson, a former standout for William and Mary, and later for the professional Cleveland Browns, puts his boys through their paces at 4 o'clock each afternoon. The public is encouraged to attend the game, which are held on the Fort Story athletic field.

Saturday night's game will involve some friendly inter-service rivalry, for the Western All-Stars are "quartered" at near-by Oceana Naval Air Station. So for this one occasion at least, the Army goes East and the Navy goes West as Virginia's best footballers meet in Norfolk.

CUBMOBILE DERBY

More than 100 sleek racers will speed down Fort Story's Hilltop Road Sunday, August 11, as Cub Scouts from the Ski-Co-Ak District compete for prizes in the Third Annual Cubmobile Derby.

The gravity-powered racers were built by the Cubs, and have been tested on the Fort Story slope in trial races July 14th and August 3.

Col. George E. Woods Jr., Fort Story's commanding officer is slated to present trophies to winners of the Derby. According to Ralph Barrs of Norfolk, chairman of the event, more than 4000 spectators are expected to observe the annual affair.

American Motors to Market Small, Low-Priced 5-Passenger Sedan

DETROIT — American Motors confirmed reports that it is tooling and has placed production orders with suppliers for a smaller, low-priced, five-passenger sedan to be introduced late in the fall. President George Romney has announced.

The new car, yet unnamed, will be "the lowest-priced, most economical, easiest-handling" American built sedan, he said.

Romney said the car will be a modified version of the company's previous 100-in. wheelbase Rambler, and will further strengthen the successful compact Rambler approach to the rapidly changing American car market.

The new car will give American Motors a 1958 model line-up of the small, two-seater Metropolitan, made for the company in England; the new 100-in. sedan; the compact Rambler series, a foot and a half shorter than the average U.S. car but with passenger space equal to the bigger cars, and the larger, senior car series.

"Our decision to produce this smaller economy car is based on the increasing popularity of such cars, record sales of our Rambler line this year, and the numerous requests that we again have available in our line the shortest and smallest version of our Rambler series," he said. "The continuing increase in the relative resale value of this car is an important indication of its popularity as a used car. The 1954 100-in. Rambler, for example, is bringing the highest average resale price of any low-price two-door sedan of its model year."

Romney said the car will be nearly three feet shorter than the average American-built automobile and four inches narrower. "This will make it easy to park in limited garage and parking spaces, and it will travel twice as far per gallon as the average American automobile. Design emphasis is placed on 'useful passenger space,' with the result that the car, while much smaller outside, will provide standard interior roominess for five passengers."

"In view of today's traffic and parking problems, the increased cost of transportation and growing family needs for greater individual mobility, we are bulwarking our position in the smaller and compact car field," he said. Rambler sales in May and June were the highest in the company's history and a new fiscal-year sales record is a certainty, he said. Metropolitan sales also are running at peak levels.

"Growing success of the Rambler and the decision of major U.S. makers to import foreign cars confirms the soundness of the American Motors approach to passenger car design," Romney declared. "It is becoming increasingly evident that the changed needs of the American motorist cannot be met solely by the giant U.S. car."

Few amateurs qualified to do a professional job of repairing defective electric cords and appliances. And, unless electrical repair work meets professional specifications, the repaired object is generally unsafe to use. This warning comes from the Institute for Suffering Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company, which states that defective and unsafe use of electrical equipment is one of the three greatest causes of home fires.

"Are you doing your part to back the national attack on traffic crashes?" asks our Governor's Highway Safety Committee. Traffic safety is everybody's business and we should remember that we can be involved in traffic trouble when we least expect it. Please obey traffic and common sense rules of driving and walking.

Fisher Body Awards $41,000 In Scholarships

Patience, perseverance and talent have rewarded 19 American boys with $41,000 worth of university scholarships.

Nine of the boys July 30 were named national winners in the 1957 Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild model car competition. They share $31,000 in scholarships awarded on the basis of exceptional designing ability.

The patience and perseverance were proved in the approximately 1000 hours each boy spent in building his model. The talent was displayed in fine craftsmanship and design.

The award-winning model cars are the nation's best of more than 2000 models entered in this year's competition. Approximately $77,000 in cash has previously been awarded to several hundred boys winning state and regional honors.

The 1957 national scholarship winners are: (Senior Age Division) Arthur Russell, Los Angeles, Calif., $5000; William F. Marks, Twin Falls, Idaho, $4000; Richard Sylvester, Lynnville, Iowa, $3000; David H. Koto, Birmingham, Mich., $2000.

Scholarships of $1000 for exceptional designing ability went to Herbert L. Adams III, Chicago, Ill.; Terry R. Henline, Neligh, Neb.; Gerald J. Luedtke, Milwaukee, Wis.; Tony Bell, Abilene, Texas; Alton E. Johnson, Melrose, La.; James T. Sampson, Jackson, Mich.; Norman B. Law, Miami, Fla.; Tony Joy Jr., Youngstown, Ohio; Paul Tatseos, Boston, Mass.; and Patrick O. McKiltrick, Indianapolis, Ind.

These 19 boys now join 160 previous scholarship winners in the Body by Fisher Hall of Fame. Altogether the 179 master craftsmen have received university scholarships valued at $255,500.

Since the competition began in 1930, Fisher Body has distributed more than $1,250,000 in national, regional and state awards to youthful craftsmen.

Enrollments for next year's competition begins in September with $115,000 in awards, including the university scholarships, to be distributed.

Camp Pendleton In for More Improvements

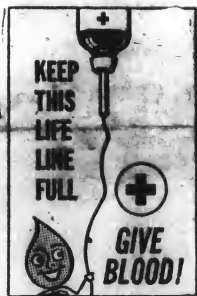

CAMP PENDLETON — This wartime military camp, recently rehabilitated for Virginia National Guard summer training, will be further improved for expanded activity in 1958, Maj. Gen. Sheppard Crump, State Adjutant General, said here Monday.

Crump made the statement in addressing the officers of the 107th Anti-Aircraft Artillery (National Guard) Brigade at their first briefing for a 15-day training period that began Sunday. He said the 107th would return to Pendleton next summer and that further improvements will be made prior to that time.

The camp area, last used by the Virginia Guardsmen in 1949, has been partly rehabilitated at an estimated cost of $50,000. These funds were made available by Gov. Thomas B. Stanley and the base was reopened for the Guard through the cooperation of the Second Army and the Navy.

Meanwhile, the approximately 1,800 officers and men of the 107th battled the sun and sand Monday in completing the task of setting up their 90-millimeter anti-aircraft guns for the two-week training session. Guardsmen sweated freely through their uniforms as they wrestled the big

Lifeguards On Duty Here Every Day

By Mike Katsias

The abundant hot summer days have caused even the natives of this area to seek relief from the heat by enjoying a cool dip in the neighboring Atlantic here at Virginia Beach. In order to offer to that combined element of leisure and safety, the bathers at this resort are aided by the two beach services that serve the city. Both the North and South Umbrella Services possess fine records of long activity.

The two services are owned and operated by four men who started out as young lifeguards and decided to make it a business. Dusty Hinnant and Hugh Kitchener are the owners of the South Umbrella Service. John Smith and Buddy Guy run the operation of the North Umbrella Service. Through their vision and time, their services have developed into two operations which offer protection and leisure to every bather who ventures on the "million-dollar strand."

Dusty Hinnant related many interesting experiences that have taken place in the 27 years which he has spent with the beach service. Since its humble beginning, the combined services now patrol the expansive area from the steel fishing pier north to the area near the Cavalier Cabana Club.

"The weather is the main hazard in a business like ours," said Hinnant. He expressed the belief that more people are taking vacations than ever before, this due to the shorter working hours which many people now have. The veteran beach operator commented that this season has been very good for his business. This he thought was influenced by the excellent sand and beach that the area

MISS WISCONSIN
MISS LYNN HOLDEN

It was Tuesday morning around seven o'clock and a cruel north-east wind shattered my velvet dream world. After a quick shower and a cutless shave, I got in the old Ford and headed in the direction of the newspaper office. For one morning, I decided to take the long-way to work. First stop was a looksee at the work on the aluminum dome — it'll be a banner day when the work on this site ends. Next a walk over to the boardwalk to gaze at the roaring surf in all its turbulence. The water battered against the wall and you thought back to all the endless beatings it had taken.

The first morning of summer moments of leisure back to the grim reality which is work. It had been pleasant while it lasted. In closing this opening bit, I offer a prescription to you all — give your day that one moment; you need it!

This week's beach beauty is the lovely Miss Lynn Holden who also

Dome Nearing Completion On New Building

The city of Virginia Beach has been the focal point of national attention for the past week due to its distinction of becoming the first site in the United States to house one of the newest and most sensational of engineering feats.

Getting underway early this past Monday, erection of the 49½ foot high dome, with a diameter of 145 feet, and a seating capacity of 2,500 people, is expected to be completed as this newspaper reaches its subscribers. The stressed-skin aluminum dome is the structural feature of this city's new $360,000 convention hall.

Engineering, construction, and architectural representatives from firms all over the country have been on hand all week to witness the completion of this dome by the Globe Iron Construction Co. of Norfolk, the erectors. A group of federal government officials from the Pentagon were on hand Wednesday to see the final stages of erection.

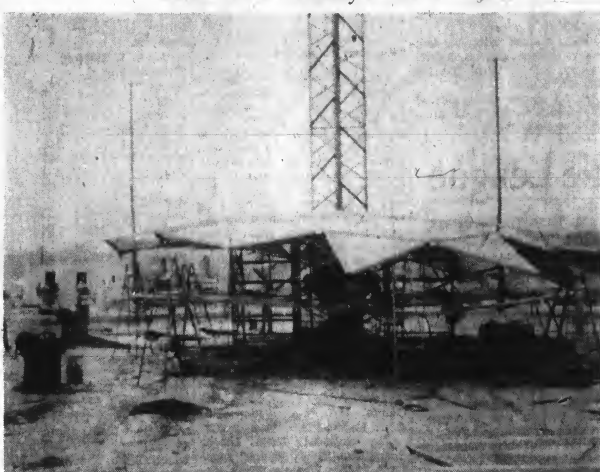

Kaiser Aluminum and Chemical Corp., designers and manufacturers of the unique dome is making a documentary film of the erection which will be used by Kaiser this fall on a nationwide television program.

Truck-hauled to the convention site earlier this week, the 376 diamond-shaped panels are held together by special aluminum castings. The 58-foot mast will be removed upon the completion of erection, then an unobstructed view anywhere in the interior of the hall will be the result.

The citizens of this resort area are expressing the belief that this new addition to the local business will be a marked step in creating a new flux of business boom. A wide variety of events are being

Local Surf Casting Team Repeats As Fishing Tournament Champions, Set New Distance Record

A surf casting team made up chiefly of Virginia Beach fishermen broke the world surf casting distance record at Ocean City, Maryland, last weekend. The record breaking performance gave the local team its second championship in a row.

All active members of the winning team are Virginia Beach men and represent the Tidewater Anglers Club. The winning team scored a total footage of 8,779 feet, eight inches for five casts. This gave the team a record of more than 351 feet per man in the casting event.

Last year the same team, participating for the first time, smashed the existing world record of 319 feet by averaging 331 feet. Last year's victory was the first time a southern team had won the title in the 40 year history of the tournament.

The record set last weekend beat the record the team had set the year before by 20 feet. Members of the championship team are Claude Rogers, captain; Luther Crockett, Maurice Davenport, Vernon Stevens, Joe Drumheller and Clyde Wheelon. The latter is an alternate and resides in Norfolk. All other members live at Virginia Beach.

Virginia Beach Man Adopted By Sioux Indians In South Dakota

A Virginia Beach man just returned from a two month trip to the western part of the United States has become an Indian by adoption. It was learned this week by the Sun-News.

The newest "Indian" is J. Owen Campbell, Sr., well known photography supply distributor, who resides in Linlier, Virginia Beach. Campbell, a veteran historian on the American Indian, was "adopted" by the Sioux Indian nation on Friday, August 2. The ceremony and ultimate adoption came as a surprise to Campbell.

The Virginia Beach man with his wife and young son, Charles, had spent about two months on the West Coast where the senior Campbell had visited color studios in California and other western states. It was on the trip back home that the Indian nation decided to honor Campbell.

In Deadwood, South Dakota, Campbell became re-acquainted with David Miller, noted artist and authority on the western American Indian history. It was Miller who recommended to the Sioux leaders that Campbell be adopted.

Campbell was sponsored by Chief Gus Knox, of Oak Creek, South Dakota, and the ceremony was performed before approximately 15,000 persons at the annual Rodeo in Deadwood.

Following Campbell's adoption on Friday Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton was taken into the nation on Sunday. Campbell is believed to be the first person so honored other than nationally known and government personalities.

The head of the Sioux nation which numbers 55,000 Indians is Chief American Horse. Campbell was given the Indian name of "Wanbli Wankita" which in English means "Looking Eagle."

The practice of regular and systematic saving is the cornerstone in building stability in our national and individual economy, and the keystone in developing self-reliance and character in the individual citizen.

Beach High School Registration Set

Virginia Beach High School will hold registration for new students August 21, 22, and 23 between the hours of 9:00 A. M. and 12:00 noon. James A. Johnson, Jr., Principal said students who attended Virginia Beach High School last year will not have to register. Pupils transferring from other schools should have their last year's report card. A birth certificate is required for all pupils attending Virginia School for the first time.

Gov. Stanley Beach Visitor

Residents of this resort community have noticed the familiar Virginia license plate No. 1 during the past few days on its streets. Governor Thomas B. Stanley and his wife have been enjoying a rest here at one of their favorite vacation spots. The state's highest government official maintains a cottage here at Virginia Beach to enjoy a brief rest occasionally from the duties of his office.

Drive Started Among Beach Restaurants

A visiting team of United Communities Fund workers composed of J. W. Wood, C. J. Burroughs, Jr., and R. L. Sheets, all of Norfolk, addressed a group of the city's restaurant owners at a meeting earlier this week concerning this organization's drive.

The United Communities Fund which has under its fold such organizations as the Red Cross just recently merged combining Virginia Beach and Princess Anne with the other communities that are supported by the donations pledged to this benevolent, non-profit group. In order to achieve full participation in the Virginia Beach area, the restaurant industry is being asked to conduct its drive during the height of the season this year. It is hoped that this will offer owners and employees alike an opportunity to make a pledge for the organization's work for the coming year.

Mr. James Kontopoulos was chosen as chairman for the restaurant group. Other owners who planned when the convention hall opens for service.

BEACH - COUNTY AREA INCLUDED IN CIVIC PLANS

A local group has been formed to establish a Boys Club for Virginia Beach and Princess Anne, according to L. J. Woodward, who has been named chairman of the committee. The idea of establishing such a club here for youngsters between the ages of eight and 14 was first conceived at one of the Wednesday morning Breakfast Club meetings here. The plan would be patterned after the Boy's Club of Norfolk.

A steering committee was named this week which Woodward heads. Other members of this committee are F. Beale Wilhoit, secretary; R. Lee Page, E. M. Stanton, K. L. Jard, Reverend Edmond Berkley, E. B. "Bubba" Byrne and J. P. Holland, III.

According to Woodward the program being planned to establish a Boys Club here is not the work of any one group but is a civic-wide project. The club would tend to provide a guidance program for youngsters in cooperation with school and other governmental officials.

At a meeting this week the group voted to incorporate under the name, "Boys Club of Virginia Beach-Princess Anne." The next step is to secure an option on property to construct a building or to lease a building for the club. After that a finance committee will be formed to raise the necessary funds for establishing the club.

Plans for such a club have been in the making for more than two years and the steering committee named this week brings the project into being for the first time.

Babe Ruth League Playoff Starts Here on Wednesday

A playoff series between the Dodgers of the Virginia Beach Babe Ruth baseball league and the winners of the Princess Anne League will begin Wednesday night. The first game is scheduled for the Virginia Beach stadium.

The series will be a best two out of three affair. It was announced. Game time is expected to be 7:30 o'clock.

Thursday, August 8—
The Thunderbirds defeated the Pipers 6-5 in an exciting first game as they were forced into an extra inning. Harvey Heckman had sparked the Birds to an early lead with a three-run homer in the first. Pete Barney batted in the tying run in the sixth inning for the Pipers. Arthur Rosenbaum stole home in the last of the seventh to give the Thunderbirds their first victory over the Pipers.

Al Butler, league leader in home runs, added to his laurels with a two-run blast for the Giants in the second contest. The Giants lost to the Hawks, 15-4, with George Manos picking up the win.

The National Little League banquet will be held Thursday, Sept. 12 at the Methodist Church for all the players and officials of N. L. L. Dinner will be served from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. All parents and friends and those interested in Little League are cordially invited, and assured that the delicious dinner of Southern Fried chicken will be enjoyed. Other than the players and officials, a charge of 1.50 per plate and $1.00 for children under 8 yrs. of age will be made. In order to know how many guests to prepare for, please notify Mrs. Bonney telephone 3952 or Mrs. Ort 2992M as soon as possible. During the banquet a presentation will be made to all players.

The Little League Baseball season came to a close last week, except for the play-off games to decide the championship. This has been one of the best seasons ever for the Little Leagues.

The splendid cooperation of all those who have worked to promote the fine sport of baseball among the youth, including sponsors, umpires, score-keepers, managers and coaches, contributed to its success. For this and all the assistance given the teams Mr. Coulter Tillet, President of National Little League, wishes to extend his sincere thanks and appreciation.

Players of the Week
Ronnie Kull of the J. C. Hawks was named "Player of the Week" for the National Little League last week. Ronnie is concluding his third year in Little League and has always been a member of the Hawk team. He plays short stop.

Creeds League Champs

OCEANA—The Creeds Indians defeated the Oceana Bulldogs here in Oceana last Tuesday night to clinch the second half of the Ocean County Baseball League and the County Championship. Creeds also won the first half of the league; therefore, making no play-off necessary since the winner of the first half was to play the winner of the second half for the County Championship.

In winning their second baseball championship in as many years, Coach Russell Lee's nine compiled a record of 15 wins and 2 losses. One game with East Ocean View remains to be played; however, the outcome will have no bearing on the League Championship.

playa. Andy has played three years in Little League and is proud to be one of the Piper champions.

lives with his parents at 510-23rd St., Virginia Beach. This fall he will enter the 6th grade at W. T. Cooke school. His ambition is to become a lawyer.

Runner up for the Player of the Week in the National Little League and worthy of mention is Andy Michael, 12 yr. old 2nd baseman for the Pipers. Andy, whose batting average is .412, during the season scored 16 R. B. I's. Also he is responsible for several double though at times he goes in as relief pitcher.

Ronnie, whose coach calls a "hustler" has a batting average of .392, putting him in third place on the Hawk team. During last Thursday's game he scored three hits for, five times at bat. He has seven R. B. I's to his credit for the season. Baseball is his favorite sport, but among his several hobbies, the collection of stamps is the one he likes best.

Final Standings

Cubs	13	5
Sports	9	9
Rotarians	8	10
Tigers	6	12

Games of last week saw the last place Cubs drop their finale to the Tigers by the score of 11-10. Al Mailhes pitched and batted his team to their sixth victory of the season. The Sports failed to solve the three hit pitching of Lauren Potter to drop their last game of their successful season by the close score of 2-0. An error, a double and another single brought in the 2 Rotary runs as Joey Potter pitched a good game for the Sports but suffered his first defeat of the season. Mike Clark's hit in the fifth was the big blow of the contest.

Games played earlier in the week saw the Sports dump the Tigers by the score of 14-4, while the Cubs clinched first place by downing the Rotary 4-4. Billy Williams won his fifth game of the year while Dave Daniels hit for the circuit in this one. Al Mailhes also hit a homer for the Tigers. Steve Standing saw the lead vanish for his Cubs only to have them come from behind to win the big one from the Fighting Rotary. Ted Hansen was the loser but went the entire route and showed that he has the makings of a fine pitcher.

Summary for the season—
This season saw a fine group of boys perform on the Little League diamond at the High School. There were many close and exciting games this season that held the interest of all who attended. The Cubs stood off several bids from the other teams to deprive them of their first place position, but always seemed to come through when the chips were on the table. Bill Wrenn had his Cubs high for the BIG ones. The Sports to many as scrappy a team to hit the Little League here in Virginia Beach. Playing 500 ball the determined Sports were always hustling and came from behind several times to win the close ones. The Cubs lose for play next year the following boys who were instrumental for this year's pennant winner: Bobby Ingram, Steve Standing, Arthur White, Johnny Fuller and Billy Grant. The Sports will miss such good players as Billy Williams the Sports Leading Hitter and winning pitcher; Mike Snow another fine prospect; Dave Danies, Kurt Hansgar, Charlie Ansell and Rickie Tarrell. The Third place Rotarians will lose Lauren Potter their fine pitcher and goodhitter; David Bill their excellent shortstop; Ted Hansen, another fine pitcher; and Bill Pinkham. The Tigers will lose Tommy Dennis, fireball pitcher; Al Mailhes, Tigers steady hitter and another fine pitcher; David Adams and John Arendis.

The Rotarians came to life late in the season to win most of their games. Climbing out of the cellar at the midway point the Rotary was always a threat to all the other teams. The Tigers were always in there scrapping all the time. The breaks didn't seem to come to the Tigers but their hustle and determination was never to be denied. To many this season was one of the best in the annals of little league baseball. The managers had their teams fighting all the time. Roy Doss for the Tigers faced a huge task in his team rounding them into shape and did the job well. Roy's determination will prove his Tigers to be a top contender next season. Tom Larson, the Rotarians manager handled his team with excellent capability. Always having the interest of the boys with him, the Rotarians were always a hustling and fighting organization. Johnny Hill, handling the Sports for his first year, saw his team rise to capture the second spot in the league. The Sports initiative and hustle plus team spirit won them the honored second place title. Bill Wrenn—the Title winning Cub pilot had what it took to lead his team to their first pennant. Using tact with resourcefulness, Bill handled the Cubs very efficiently.

To all those loyal fans and league officials we owe so much, a sincere thank you from us all. The League was very successful and to all the boys that will be leaving this year we say good luck and may your future years be very successful, and to all those that will be with us next season we say, play your best and we'll see you on the high school little league field next year.

Keep Cool With Tinted Glass?

Budget-minded motorists, who may consider a car air-conditioning unit a luxury, can nevertheless invest in some "real cool" driving at a minimum cost.

By ordering tinted glass windshields and windows, the transmission of radiant heat from the sun into the car will be cut in half, according to Dean Engle, chief engineer at Dodge. Tinted glass screens out 65 per cent of the sun's rays. Engle says, allowing only 36 per cent to pass through.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Robert D. Owen, White City, Kansas: I wonder how many old-timers can remember the steam thrasher days, when the old steam engine would pull into a farmer's lot or field pulling a big clumsy separator, followed by a wagon pulled by a team of mules with a half barrel or tank full of water, then a wagon with coal on it.

The thrashing crews were composed of 4 to 5 men, 2 feeders, engine fireman, and water hauler. They would set the separator with the wind and put the straw into a rack or stack it out in the field. The straw was walked by hand. Two men stood on each side of the separator and, as the workers pitched bundles in front of the cutters, they would cut the bands of straw or twine on each bundle. A "feeder" stood on a foot board facing the front of the separator and pushed the grain into the machine. The grain was shaken loose and as the straw passed through the separator, "stackers" would make stacks of it.

Farmers often traded work in thrashing and the women would help in the kitchen, cooking and waiting on tables, brushing flies, and as the straw passed through the separator, "stackers" would brush away the flies while the men ate dinner.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

A Fine Project

Thanks to a group of civic-minded businessmen who are members of the Wednesday morning Breakfast Club here a new project for the youth of this area is underway. It is the establishment of a Boy's Club for Virginia Beach and Princess Anne.

The project has been in the planning stage for almost two years and just this week a steering committee was formed to get the project off the ground.

The group of men who make up the steering committee for this wonderful project have been quick to point out that the idea and thought behind the movement does not belong to any single group or organization. The project is a community-wide one and the only objective is to establish a Boy's Club here so the youngsters of Virginia Beach and Princess Anne may be afforded the opportunities offered by such a club.

A Boy's Club here is not the project of the Wednesday morning Breakfast Club but it was that group that first conceived the idea. After bringing the idea along to its present stage it is hoped that all groups within the area will join in to bring about the establishment of a Boy's Club here.

Such an activity would be a wholesome addition to the life of youngsters in this area. The steering committee for this project should receive the support of all good citizens in this very worthwhile undertaking. We strongly endorse this project.

Rescue Squad Needs Your Support

The Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad is in the midst of its fund drive and as in the case of all organizations and individuals rising costs demand more funds. The Rescue Squad is no exception to this spiraling of costs, although all of its workers and members are volunteers serving without any financial remuneration. However, each man who serves this fine organization feels he is fully repaid by knowing that he is contributing to the welfare of his fellow man.

The Rescue Squad is a wonderful organization and is a busy organization. As an example the local squad answered 79 calls in June and 72 calls in July and they traveled 1,387 miles in June and 954 miles in July.

August is the month set aside by the squad to raise operating funds for the year. We are at the middle of August now and contributions to this most worthy group are lagging. They need your help, somebody you may need their's. Give now to the Virginia Beach-Princess Anne Rescue Squad. An investment in this organization will pay big dividends.

Hail The Fishing Champions

It has always been conceded by those who know that there are abundantly good fishing grounds in the Virginia Beach area but there has never been a great deal of publicity given to the caliber of fisherman we have here. Last weekend, in a repeat performance of a year ago, a group of Virginia Beach fishermen showed the world that we grow champion fishermen here, too. A team made up of Virginia Beach men representing the Tidewater Anglers Club successfully defended its surf casting title at Ocean City, Maryland.

The surf casting team not only won the tournament for the second straight year but also set a new world's record for the event. The team had set the record last year. When the local team won the event last year it marked the first time a southern team of fishermen had captured the title in the 40 year history of the event.

The Sun-News is proud to congratulate the winning surf casting team. They have proven to be real champions in repeating and have brought honor and fame to Virginia Beach and Tidewater Virginia.

Barnes Stars In Grid Game

The second annual East-West high school football spectacular at Foreman Field was another rousing success. An estimated throng of 7,500 saw the East crush the West, 27-6, but the teams were not as unevenly matched as the score indicated.

Among the coaches from some of the country's leading collegiate powers present at the fray was Tom Nugent, head football coach at Florida State University. The object of most of his conversation centered around the person of halfback Tommy Barnes, the local standout who last season sparked Virginia Beach High School to the District 1, Group Two football championship.

Runrunner for the most outstanding player award, Barnes was the East's leading ground gainer with 60 yards. Throughout the night the demon form of this player proved the thorn that the West could not remove.

The success of the game was a tribute to the splendid promotion of the Virginia All-Star Foundation headed by B. M. Stanton. Composed of Virginia Beach civic leaders, the event has gained tremendous prestige in a very short span of time.

The gridiron gladiators provided a brand of football that pleased all these attending the contest. Members of the two squads were presented engraved Bulova watches, a token of the 1957 All-Star game. It was a night of great football played by the cream of Virginia's high school talent.

Ability to save is first wanting to then deciding to - and then saving consistently until the habit is formed. After the habit is formed it is second nature to save.

Gordon H. Turner Club Speaker

Wednesday evening, August 14, 1957, a large crowd of Civitans assembled at the Chamber of Commerce Building at 15th Street and Shore Drive, in East Ocean View, to hear an address by Mr. Gordon H. Turner.

Mr. Turner, a graduate of Memphis State College, also attended the University of Tennessee and Vanderbilt University, and has degrees of B. S. and M. A. from Peabody College.

He was Director of the National Youth Administration and has given over 1000 addresses at High Schools and Colleges. He was Manager of the Nashville, Tennessee, office of the U. S. Department of Commerce, and also a Roving Reporter and Special Representative of the Nashville Tennessee.

He is a member of the American Legion, and has held all offices in the Nashville Civitan Club and is a Past Secretary of Civitan International.

All Civitans in the Tidewater Area, including members of those clubs at Virginia Beach, Portsmouth and Norfolk were invited, and those fortunate enough to get in heard a most wonderful talk.

Mr. J. P. Mills, Jr.,
Traffic and Planning Engineer, Department of Highways,
Richmond 19, Va.
Subject: Traffic Conditions
Route 60 Between Virginia Beach and Port Story.

Dear Mr. Mills:
Thanks for your letter of August 6th. I am glad to learn that your Department conducted studies in July on Route 60 between Virginia Beach City Limits and Port Story. I will welcome a copy of your report when completed.

However, I cannot agree with the statement in the 4th paragraph of your letter when you state North Virginia Beach as an area not thickly settled. Evidently you have not been in the area for a long time. This section is 85% to 90% built up and is thickly populated in the Summer months.

As stated in the 5th paragraph of my letter of July 31st, there are three factors involved in the need for traffic lights in this area, VIZ:

- 1—to help control speeding.
- 2—to protect life and limb of pedestrians crossing the highway.
- 3—to give motorists trying to enter the highway from cross streets a stoppage of traffic.

In your letter, you discuss speeding only. It is my studied opinion that the other 2 factors are just as important and unless you give consideration in your study to all three factors of this traffic problem you will side step the true issue.

I agree that the State and County Police should control speeding but they cannot do so alone and they certainly cannot stop traffic to allow people to cross the highway or allow automobiles to enter the highway.

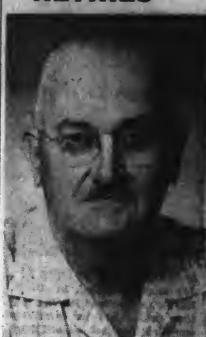

Yours very truly,
C. A. Mowry, President

RETIREES

NATHAN F. WILLIAMS, JR.

Nathan F. Williams, Jr., quartermaster in the Norfolk Naval Supply Center's Provisions Supply Depot, retired on July 31. Mr. Williams' retirement ended more than 35 years of Federal service.

Mr. Williams served in the U.S. Army from December, 1916, to May, 1919. Five months after his discharge from the Army, he entered Civil Service as a clerk in the Accounting Department, Naval Operating Base. He transferred to the Supply Center as a laborer in 1924.

Mr. Williams was promoted to a checker a year later. He then held the positions of assistant storekeeper, storekeeper and senior storekeeper. He attained the rating of leadingman laborer in May, 1944, and quartermaster laborer four years later.

In August, 1952, he was promoted to quartermaster (supply). He attained his quartermaster stockman rating in 1955.

Mr. Williams has both 20-year and 30-year Federal service pins for his long years of government service. He also has a 10-year Accident Free Supervision Award.

Mr. Williams lives at 2610 Baltic Ave., Virginia Beach.

He is a member of the Va. Beach Lions Club and past commander of Virginia Beach American Legion Post No. 113.

Parole Officers Here Faced with Big Work Load

PORTSMOUTH — Probation and parole officers working out of the Portsmouth district office for the Commonwealth of Virginia have a work load far in excess of the figure officially set as the proper load.

This fact was brought to light in the latest report of the Department of Welfare and Institutions.

The report, covering the period from July 1, 1956 to June 30, 1956, ranked Portsmouth third in the state as far as work load per officer is concerned.

Lynchburg was first with 194 cases per officer and Roanoke was second with 131 per officer. Portsmouth, which has four officers, had 121 cases per officer.

A spokesman at the district office said the present work load is the same for the past five years. The report stated that a work load in excess of 90 is considered more than a probation and parole officer can handle. It said the figure as of June 30, 1956, "indicates the serious need for additional probation and parole officers if adequate supervision is to be rendered."

Portsmouth district office takes care of probationers, paroles and parolees in the city, Norfolk County, Princess Anne County, South Norfolk, Isle of Wight County and Virginia Beach.

Norfolk, whose workload was right on the nose at 90 as of June 30, 1956, takes care of Norfolk City.

Figures in the report were completed by taking the average supervision case load and adding the average number of investigations per officer per month. "Cases under supervision and investigations were considered on equivalent basis," the report stated.

Rev. Morgan Accepts Call To Church Here

Rev. Henry G. Morgan has accepted a call to the First Presbyterian Church of Virginia Beach and expects to be in the church by the middle of September. Russell G. Chubb, church elder and chairman of the pulpits committee, announced today.

Morgan presently is associate pastor of the Woods Memorial Presbyterian Church, Severna Park, Maryland. He was ordained in 1956 after graduation from the Princeton, N. J. seminary, where he served three years as student pastor of the United First Presbyterian Church.

A native of Michigan, Rev. Morgan was born in 1919. He attended secondary school in Connecticut and later graduated from Princeton University. After further studies at Princeton, he was awarded a Masters degree. For two years he served on the staff at Virginia Beach, as an instructor in Music. Later, he was assistant professor of Music at the University of Virginia. He was then appointed associate professor and chairman of the Department of Music at Vassar College, where he lived for four years, prior to returning to Princeton in 1963 to study for his theological degree and ordination.

Rev. Morgan, his wife and family of three children will move to the Presbyterian manse at Virginia Beach early next month.

His new church has just commenced construction of a $300,000 sanctuary to seat 550 people at Virginia Beach. It adjoins the present church property at 36th and Pacific Avenue. The First Presbyterian Church is the only Presbyterian Church at the Beach, and has approximately 800 members.

The Princess Anne Planning Commission meeting this past Tuesday was a lively session and plans to build a shopping center astride what now is the main entrance street to Sherry Park subdivision. Spokesmen both for and against the shopping center move argued heatedly for a favorable decision from the commission for more than an hour.

The County Board of Supervisors will have this and other petitions resulting from the public hearing before it next Monday beginning at 10 a.m.

What produced the fight over the shopping center was a request from the Fredrick Realty Corp. to close a portion of Sandra Lane, which leads into Sherry Park from Indian River road. Opponents contend the road should be left open because it carries a substantial volume of traffic and because a rerouting of this traffic would be a hazard to children on other streets. The shopping center developer proposes a new road paralleling the rear of the center and leading between McDonald road and the portion of Sandra Lane that would remain open.

In support of the applicant, it was related that of the 96 homes in the subdivision, owners of 66 of them have signed petitions asking the road be closed.

A delegation of about 30 persons filed out of the Circuit Court room when the commission announced an application for a filling station at 83rd street in North Virginia Beach had been withdrawn, thus another squabble dissolved. A number of other applications for use permits and changes of zoning were largely opposed.

Happy Hours School, Oceana, Va., will start their tenth year September 5, 1957 with a new addition to the school. This will mark the beginning of the third grade. Classes in Kindergarten through the third grade will be ready for the coming year.

Registration for First, Second and Third grade is set for Thursday, August 22nd, 9 - 12 A. M. Children entering the first grade must be six years old on or before January 1, 1958. Birth certificates must be presented for verification of age.

Open House will be observed Tuesday, September 3. All teachers will be present so Parents, children and teachers may become acquainted before the opening date which is Thursday September 5, 9 A. M.

Men in great places are thrice servants - servants of the sovereigns or servants of money, or servants of the people, or servants of the church, or servants of the state, or servants of the world, or servants of the devil. But he that is servant to all is servant to none. — Sir Francis Bacon holds the title of Miss Wisconsin, 1957. Lynn is visiting the area as a promoter for Armour and Company. Mayor Frank Dusch will offer this title to the city this afternoon from 4-6 while she visits the Colonial Store at 310-312 Street. Tonight will find her the guest of the local Rotary Club at their weekly dinner meeting at the high school.

Lynn is a college gal with loads of talent which adds that much more to her already abundant charm. She'll wind up her trip with visits to both Colonial Stores here at the beach from 9 to 12:30 Saturday morning.

Tommy Barnes, a product of the great teams under Fred Innes at Virginia Beach, proved to be the unexpected stellar attraction of last week's Virginia All-Star game held at Foreman Field. It was the outstanding play of this local boy that caught the eye of every collegiate scout who attended.

In the past week, reliable rumor has it that offers from Florida State, Wake Forest, East Carolina, and Elon College have been tossed this youngster's way. The school which finally lands him will land a player who really loves the game.

Jaffe's, the woman's specialty shop, previews the fall fashions for back to school at 8 p.m. tonight. For the interested feminine buyer it appears a real treat.

Alexander-Beeble made mention of a new service for collection of students in the area. (The store plans to drop the fellow's time to visit the store by appointment and go over plans for a coordinated fall wardrobe.

Sammy Kaye drew a record crowd of some 1200 odd heads this past Saturday at the Cavalier Club. The big name is still a great attraction.

Many folk around the town haven't heard the jam session that originate at the Casino Ballroom on Sunday from 2 to 6 p.m. It's free and quite a few of the local musicians in the area take the occasion to sit in.

We bring the column to a close with an epitaph containing a bit of humor for all:

"Last night as he conversed behind the bar, he suddenly vanished without a whisper, into thin air. A few drops of beer fell over the place, and a heavenly choir was heard above the jukebox. As nothing has been heard from him since, we presume that he is dead."

He was a nice fellow, untidy but gentle, loved by all in spite of his insane desire to be loved by all. He believed in magic and ghosts. He did not work as hard as he should have. But in spite of the severity of his critics—his life should be commended for its honesty, simplicity, and clarity. Ah, let's see, what else? Oh yes, he died penniless. No one was especially overjoyed by his death. Pray for him, Amen!"

take part in instructional classes, but basically, they "learn by doing." Several of those who are twenty-one years old are special policemen for the city. In this way, they further assist in policing and keeping the beach in orderly condition.

One of the major problems that confronts the beach workers is that of a lost child. The parents of the lost youth when reporting to the lifeguard for help are near the brink of hysteria. "You can never quite know what this experience is like until it is your own." The services have never lost a child that has been reported missing to them since the operation began. Usually, the child has just wandered up the beach and in a relatively short time, the services trace his whereabouts.

Working for the beach service here at this nationally known resort can be routine, but you'll find this statement shared by all "Where else can you work and enjoy sun, beach, and a bevy of beautiful girls."

guns into place with the help of an M-4 tractor.

Later, they zeroed in their radar-tracking gear which will provide facilities for qualifying firing that will continue at least through this first week of training.

Lt. Gen. Charles E. Hart, USA, commander of the Second Army, was on hand Sunday for the arrival of the first units of the 107th and returned Tuesday for an official visit and to witness part of the morning's gun practice.

Units of the brigade include the 125th AAA Battalion from Alexandria and Fairfax; the 615th AAA Battalion from South Norfolk; the 710th AAA Battalion from Newport News and Hampton; the 418th Battalion from Chatham, Salem, Altavista and Rocky Mount; Brigade Headquarters from Sandston; and the 24th Group from Glen Allen. The brigade is commanded by Brig. Gen. F. Henry Garber, mayor of Richmond.

Sports Feature of Week In County Recreation Program

OCEANA: This week the boys and girls of Princess Anne County Playgrounds have an opportunity to show off their athletic prowess. Sports is the feature of the week's program. Contests will be held in a variety of skills from a number of sports: foul shooting and dribbling from basketball; punting, passing, and catching from football; throw and hit for distance from softball; service from volleyball, and other skills. Team games will be held in a number of sports.

At the conclusion of Sports Week a boy or girl will be chosen as the "Best Sportsman" of the individual playground.

The playground directors reported that Carnival Week was a very successful venture. Selections of Kings and Queens, singing contests, word games, ring toss games, pin the tail on donkey games, costume parades, costume contests, fortune telling, freak shows, and a host of other activities the children were engaged in.

Playground Hi-Lites
Oceana: Fun was had by everyone at the carnival. To start the activities, a king and queen were crowned. These honors went to Patty and Smokey Weaver. Patty was dressed as an angel and Smokey came as "Smokey the Pirate." A singing contest followed with the versatile Lou Breedlove, playground director, accompanying him on his guitar. The winners were Jimmy Heath and Yvonne Brown. Next came a sack race with Joe Harris and Elaine Williams as the winners. — The entire afternoon was highlighted with carnival type games: throwing darts at balloons, tossing bottle caps at a game board, ringing cork bottles, knocking down cans with balls, ring toss, hitting nails in a block of wood, pin the tail on the donkey, and other games. The day was topped off with Joe Harris guessing the exact number of jelly beans in a jar and keeping the same as a prize.

Thalia: The same procedure was repeated and the king was Chris Kelly while the queen was Virginia Kelly. — Winners of the sack race were Ken Neigenfeld and Virginia Kelly. — The singing contest was won by Whit Martin. — George Jensen guessed the number of jelly beans in the jar. — Kempville: The reigning pair were Donnie Miller and Joanne Davis. — Dan Humphries had the silliest looking costume, Joanne Davis had the prettiest looking costume, and Linda Hill had the best looking costume. — One of the top shows was a play "The Old Fashion Girl" produced by Betty Davis and Joanne Smith.

Other attractions were fortune telling, $4.00 question, costume parade, and acrobatic show. — Courthouse: The royalties were King Larry Greene and Queen Valerie Vestal. Prince Tommy Spaulding and Princess Patricia Spaulding, Duke Donnie Lee and Duchess Judy Spaulding. — Martha Kellam had the silliest costume, Kurt and Caroline Reynolds had the most original costume, Bob Venner had the best costume, and Sally Venner had the prettiest costume. — An interesting freak was displayed; a lady with a beard and mustache. Who was she? A female cat. — The winners of a cookie eating contest were Joyce McCleskey, Billy Lee, and Malcolm Blue. Many thanks to Mrs. Dwight Reynolds for making the cookies and helping out at the carnival.

Creeds: The locals were overwhelmed by the visiting team. Courthouse, in a softball game 15-0. — Parents and children are invited to an all day picnic at Murden's Point on August 17th. Parents and children are requested to come to this place directly. Bring your own lunch.

Bayside: Dianne Fincher and James Walsh were crowned queen and king respectively. — A costume parade was marched thru the Diamond Springs area. — Paul Craig furnished part of the afternoon entertainment with selections from his accordion.

Shelton Park: Bill Bradley was selected as King and Cathy Davis was selected as Queen.

Seatack: Lee Anna Kellam was unanimously elected as queen to reign over the festivities during Carnival Week. Allen Shaw and Winifred Phillips were her attendants. — In a word forming contest Preston Watkins, Jr. won 1st prize in forming the most words from the word "vegetables." — The following received prizes in a "guess who game": Allen Humes, Preston Watkins, Jr., Alfred Hargrave, Johnnie Mack Brown, June the Armour, Maria Gordon, and June King.

P. A. Training School: Queen for the carnival festival was Patricia Wilson. — Some excellent things are being created from crepe paper by Patricia Wilson, Cora Jean Wilson, and Margie Wilson.

Seaboard: Shirley Cason was the reigning queen at carnival time. — DeLois Call received an award in a musical game called "Going to Jerusalem." — The Seaboard Recreation Committee donated to the playground tinker toys, coloring books, water colors, pipe cleaners, riddles and guessing games. Mrs. Vashli Hyman is the chair-woman. This committee is affiliated with the Seaboard P. T. A. whose president is Rev. Johnnie Williams of Creeds and the principal of the school is Mrs. Leliah Holoman.

The closing date for all the part-time playgrounds in Princess Anne County is Friday August 23rd.

D. Conrad Little Honor Guest at Dinner Party

D. Conrad Little, C. L. U., of Virginia Beach, General Agent in Norfolk for the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co., was guest of honor Friday night at a testimonial dinner in observance of his 25th anniversary with the company.

Charles J. Zimmerman, C.L.U., President of the Connecticut Mutual, presented Mr. Little with an engraved watch in honor of the occasion. Attending the dinner were 25 members and former associates of the agency and their wives. The dinner was held at the Cavalier Hotel, Virginia Beach.

The affair was actually a double celebration. The Little Agency led the company's entire nationwide campaign in a July sales campaign in honor of the company's retired chairman, Peter M. Frazer.

Mr. Zimmerman paid tribute to all agency members for their part in the agency's success, especially to Charles N. Fuller, C. L. U. and John A. Tucker, both of Virginia Beach, for their individual leadership during the campaign.

The company's President also paid tribute to Mr. Little and the agency organization for their record-breaking volume of new business to date this year. The Little Agency is leading the Connecticut Mutual's field force in increase in new business, with a volume of new life insurance more than triple that of the first seven months last year.

Mr. Little, a graduate of Virginia Military Institute and Harvard Business School, started his life insurance career in 1930 as an agent in Norfolk. He joined the Connecticut Mutual in 1932 as general agent at Richmond, returning to Norfolk in 1939 to establish his present agency.

Active in professional and civic affairs, Mr. Little is co-founder and former president of the Richmond General Agents and Managers Association, and former vice-president of the Richmond Life Underwriters Association. He has also helped the work of many civic and charitable organizations and is one of the organizers of the Virginia Club of Norfolk, the Hampton Roads Sales Executives Club, and is currently Chairman of the Virginia Committee of Ducks Unlimited.

Commonwealth Attorney's Office Codifying County Ordinances; To Be Compiled in Index-Bound Volume

By Mike Katalas

Since January 1, 1956, the office of Commonwealth Attorney has been held here in Princess Anne County by Robert S. Wahab. In this state, it is a position which is comparable to the district attorney's office in other states. The role of Commonwealth's Attorney is a varied busy one.

In all crimes committed against the state and county, he is the prosecuting official. He also represents the county in civil matters and acts in a legal-serving capacity to the Board of Supervisors, county officers and various departments and commissions of the county government in Princess Anne.

Wahab's office is represented at every session of the Princess Anne Court (criminal court), the Circuit Court, and the Virginia Beach Police Court. In preparation for the prosecuting role which the Commonwealth's Attorney plays at these court sessions, many hours are spent doing research for the cases. Research is often a difficult phase of the work—"No two cases are alike, they all have different aspects," said Wahab.

ROBERT S. WAHAB

In properly handling the duties of his office, Wahab has three key co-workers. J. Peter Holland, III serves as the assistant Commonwealth's Attorney. Garnett C. Riley, a former Princess Anne county police officer, is the special investigator for the office. The Attorney's secretary is Mrs. Mary D. Murray, who handles the large volume of paper work which comes to the office.

At the present time, Wahab and his staff are busy at work in the process of codifying the county ordinances. They will be compiled in index-bound volume form upon completion. It's another step being taken by the county government of Princess Anne to continue its theme of efficient operation for the public it serves.

Wahab stressed the need for an enlightened approach to the problem of juvenile delinquency. "It's just as important to prevent crimes as it is to prosecute them," said the Commonwealth's Attorney. "If only people will realize this significant factor and work toward a rewarding end, this is one problem that can greatly be lessened."

The county of Princess Anne can take pride in a decreasing record which shows the figures reduced from 481 delinquencies to 381 ending on June 30, 1957 fiscal year.

This is in direct opposition to the national trend which shows a definite increase throughout the country during the past year.

During the past year, Wahab has made numerous talks concerning this problem in order to keep it firmly before the public eye. "Through competent leadership by the parents and educators of our county, juvenile delinquency can be put to its lowest minimum."

Another fact which most of the public knows little about is that this office has prosecuted to completion more criminal matters than any other Virginia county in the past year! There are many other counties in the state which are composed of much larger staffs with which to handle their work. The total figures showed the completion of 426 cases. Concerning felony cases, 90.7% convictions were returned.

This is a record which bears out the activity of the office. In comparison, the county of Arlington, which is the largest in the Commonwealth of Virginia, completed only 325 cases during the same period of time.

The duties and problems of the Commonwealth's Attorney and his staff are linked to the protection of the Commonwealth of Virginia and its people. Robert S. Wahab has two more years in his present term in this position. They will no doubt grow in activity and scope. If another record of accomplishments can be completed to compare with this past year, the Commonwealth's Attorney will have been a busy man.

Founder, Director of Blind Artists' Concerts to Appear in Program

Luigi Boccelli, founder and director of Blind Artists' Concerts, who is a dramatic tenor and known as the Blind Caruso, will be featured as one of the soloists in the first concert given by this group at the Community House, 18th St. and Arctic Ave., Virginia Beach, Thursday evening, August 15, 1957 at 8:15 p.m.

Mr. Boccelli, who was born in Philadelphia, Pa., of Italian parentage, lost his sight very early in life due to illness. He entered Overbrook School for the Blind in the city of his birth, where he showed a keen interest in voice. Upon leaving Overbrook, he continued his vocal studies with the late David Bispham, and Frank LaForge.

While directing a church choir in New Jersey, he married, and now has two sons who are both fully sighted; one of whom is business manager for the organization.

Upon completing a coast-to-coast tour around 1932, Mr. Boccelli felt that there were any number of talented blind musicians who, if they had the chances he had been given, could have been in their fields, where he was. Accordingly he set out to do something about it, and in 1933, the Blind Artists' Concerts was the result with their first concert in Lansdowne, Pa., near their home base.

Although this is the first concert in Virginia Beach, it is not the first in Virginia, for approximately 15 years ago, Mr. Boccelli & Co. were brought to Newport News by their local Lions Club. In March of this year, they were returned to Virginia; this time to Winchester for their Lions Club.

Other artists include Gerald McCurny; violins; and Catherine Jaco, soprano. Miss D. raco also tries her hand at composing and only recently, has had one of her songs submitted for inspection by the well-known orchestra leader, Jan Garber.

All blind in the area, accompanied by their guide, or not, are cordially invited as guests of Blind Artists' Concerts.

The Blind Artists' Concerts has no connection with any organization working with or for the blind, but will gladly work with them or any other worthy organization to raise funds.

LUIGI BOCCELLI

FORT STORY TELLINGS

GENERAL GINDER VISITS STORY

The Deputy Chief of Staff for Reserve Components, US Army, was a Fort Story visitor last week. Maj. Gen. P. D. Ginder, commanding officer of the 274th Terminal Command "C", USAR, of Cincinnati, Ohio.

General Ginder was honored with a luncheon at the Fort Story

Officer's Club, where he conferred with Col. George E. Woods Jr., Fort Story's commanding officer, Colonel Karger, and their staffs. An orientation on the Landing Craft Retriever and the BARC concluded the general's initial visit to this Transportation Corps post. Colonel Karger's unit completed two weeks of Active Duty Training here Saturday.

CEREMONIAL PARADE

Maj. Gen. Rush B. Lincoln Jr. is scheduled to review more than 500 United States Army Reservists Friday at a ceremonial parade on the Fort Story parade ground.

The Commanding General of the US Army Transportation Training Command will witness the USAR troops at the conclusion of their two weeks Active Duty Training here. The Reservists, from 11 units from Massachusetts, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Florida, have been undergoing extensive MOS training since their arrival here on the fourth of August.

A final increment of USAR units is slated to arrive at Fort Story on Saturday. The six-unit encampment will be the last of six two-week sessions that saw nearly 2,000 Reservists train at Fort Story this summer. The senior unit for the last encampment is the 462nd Terminal Battalion of Trenton, N. J. The other units hail from Maine, Massachusetts, Florida, Ohio, and Richmond, Va.

ALLIED OFFICERS

The Deputy Chief of Transportation of the Republic of Korea Army and two other high ranking Korean officers will tour Fort Story this week.

Col. Am Dong Yeup, Deputy Chief of Transportation; Col. Oh Chai, Executive Officer of the Transportation Corps Section, First Korean Army are scheduled to arrive Wednesday morning on an orientation training visit. They will visit with Col. George E. Woods Jr., Fort Story's commanding officer, and witness demonstrations of advanced amphibious equipment. Their escort officer will be Maj. Irving Rosenfeld.

Last week Maj. Gen. Chen Chih, and Colonel Wen, Tzen-Wan of Taiwan spent a day observing amphibious operations here. They were escorted by Maj. Michael Roma. During their stay they visited the headquarters of the 10th and 14th Battalions, and reviewed the Fort Story honor guard.

AWARDS

Sixty-three civilians at Fort Story were honored this week, in brief ceremonies about the post, and presented with Certificates noting 10 years of "Honorable and Faithful Service" in the Federal government.

Two employees of the Logistics Division were presented certificates by Chief Warrant Officer Arthur F. Goodwin. First Lt. Alexander W. Zernan presented two awards to Signal personnel. Two awards were presented by Lt. Col. Norman A. Turnbull, to personnel of the Commissary division. Maj. Joseph J. Carfagno, of the Consolidated Supply Division, presented six certificates to members of his organization, and 29 certificates were presented by Capt. Richard W. Bricks to members of the Post Engineers Division. Nineteen awards were also presented by Maj. B. W. Williams, Post Ordnance, to members of that organization.

COLOR GUARD

The Fort Story Color Guard, commanded by Lt. Odie Bowles, participated in half-time ceremonies in last Saturday night's East-West All-Star game at Norfolk's Foreman Field. The 27-man group of picked soldiers joined the 384th Army Band from Fort Eustis in providing a martial air for the occasion.

The East team, which had been quartered at Fort Story last week while working out for the contest, had a solid cheering section of Fort Story rooters behind them during the game. Fort Story unofficially "adopted" the Easterners, while the West team, which had been quartered at Oceana Naval Air Station, had a Navy cheering section.

SCOUTING

The Scouting movement came to Fort Story with a bang last weekend, as members of two area Boy Scout troops joined the Norfolk Cub Scouts in enjoying the facilities of the post.

The Cubs and their parents were on post Sunday for the annual Ski-Co-Ak Cubmobile Derby while 30 Boy Scouts and their fathers from Troop 45, Fort Eustis, and members of Troop 117 of Norfolk participated in overnight encampments.

It was the annual Father and Son hike for the Eustis troop, under the direction of their Scoutmaster Mike Clark. The visitors enjoyed rides on DUKW amphibious trucks, and took advantage of the Fort Story beaches for swimming.

The Norfolk troop, which is sponsored by the Jerusalem Baptist Church, camped out in one of Fort Story's bivouac areas.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES

Auto Accidents Caused by Insured Motorists

NEW YORK—Automobile accidents caused by insured motorists cost insurance companies more than the earned premiums for automobile liability insurance during 1956, resulting in a large underwriting loss for the companies writing this form of insurance, it was announced today by William Leslie, general manager of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters.

The estimated gap by which the earned premiums were insufficient to meet costs and expenses of claims incurred by insured motorists was based on actual country-wide underwriting data of National Bureau member companies writing automobile liability insurance, Mr. Leslie said. He pointed out that the National Bureau has a membership of 122 stock companies. The data for these companies showed that for bodily injury and property damage combined, claim costs and expenses averaged $108 for every $100 of premiums earned, resulting in an underwriting loss of 8 for every $100 of premiums earned, he said.

"The difference by which the costs and expenses of claims incurred by insured motorists exceeded the earned premiums explains why these stock companies suffered automobile liability insurance underwriting losses of more than $64,000,000 in 1956," Mr. Leslie stated. "Other stock companies and mutual companies also suffered underwriting losses on automobile liability insurance during 1956."

"The insufficiency of premiums earned by the companies to meet the costs and expenses of claims incurred by insured cars also explains why automobile liability insurance rates in many states have been revised upward this year."

"The most recent experience data indicated clearly the need for substantial rate increases throughout the United States generally. Since January 1, 1957, rates for private passenger cars, which constitute the bulk of the automobile liability insurance business, were revised in 38 states. In 24 of these states the revisions resulted in statewide average rate increases. Rate revisions will be proposed in the remaining states."

"Rate changes vary from state to state, and from territory to territory within the state, according to the automobile accident claim cost records run up by the drivers of insured cars named in the particular state and with the particular territories within the states. It is hoped that the rate revisions will produce sufficient premiums from insured motorists to meet the costs and expenses of their accident claims and allow a reasonable profit on insurance company operations."

Like almost everything else, automobile liability insurance has been caught in the inflationary spiral and that is one reason why the rates are moving upward, the National Bureau's general manager said.

When a motorist takes out an automobile liability insurance policy, he pointed out, the insurance company assumes the responsibility for meeting, within the limits and coverage of the policy, claim costs for the bodily injury and the property damage for which the motorist becomes liable.

On the average, the insurance companies have been paying out more money each year to meet claims for the deaths, bodily injuries and property damage caused by insured motorists, according to Mr. Leslie.

"The average paid claim cost for bodily injury in 1956 was 116 percent higher than in 1941, and for property damage it was 239 percent higher," Mr. Leslie stated. "Automobile liability insurance rates on the other hand, have not risen anywhere near those figures. Average countrywide rates for bodily injury and property damage combined have risen only about 80 percent from 1941 to the close of 1956 while consumers' prices, as measured by the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics index, have soared up about 97 percent during the same period."

"In view of the increases in hospital rates, doctors' fees, medical expenses and the larger court and jury verdicts rendered in liability cases, it is not surprising that the average cost of bodily injury claims has gone up so substantially. In some instances, the cost of hospital care has risen to more than 3 times the prewar figure. A study in one leading state showed that the average verdict for the plaintiff in liability suits increased to almost three times the 1940 figure. Court and jury awards have followed an upward trend in other jurisdictions, these are all factors which raise the claim costs to the insurance companies for bodily injuries caused by their automobile liability insurance policyholders."

"Just as inflation has had the effect of increasing claim costs for bodily injury, it has also been a primary factor in raising claim costs for property damage. The average factory sale price of passenger automobiles — which figure largely in property damage claims — has increased 174 percent. Automobile repair costs — parts and labor — have jumped more than 150 percent. The wrap-around glass windshields of late model cars cost about $200 as compared with about $25 for the simpler windshields on the earlier cars. Certainly the rear fins with multiple light units, the elaborate chrome grill work, and other innovations on the latest car models have also helped to make repairs and replacements more costly. In turn, the insurance companies have to pay these higher repair and replacement bills when their policyholders are liable for the damage."

"Furthermore, when insured cars crash into stores, homes, business or industrial installations, the costs of repairs and other claims for damages to property often run into big figures, and they mean much higher bills for the insurance companies to pay today as compared with the past when prices and costs were much lower."

In order to give a more complete picture of today's automobile liability insurance rate situation it is necessary, Mr. Leslie said, to point out that in addition to increased claim costs for both bodily injury and property damage, there is a mounting claim frequency, that is, an increase in the number of claims per 100 insured cars. Thus the insurance companies are confronted with continually rising factors: more claims and higher costs of settling those claims, he pointed out.

Mrs. R. G. Boatwright saves time and travel expense by calling an out-of-town friend. The more she uses her telephone, she finds, the more valuable it becomes.

Busy Virginia wife's phone saves $70 in travel costs, also many hours in 2 weeks

Mrs. R. G. Boatwright, of Coeburn, Virginia, is active in civic and church work. She's been a telephone company customer for 30 years. But it wasn't until she kept a record of her incoming and outgoing phone calls for two weeks that she realized how many hours and dollars it saved her and her family.

During those two weeks, Mrs. Boatwright estimated that the telephone saved her at least $70 in transportation costs and approximately 130 hours. Her telephone made it possible to take part in many club and community projects with a minimum number of time-consuming personal trips by car.

You'll find, if you keep track of your calls, that your telephone probably saves you more time and trouble, money and miles, than you think.

And how much more pleasant and easy your telephone makes modern living!

Frosty Raspberry Treat

Enjoy the wonderful flavor of fresh raspberries in this delightful dessert which is a unique combination of chilled vanilla pudding and whipped raspberry-flavored gelatin. Together they make a light and flavorful summer pie or parfait dessert—ideal for warm weather entertaining.

Raspberry Frost Pie
1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix 1 cup hot water
2 cups milk 1/2 cup cold water
1 package raspberry-flavored gelatin 1 pint fresh raspberries, crushed and sweetened
2 baked 8-inch pie shells*

Combine pudding mix and milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Pour into a bowl. (To avoid surface film, place waxed paper directly on surface of hot pudding.) Chill.

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Set bowl of chilled gelatin in a larger bowl partly filled with ice and water. (Be sure it rests firmly in larger bowl.) Whip gelatin with rotary beater until fluffy and thick like whipped cream. Add the chilled pudding gradually to the fluffy gelatin, beating after each addition until well blended. Fold in raspberries. Pour into pie shells. Chill until firm (about 1 hour). Before serving, garnish with whipped cream and whole raspberries, if desired.

*If desired fill one 8-inch pie shell and pour the remainder of the filling in parfait or sherbet glasses and chill until firm. Before serving, garnish with whipped cream. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

That maybe you'd be entertaining friends and relatives too during the summer season and these dessert suggestions would help you when planning your menus.

Everyone loves to visit at the Beach and your guests will be mighty happy if you serve them a luscious dessert or two.

The American Institute of Baking sent me these proven dessert recipes and I just know you'll enjoy making and serving these goodies as much as I have.

SERVE DESSERTS — PRETTY, FANCY, BUT EASY

Desserts are more than just a food, the eating often is second to the enjoyment of admiring their beauty — the dramatic finish to the meal. To make a pretty dessert, even one a bit fancy, no longer overwhelms a homemaker now that the market offers a number of ready-to-use bakery foods. For pretty, easy desserts, there are sponge cake shells, lady fingers, pound cake, angel food cake and orange chiffon cake. Bakers' frosted white or yellow layer cake also can be the basis for gourmet desserts. This issue of Proven Recipes features each one of these convenience foods.

It's only a step or two from cake to a glamour dessert when you select Apricot Almond Hearts. Here apricot nectar is stirred into instant vanilla pudding to be spooned into sponge cake shells and topped with slivered almonds and apricots, the whole topped with a fluff of meringue to be lightly browned in the oven. For party fare PINEAPPLE AMBROSIA, made with lady fingers, is suggested. For a taste thrill there is a PINEAPPLE-RASPBERRY-RUM CAKE — a frosted yellow or white layer cake topped with pineapple rum sauce and fruit.

For the dessert party, ALASKAN CHIFFON CAKE, a bake Alaska that begins with orange chiffon cake. TUTTI FRUTTI ANGEL CAKE is destined for special occasions and SHERRY ALMOND CAKE PUDDING makes the meal a party any day.

DESSERTS

Apricot Almond Hearts

1 package instant vanilla pudding
1 cup apricot nectar
6 sponge cake shells
1/2 cup slivered almonds
6 peeled apricot halves
6 egg whites
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
Combine instant pudding and apricot nectar and beat with a rotary beater for one minute, or until blended. Allow to stand for 5 minutes to set. Spread pudding mixture in cake shells and top each shell with 2 teaspoons of the almonds. Place an apricot half on top of nuts in each shell. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Blend in sugar and almond extract. Continue beating until meringue stands in peaks. Spread meringue over top and sides of cake shells in a heart-shaped pattern. Place on a cookie sheet and bake in a hot oven (450° F.) for 5 minutes. Yield: 6 Apricot Almond Hearts

Pineapple Ambrosia

12 lady fingers
1/2 pint heavy cream
1/2 cup milk
1 package instant vanilla pudding
1/2 cup orange juice
1 cup well-drained crushed pineapple
1/2 cup shredded coconut
Arrange 6 lady fingers in the bottom of a buttered (1 1/4-quart) loaf baking dish. Whip cream. Put milk into medium-sized bowl. Add pudding to milk and beat until smooth and thick, using a rotary beater. Gradually add orange juice and beat until smooth. Fold in whipped cream, pineapple and coconut. Pour over lady fingers in baking dish. Top with remaining 6 lady fingers. Yield: 6 servings

Pineapple-Raspberry Rum Cake

1 (8- or 9-inch) baker's frosted yellow or white layer cake
1 (No. 2) can sliced pineapple
3/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup rum
1 (16-ounce) package frozen raspberries, thawed and drained
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Slice cake into 10 wedges. Combine pineapple, sugar and 1/4 cup rum in a large skillet. Bring to a boil. Cook for 10 minutes, turning pineapple slices over after 5 minutes. To serve: Place a pineapple slice on each cake wedge. Fill center of each cake with a few drained raspberries. Add raspberry and lemon juice and remaining rum to pineapple mixture. Ladle sirup over each serving. Yield: 10 servings

Alaskan Chiffon Cake

1 (1-pound) orange chiffon cake
1 pint vanilla-ice cream, solidly frozen
1 pint butter pecan, black walnut or pistachio ice cream, solidly frozen
5 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
Slice chiffon cake horizontally into 3 equal-sized layers. Cut each pint of ice cream lengthwise into 5 slices. Place slices of vanilla ice cream between bottom two layers of cake and butter pecan ice cream between top two layers. Trim off edges of ice cream to follow shape of the cake and use trimmings to fill in any spaces between slices of ice cream. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Set in freezer while preparing meringue. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Blend in sugar and vanilla extract. Continue beating until meringue stands in peaks and is well-blended. Frost top and sides of cake with meringue, making sure that the entire surface is well-covered and that meringue touches the baking sheet all around. Return to freezer, unwrapped, and store at 0° F. until ready to use, or bake at once. Bake in hot oven (450° F.) until delicately browned, about 5 minutes. Serve immediately. Yield: 12 servings

Tutti-Frutti Angel Cake

1 package instant vanilla pudding
1 cup milk
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1/2 cup drained, crushed pineapple
1/4 cup chopped maraschino cherries
1/4 cup diced orange
1 (8-ounce) baker's angel food cake
1/2 cup toasted shredded coconut
Add pudding to milk and beat until smooth and thick, using a rotary beater. Fold in whipped cream. To 1/2 cup pudding-cream mixture, add pineapple; to a second 1/2 cup, add the cherries and to a third 1/2 cup, add the orange. Slice cake horizontally into four equal-sized layers. Spread the pineapple filling on the bottom slice, the cherry filling between the second and third layer; the orange filling between the third and fourth layer. Place the fourth

Some Rules for Those Who Don't Have Hay Fever

"He's sensitive!" That's another way of beginning a late summer story that usually starts, "achoo-o-oo!"

Yes, it's hay fever time again and one person out of every 25 in the United States is sensitive to ragweed pollen and will suffer to some degree from August through October — depending on what part of the country he inhabits.

This year approximately 150,000 new cases of hay fever will occur in the United States. Although the disturbance has been the butt of jokes ever since it was named "hay fever" more than a century ago, it isn't a laughing matter. He who laughs at it may live to try to sneeze it off.

Here are some good rules for those who do not have hay fever. These suggestions have been compiled by researchers for the Murine Company and are intended to help alleviate unnecessary suffering and misery on the part of hay feverites.

1. Don't go out of your way to avoid the victim. His disease is not contagious.

2. Sympathize with him. He is like anyone else who is very ill—he will like sympathy.

3. Don't make fun of his ailment. He may be sensitive in more ways than one. The symptoms of hay fever are extremely distressing to the patient and often the itching eyes and nose almost unbearable.

4. Don't stare at the victim if he goes into a paroxysm of sneezing which may occur 14 or 15 times in a space of 30 seconds.

5. Don't make any sarcastic comments about his red nose or red eyes or the fact that he may have to stop at any moment to use his eye drops or take a pill for relief.

6. It's perfectly all right to recommend various harmless, but effective aids that you've heard about for hay fever—that your friend or relative may have used. Chances are, unless it's a new case, the patient has already tried them. But he will appreciate your sympathy and helpful attitude.

7. Be sure to say, in very severe cases of hay fever—especially in new cases — "You must go and see your doctor." The doctor can not only prescribe something for relief but in many cases can effect a cure over a period of time.

For hay fever sufferers: Where do you live? Murine researchers report that many studies indicate the great Midwest produces the largest crop of ragweed, the most common source of the pollen that causes hay fever. Although ragweed occurs from lower New England through much of the South and spreads west to the Rockies, the great ragweed-growing area is the Midwest.

If you want to leave town for three or four weeks during the worst of the season, the best spots for relief are Northern Maine, Michigan's upper peninsula—especially near Sault Ste. Marie and on the Keweenaw peninsula—upper Minnesota, upper Wisconsin, Florida and the Rockies westward. Much of Canada, of course, also affords relief.

SCANNING THE NEWS

IS Congress losing control of the Government's purse strings? When appointed officials, such as the Postmaster General and the Chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission can thumb their noses at the power of the Congress, which has the sole authority under the constitution to appropriate the taxpayers' money, and get away with it with the approval in advance of the president of the United States, it looks very much like the Congressional control is slipping.

Mr. Arthur E. Summerfield, the Postmaster General, flouted both the budget law and the anti-deficiency law, and forced Congress to its knees to get an additional $41 millions dollars to run his department until the end of the fiscal year June 30, 1957. And President Eisenhower told his press conference, he had approved the action.

Here's what happened. Last year at budget time, Summerfield came before the appropriations committee and asked for $2,118,000,000 to run his department during the fiscal year 1957 ending June 30.

Congress gave him over $3 billion. Under the budget Act this money is allocated by quarters, and it is the duty of the Executive official to spend it that way. But Summerfield borrowed from the second quarter for his first quarter and so through the year. When he saw he would not have enough money left to run out the fourth quarter, he went to Percival Brundage, director of the Budget, for deficiency estimates to bail him out. Brundage time and again told him he could have to live with the money Congress gave him. Finally, however, with the President's approval, Brundage yielded and sent a deficiency estimate of $47 million to the House although Summerfield still had more than a half billion dollars of his original appropriation.

Congress balked. Summerfield told them he would shut down the postal service, and did on Friday night April 12, discontinued mail service on Saturday April 13, along with some other functions, for the first time in the history of the nation. Not to have Summerfield, but for the protection of the taxpayers and the mail users and particularly for business dependent for its very life on mail service, Congress rushed through an appropriation bill giving Summerfield $41 of the $47 million he had demanded.

Congressman Clarence Cannon, chairman of the up-to-now powerful appropriations committee tells it this way: "No one can deny that the Postmaster General knew all along that he was overstepping and his continued support of extravagant programs was every month making a deficiency imperative and inescapable. His continued application to the Bureau of the Budget for a deficiency estimate is proof positive of that. The Postmaster's violation has been deliberate. He knew last July that he didn't have enough money to go through the year at the rate at which he wanted to operate. He could have cut down a slight amount then, spread the reduction over the entire year and come out within the money given him."

Much has been made of the fact that Summerfield paid millions of dollars into the treasury. The law requires that every nickel taken in by any department of government must go directly into the general treasury. From there it is allocated by Congress for the expenses of running the departments.

Governor Stanley Backs Lifting of Driving Permit

RICHMOND, Va. — Governor Thomas B. Stanley today warned Virginia drivers that the constant and unintermittent higher standard in the state demands the employment of stringent curbing methods and that such will be placed in effect if early improvement is not noted.

Stating that Virginia drivers apparently fail to realize that their licenses are not demandable rights but revocable privileges, Governor Stanley said, "I believe license suspensions and revocations to be one of the strongest practical deterrents to careless and reckless driving" and cited Division of Motor Vehicle statistics which showed that, during the past fiscal year, 25,057 licenses were revoked under the mandatory statutes for moving violations alone, in addition to those taken under prerogatives of judges. In addition, there are nearly 140,000 people in the Commonwealth today with one conviction of speeding or reckless driving who will lose their licenses if convicted again for a similar violation occurring within 12 months of the first.

"License suspension," he continued, "offers the means of placing the unsafe driver into a type of quarantine until he is fit to take the wheel again, but apparently too many drivers are escaping this until it is too late." He added further that the fact that one of every seven drivers in Virginia is convicted each year for a moving violation demonstrates an utter lack of cooperation and voluntary compliance which are so desirable. Despite this forceful action, he said, the death toll continues to mount.

Stressing that all possible was being accomplished on the official level to back the program, the Governor stated that the Division of Motor Vehicles constantly scrutinizes its conviction records to make certain that no second offender escapes and that twice a month it publishes a list, broken down by localities, of all persons who have lost their licenses, in order that local authorities might keep themselves informed. "The Code of Virginia provides strict penalties for those who are apprehended driving under revoked or suspended licenses," he said, "and there is no authority in Virginia which can reduce or waive any revocation under the mandatory provisions."

Noting that the sole purpose of traffic laws is to ensure the safety of people using streets and highways, the Chief Executive advised that he was seriously considering instructing the State Police to employ unidentifiable patrol cars, using various colors and out-of-state license plates. "If our people refuse to cooperate and wilfully ignore the safety of the public, as well as their own, we are compelled to employ drastic action to bring about compliance."

Coast Guard Holding Search, Rescue Seminars

Search and rescue seminars are being held at each of the eight Group Offices in the Fifth Coast Guard District between August 13 and 23.

All available Coast Guard officers and duty petty officers from group commands, vessels, lifeboat stations, and light attendant stations will attend the full day session scheduled for their respective groups.

Rear Adm. H. C. Moore, Commander of the Fifth District, has designated Capt. G. R. Evans, Chief of the District Search and Rescue Section to conduct the seminars at the Norfolk, Baltimore, and Elizabeth City Groups. At the Wilmington Group, LCDR L. E. Price, Senior Controller of the Coast Guard Rescue Coordination Center in Norfolk, will represent the District Commander. The remaining groups—Chincoteague, Virginia Beach, Cape Hatteras, and Fort Mcon—will also be covered by a Norfolk Controller, Chief Boatwain K. T. Outten.

The items on the agenda among others, include discussion of the National and Norfolk Search and Rescue Plans, emergency procedures, communications plans, handling of medical cases, reckless motorboat operation cases, fire-fighting instructions, and execution of hurricane plans.

The seminar schedule follows: Chincoteague on August 13, Baltimore on August 14, Norfolk on August 15, Virginia Beach on August 16, Elizabeth City on August 19, Cape Hatteras on August 20, Fort Mcon on August 22 and Wilmington on August 23.

AWAY FROM IT ALL
"Would you like to be able to go to a retreat like this when you are worried—a place where you could be alone with your thoughts—a place where you could untangle your problems?
If you would, then you are like most people.
Everyone needs a retreat, at moments. And everyone has one! It isn't a mountain cabin or a seaside cottage—but it is a place far better suited to prayer and contemplation, a place to sort out old errors and make new resolutions. It is your church.
Let your church be your sanctuary. Go to it when you are troubled. You will find within its walls your moment of peace, and you will walk out into the street again far better able to make the most of your life."

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor in the building of a democracy and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values.
Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) children's sake. (2) For his own sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

State Urges Expansion of County Jail

State inspectors have recommended expansion of the Princess Anne County jail and renewal or repair of its drainage system.

"There is much need for additional space, and it should be built," said a report from Rice M. Youell, director of the Division of Corrections, State Department of Welfare and Institutions.

"The drainage system should be renewed or repaired to serve efficiently and stop the flow of sour, fetid waste water into the open where it may be a menace to the health of the community."

The report was presented yesterday to the Princess Anne Board of Supervisors. They accepted it without comment.

Septic Tank Overflow

At the rear of the jail, said the report, inspectors observed the septic tank overflowing "and waste water from it seeping into the ground for a considerable area around it."

Sheriff John E. Marr, the report continued, reported he had attempted from time to time to get this condition corrected "and that he had tried to enlist the aid of the local health department in getting this done, but had so far been unsuccessful."

Health Danger

The State Health Department, the inspectors said, will be requested to determine if the present condition of the septic tank is dangerous to public health.

"This information thus obtained is to be used by this department to help decide if this jail should be closed."

Another problem reported on the part of prisoners also was reported by Youell, who said the jail's equipment was "adequate and in very good condition."

In support of the need for expansion, the report observed that on the day of the inspection, July 16, four Negro women were confined in a room 8 by 10 feet, "originally planned as isolation space for one person."

Scanning... THE BEACH By MIKE KATSIAS

The last few days have been what you might call the "confused period" for many of the younger set in the realm of Princess Anne. This is the time of year when those returning to school realize that the first day is just around the corner! Mom and Dad think about new fall clothes and other countless purchases they must make.

During the school year, I attend East Carolina College which is located in Greenville, North Carolina. The growth of this phenomenal college is astonishing! After the enrollment period is at and, the administration believes the college community will possess a student population of at least 4,200. Quite a few students from this area are matriculating to East Carolina, among them are Keith Wilder, Percy Turner, Becky Edwards, Bill Meschum, Dan Godfrey, Jimmy Meads, Charles Gregg, and Charles Dant.

A recent guest staying at one of the beach's hotels, who was known as a generous tipper, found a brand new waiter serving him one morning. "Where's my regular waiter, Chuck?" he demanded. "Boss," replied his beaming servant, "Chuck ain't 'y' regular waiter no mo'. I won you from him in a crap game last night."

Here's another giggle which is ageless: Barbara Anne, a freshman at Wellesley, came home to her tiny home town for Christmas, and hastened to tell her father who was waiting at the station to bundle her into the family station wagon. "Pa, there's something wrong. 'Chuck ain't 'y' regular waiter no mo'. I won you from him in a crap game last night."

Continuing the summer-long process of mentioning the entertainment spots of this ocean resort, we begin with the mention of Sol Abramson's Beach Lounge. This experienced food merchant who used to be food supervisor in one of Cuba's largest hotels features nightly combo music for the entertainment of the patrons. A. GORDON STEPHENSON

Stephenson to Head Children's Society Drive

A. Gordon Stephenson, a well known native of Norfolk and a resident of Virginia Beach has accepted the General Chairmanship of the Children's Home Society of Virginia for Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach.

This Society is the largest adoption agency in the Commonwealth and celebrates 50 years of social service to children this year. Their thorough screening and handling of the children and the adoptive parents results in successful adoptions in 98 percent of their efforts, which is a very high percentage in this work. Their main office is in Richmond with branches in Roanoke and Alexandria.

Mr. Stephenson has spent 30 years in the real estate business as "broker" and "owner-developer" vice president of the Norfolk and Portsmouth Real Estate Board. During World War II he was a diplomatic courier for the United States Department of State and was stationed in Europe.

The Children's Home Society is fortunate to have Mr. Stephenson

COUNCIL ADOPTS ZONING PLAN

Princess Anne Parking Law Is Enacted

Princess Anne County's first parking ordinance was enacted without opposition Monday. It became effective in 30 days.

The board of supervisors unanimously adopted the eight-part ordinance proposal, which drew no opposing moves from the public.

It authorizes the chief of police to establish "no parking" areas or zones designated by signs or painted words on the roadway or curb.

It further provides that vehicles shall not be parked in front of private or public driveways within 15 feet of fire hydrants or entrances to fire stations, within 15 feet of intersections or within the limits of pedestrian crosswalks.

Officers are authorized to place tickets on vehicles violating the parking regulations.

Owners of "tagged" vehicles may report to the County Court within 48 hours and pay $2 for each violation.

In the alternative, owners may elect to appear for trial in the County Court.

Failure to pay within 48 hours and to appear for trial makes the owner liable for a warrant for his arrest, and for payment of court costs.

Crab Racing in Recreation Program

This group of youngsters is shown enjoying an old style crab race. The crab race was a part of the program as the Virginia Beach Recreation program completed ten weeks of summer activity last week.

Playground Field Event Huge Success

The 10th week of the Virginia Beach Summer Recreation Program was highlighted by field events which were held at the Virginia Beach High School play area. Approximately 200 children and their parents attended the events.

Winners of the following events were: Basketball Throw, 6 to 8 Age group, William Barkley and Becky McCoy, 9 to 12, Lynn Wolcott and Robert Brady, 13 and up, Kermit James and Connie Tillet.

Crab Race, 4 to 6, Moe Wolcott, 9 to 12, Billy Pinkham, 13 and up, Kenneth Morris.

Posture Race, 6 to 8, John Milner, 9 to 12, Keith Ryan, 13 and up, George Alcorn.

Bunny Hop Race, 6 to 8, Moe Wolcott, 9 to 12, Ernest Armstrong, 13 and up, Bill Russell.

Bubble Gum Blowing Contest, 6 to 8, Jean Pinkham, 9 to 12, Norri, 13 and up, Ginny Woodward.

PACIFIC AVENUE PLAN EXPECTED TO BE APPROVED

Monday the Virginia Beach City Council approved a master plan for the resort and proposed a solution to the controversy surrounding the Pacific avenue improvement project.

Driven from the council chambers by rain, which soaked the hall and forced a meeting in the Community House, the council passed three resolutions proposed by Councilman Frank D. Tarral on the Pacific avenue matter.

One of these resolutions will ask the State Highway Commission and the federal government to allow both Atlantic avenue and the improved Pacific avenue to remain two-way streets. Originally, the plan called for Atlantic to be one way south-bound and Pacific, north-bound. Resort merchants feared that this would make parts of Atlantic avenue partially inaccessible.

A second resolution asks that Highway 60, now beginning on Atlantic avenue, be shifted to Pacific avenue, and that Atlantic avenue be named an alternate of this route. This resolution calls for restricted parking privileges on Pacific avenue from 17th street to 25th street.

The third resolution was that equal entrance to the proposed improvement be given Atlantic and Pacific avenues.

A petition signed by 125 business and professional persons and presented by Charles O'Brien, president of the Virginia Beach Hotel Motel Assn., asked for the features proposed by the council.

The master zoning ordinance, effective in 30 days, sets forth for the first time an overall plan restricting lot sizes, setbacks, and other construction details.

The city has been broken down into nine districts, with area regulations and permits required from council before construction can be undertaken.

A map showing the districting was displayed at the meeting and will be exhibited at City Hall.

Kiwanis Donate $588 to Crippled Children Society

The Virginia Society for Crippled Children is $588.40 richer thanks to the peanut sale conducted by the Virginia Beach Kiwanis Club last July 3, according to H. I. Jaffe, who served as chairman of the sales event.

This was the amount that the local Kiwanis Club voted last week to contribute to the society, according to a letter from Jaffe to Walter Chapman, director of the society.

It is hoped that Chapman will attend one of the meetings of the local club at which time a check from the peanut sale will be presented to him, according to Jaffe.

Jaffe also informed Chapman that the local Kiwanis Club hopes to add a substantial amount to the figure realized from the July peanut sale when they conduct a similar sale at Christmas time.

Guardsmen to End Camp Period

CAMP PENDLETON—Eighteen hundred officers and men enter the final days of their summer training program for the National Guard's 10th Anti-Aircraft Brigade under the command of Brigadier General F. H. Garber (mayor of the city of Richmond). The Virginia Guardsmen will end the camp period on Sunday.

Last used by the Virginia Guard in 1949, the camp area has been partly rehabilitated at an estimated cost of $50,000. Future plans call for further improvement for expanded activity in 1958.

Tomorrow is a special occasion at the camp, they will participate in Governor's Day. Governor Thomas B. Stanley will be awarded the Virginia Distinguished Service medal. Stanley has been a staunch supporter of the National Guard in this state.

"We've been firing our 90-millimeter anti-aircraft artillery everyday the weather permits," said the executive officer Col. Marvin T. Ball of Varina. "This

Storm Damage To Beach Slight

By Marian Holbeck

The Northeast which struck this area Monday with a ferocity which was surprising has taken its toll at Virginia Beach. Many people called the Sun-News office asking if it was a hurricane and if the beach was being evacuated. Also on the humorous side was the look on one motorist's face as one of his windshield wipers blew off.

Tourists, visiting the Beach, were apparently braving the storm as reported from a quick check on the local hotels. Groups tried to find amusement in the lobbies of their hotels while hoping that the storm would clear up and they could then get some of that sunny weather they came for. They were rewarded for their patience by the appearance of the sun on Tuesday morning.

Among the casualties of the storm were the Oceana Skating Rink, a building located at the South-end Parking Lot, and the new Post Office Building which is in the process of construction.

Sherry Park Street Closed For Shopping Center Project

A controversial move to close a street in Sherry Park subdivision to permit development of a shopping center was approved by the Princess Anne Board of Supervisors Monday.

By a unanimous vote, the board accepted recommendations of the Planning Commission, which had heard arguments on the disputed street closing Aug. 12.

The issue had split the Sherry Park neighborhood, located just north of Indian River road near the Norfolk County line. Some residents favored the closing of the street, Sandra Lane, and others just as vigorously opposed it.

Sandra Lane is the principal thoroughfare connecting Sherry Park with Indian River road. Its present location it splits a tract fronting on Indian River road and zoned for commercial use.

Predalco Realty Corp., which says a shopping center costing more than $1,000,000 will be built there.

Tentative lease agreements have been prepared for Colonial Stores and Woolworth.

Part of the Planning Commission's recommendation was that Sandra Lane be relocated after the closing of the portion of it that now lies in the commercial property.

The Board of Supervisors also went along with the Planning Commission in denying a use permit for a gasoline supply station near Kempville Colony, south of Kempville village. Esso Standard Oil had asked for the permit. Kempville Colony residents opposed the oil company's application.

In a third planning matter, the board overrode the planners and voted for rezoning of the Thalia Motel so that the gasoline supply station may be built there.

The board also approved a use permit. Recommendations from the Planning Commission were that the rezoning be denied.

Announced that at least some of its members would appear in Richmond on Sept. 5 for a State Highway Commission hearing on

Registration At Oceana

Oceana School will register respective first graders and transferees on August 26th, from 7 to 3 p.m. State birth certificates are necessary for first grade students, who must have reached their 6th birthday on or before October 1, 1957.

New and used text books will be on sale at this time.

Bloodmobile to Visit Here Friday

The Tidewater Regional Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Princess Anne County on Friday, August 23rd from noon to 6 p.m. at the Community House, 19th and Arctic Ave., Virginia Beach.

R. Bradshaw Pulley, chairman of the local Red Cross Chapter has received an urgent plea-for-donations from C. Lydon Harrell, M.D., Director of the Blood Center in Norfolk. "It is with regret that I have to report our blood production has dropped off considerably in the last six weeks, all along the line. If something is not done immediately, we are going to be in desperate shape before the end of the month. We are unable to meet our demands at present and are unable to ship for defense."

Dr. Harrell went on to say that there is a shortage of both type O positive and O negative and he wishes anyone having one of these types would make a special effort to donate at this visit.

Wyndham E. Brown III, president of the Virginia Beach Exchange Club has said his organization will sponsor the visit on Friday and each member will be responsible for new donors.

Anyone wishing transportation to and from the visit may call Virginia Beach 938, and there will be baby sitters at the Community House to take care of small children while their parents donate.

There will be a local physician in attendance at all times and the whole process takes approximately 45 minutes. Blood Donor Day, Friday, August 23rd from noon to 6 p.m. at the Community House, 19th and Arctic Ave., Virginia Beach.

Beach Group to Attend Hearing On Tunnel Route

A delegation from Virginia Beach is being formed to travel to Richmond for the public hearing on September 5 on the proposed route of the bridge-tunnel across Chesapeake Bay, it has been announced.

Plans are to arrange a motorcade or to charter a bus for the Richmond trip. A like delegation from Princess Anne County is planned to appear in favor of a north-south crossing of the proposed bridge-tunnel.

Anyone interested in making the trip to Richmond on September 5 are urged to call the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce office, telephone 392. Names will be gathered at the Chamber office and definite plans announced later.

Chesapeake Beach Summer Festival Nets Club $1,600

This year's summer festival proved to be in many ways the most outstanding ever sponsored by the Chesapeake Beach Woman's Club, according to Mrs. O. T. Edmondson, president. A final check-up revealed that the annual event, held on August 10, had netted $1,600 for the club's community-wide program. Topping all past records in the contest for festival queen, the three young candidates turned in a total of $1,093 of the sum raised.

A parade of cars opened the festivities, following which the many booths began doing a land-office business in the Community Center. The booths were set up inside the building for the first time with a merry-go-round and pony rides to entertain the children outside. In the past, all events have been held on the grounds of the center and rain has never interfered. This year some rain fell, but all booths, with their attendants and customers remained safely dry inside the Center, while the shower passed on before interfering seriously with the children's outdoor entertainment.

At 9:00 p.m., the coronation of the queen was held and the win-

10,000 Shriners to Converge on Beach

Approximately 10,000 Shriners and their families are expected to begin converging on Virginia Beach next Wednesday for the annual meeting of the Mid-Atlantic Shrine Association, according to L. Floyd Patrick, housing chairman for the meeting.

Shrine temples from neighboring states and the District of Columbia will be represented at the meeting, according to Patrick. Patrick reported that all 15 temples that make up the Mid-Atlantic Association will have representatives here for the meeting.

Rhodie Temple of Norfolk is the host temple for the meeting and Joe L. Pinnell, of Rhodie, is serving as general chairman.

Temple delegations from West Virginia are scheduled to arrive on Wednesday and they will be followed by temple members from Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware and the District of Columbia on Thursday. The annual meeting officially runs from September 8 through September 17. Headquarters for the meeting will be the Cavalier Club.

Herman S. Novitsky, of Rhodie Temple, is president of the Mid-Atlantic Shrine Association. Many events are scheduled during the meeting with a colorful parade as the highlight. Dates and times of the various events have not been announced.

...thought of making a Long Distance call to Aunt Minola?

Well, if Mother is just patient enough, she'll get her turn. And afterward, Dad will say, "That was a wonderful idea of yours to call Auntie!"

Because it's always a wonderful idea to keep in touch by telephone. Next to a personal visit it's the most satisfying sort of get-together there is.

And Long Distance rates are lower than most people think. For example:

from RICHMOND to New Orleans . $0.00
Philadelphia . $0.00 Dallas . . $0.00
St. Louis . . $0.00 Cincinnati . $0.00

Rates shown are for the first 3 minutes, station-to-station, after 4 o'clock every night or any time Sunday. Federal tax not included. Call by number - it's twice as fast!

County Plans Football Leagues

OCEANA, Jim Lail, Recreation Director of Princess Anne County announced today plans for recreation football leagues for boys eight through sixteen years of age.

Three leagues are tentative planned, pending on the number of teams making application. The leagues are the Cub, Midget and Junior.

Age classification and weight restrictions will be the basis of organization for each league.

Cub League

Eight through ten years of age. Boys must be at least eight years old and any boy who will be eleven years old this year is not eligible. Players must weigh 65 pounds or less on the initial weigh-in. Squads are limited to 22 boys for 11-man football and 12 for six-man football.

Midget League

Ten through 13 years of age. Boys must be at least 10 years old and any boy who will be 14 years old this year is not eligible. Players who are 13 this year must weigh 120 pounds or less. No weight restrictions on boys who reach their 10th or 11th birthday this year. Squads are limited to 22 boys for 11-man football and 12 for six-man football.

Junior League

Sixteen years of age and under. Boys who will be 17 years old this year are not eligible. Players who are 16 this year must weigh 150 pounds or less while boys reaching their 15th birthday this year must weigh 155 pounds or less. No weight restrictions on boys who reach their 14th birthday this year or boys of younger ages. Squads are limited to 22 players. Eleven-man football only.

A meeting to re-organize these leagues will be held Tuesday night, September 17th at 8 o'clock p. m. in the recreation office located in the Field House of the Oceana Stadium in Oceana, Va.

Weigh-ins and if possible physical examinations are scheduled for Saturday morning, September 21st beginning at 9:30 a. m. in the Field House of the Oceana Stadium.

Tuesday evening, September 17, is the deadline for teams entering any of the three leagues. Applications for teams entering leagues will not be accepted after September 17th.

For further information interested parties may call the recreation office, Virginia Beach 2696 or write Jim Lail, Recreation Director, Princess Anne County, Box 212, Oceana, Virginia.

Princess Anne Playground Program Will End Friday

OCEANA — The Princess Anne County summer playgrounds are entering into their last week of operation for the season of 1957. The final week's program will be centered around the theme "Farewell." Besides the regular scheduled program, the playgrounds will feature social dancing, picnics and parties.

Friday, August 23rd is the closing date for all the county playgrounds.

PLAYGROUND HI-LITES

Oceana: At the conclusion of Sports Week, a sportsman and sportswoman were selected. Joe Harris was selected as the sportsman and Jackie White was selected as the sportswoman.

J. B. Dey, Jerry Thomas was chosen as the top sportsman and Linda McGuire as the top sportswoman.

Kempville: In a clean up contest held recently Lucky Knight, Steve Werner, Valerie Werner, Joanne Smith, John Marr and Carl Ward were declared winners. Courthouse: The Courthouse softball team traveled to Kempville and won by a score of 13-6. Outstanding players for the Courthouse were Vernon Lee, Mayne Flora, and Jerry Hayes, and for Kempville, Don Miller and Lucky Knight. Creeds: All the children enjoyed their trip to a nearby "haunted" house. Bobby Morris received first prize for telling the best ghost story.

Seastack: The children are looking forward to their forthcoming weeper roast and dance with gladness and sadness. Glad because they can get together and sad because they know that the summer is almost over.

P. A. Training School: August 23rd is a big day for this playground. A winner roast will be held and immediately following the picnic a social dance will be held. Seastack and Seaboard playgrounds have been invited to participate. Awards will be given to those who have shown sportsmanship and versatility in the many playground activities. Earline Gatlin and Edward Leathersberry received first prize in a Bingo contest.

Seaboard: Thanks to all the parents for their utmost interest shown in the summer program. Miss Bertha Caffee, a graduate of P. A. Training School and a former student of Norfolk Division of Va. State College has been an ardent worker and helper. She attended the Va. Union University of Richmond for six weeks this summer.

Princess Anne Little League

August 12

In the bottom of the sixth inning the Pirates managed to score the winning run on a walk, 2 errors and a fielder's choice to win over the American Legion 3 to 2.

For the Pirates Tommy Garceau gave up 3 hits, struckout 11 and walked 2. Jack Mims had a triple for the only Pirate hit. Despite pitching a one hitter and hitting a homerun to tie the score Bobby DeMille received credit for the loss. DeMille gave up just one hit, struckout 7 and walked 3. Nine Legion errors proved very costly.

August 13

The Anacostia proved the Peppers 18 to 0. The Anacostia collected a total of 13 hits off Johnny Spruill and Dick Cannon. The Pepper pitchers also gave up 8 walks while striking out 5. Steve Gallagher had 3 for 4; Ricky Wade and Kenny Ames 2 for 3 and Mike Oxner 2 for 4 for the victors. For the Anacostia Kenny Ames gave up 5 hits, struckout 11 and gave up no walks. Johnny Spruill and Larry Bell had 2 for 3 and Kenny Neigenfind 1 for 3 to account for the Pepper hits.

August 14

A game between the Anacostia and American Legion which was a make-up game must be played again as the result of a 5 to 5 tie, which was called on account of darkness.

The score of this game seemed through the full seven innings played. In the top of the first inning the Legion scored 2 runs; in the top of the second they went ahead when another run scored; they got another in the fifth and 1 in the top of the seventh. The Anacostia scored 2 in the bottom of the first; 1 in the third and tied it up at 4-4 in the bottom of the sixth on a double by Johnny Joyce and again tied the score in the bottom of the seventh on a double by Ricky Wade.

For the Anacostia, Johnny Crowley in 6 innings gave up 7 hits and walked 2. In 1 inning Mike Oxner gave up no hits and walked 1. Steve Gallagher hit 3 singles for 3 tries, scored 3 runs and batted in 1 run for a very successful day. Ricky Wade batted in 3 runs. His one hit was a big one, a double tying up the score in the seventh.

For the Legion Gerald Bolling went 5 1/2 innings, gave up 7 hits, struckout 1 and walked none. James Tarter went 1 1/2 innings, gave up 1 hit, struckout 3, walked 2 and hit 1. Gary Fox had 3 for 4 tries and Robert Babcock 1 for 2.

August 16

The Legion racked up a 23 to 7 victory over the Peppers. After 4 innings of play the game was called because of darkness. James Tarter went the distance for the Legion giving up 6 hits, 8 walks and striking out 5. He had 3 hits for 5 times at bat. Gary Fox and Tommy Moyer had 2 for 3 and Robert Babcock 1 for 1. Larry Bell started for the Peppers and was relieved by Dick Cannon in the third inning. They gave up 11 hits, struckout 2 and walked 11. Larry Bell and Kenny Neigenfind had 2 hits for 2 attempts. Glen Withrow and Mickey Stever collected 1 for 2 for the other Pepper hits. All 7 Pepper runs were scored in the first inning.

August 17

The Bears met the Pirates in a game that was postponed from the 15th due to rain. The Bears beat the league leaders 8 to 3. Wade Johnson picked up the victory on a 3 hitter. He struckout 14 and walked 5. Don Russell collected 2 hits for 2 at bats. Russell came in from short-stop to catch when George Gardes was injured. It was only the second time Don has attempted to play that position. Robert Johnson had 2 for 3 and Tom Tyler 1 for 2. Dale Honeck started for the Pirates and was relieved by Bailey Spence. They gave up 8 runs, walked 7 and struckout 1. Robert Keiton, Tommy Garceau and Sam Tillett collected the 3 Pirate hits.

Standings as of August 17

Team	Won	Lost
Pirates	12	6
Bears	10	6
Anacostia	9	7
American Legion	8	7
Peppers	2	15

On Saturday, August 24th, at 5 p. m. the Princess Anne Little League will hold a Carnival at Carey Field. Games and rides will be there for fun; hot dogs, drinks for eating and homemade cakes, candy and bread for eating there or taking home for leisurely enjoyment.

Children May Not Harvest Crops During School Hours: Labor Dept.

Virginia farmers hiring workers for the fall harvest were reminded today that the Fair Labor Standards Act prohibits work by children under 16 years of age on farms during school hours.

"The Federal law provides children with a priceless commodity—time to go to school," says Wm. M. Eaves, Regional Director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, the agency which enforces the Act.

The child-labor provisions protect local youngsters and children of migratory workers alike, Mr. Eaves pointed out. There is only one exception to the rule prohibiting children under 16 from working agriculture during school hours of the school district where the child lives while working, he added. The exception is for the farmer's child working on his parents' farm.

Mr. Eaves also stated that children may lawfully work on farms before and after school hours, and on weekends and other days when there is no school.

"The farmer can easily make sure of the age of any young worker if he asks for an age certificate. A certificate showing the young person is old enough for the job serves as proof of age for purposes of the Act," Eaves said. These certificates can generally be obtained from local school officials.

The child-labor provisions apply to farmers who engage in interstate commerce or ship produce in interstate commerce or to dealers in the same State who ship the produce in interstate commerce.

Regional Director Eaves said persons who want more information about the application of the Act to children working on farms should get in touch with the Wage-Hour Office, Room 250, 900 North Lombardy Street, Richmond 20, Virginia.

More than half the world's total population is in Asia.

Signup Open for '58 Wheat Acreage

Beginning August 26, eligible farmers who wish to participate in the 1958 winter wheat Acreage Reserve program may sign agreements at the County ASC Office, W. F. Hunter, Chairman of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, as announced today. The signup period for the wheat program extends to October 4 of this year.

Rates of payment for individual farms will vary up and down from a county average rate per acre according to the relative productivity of the farms and other factors.

Farmers who are eligible to sign 1958 Acreage Reserve agreements for winter wheat are those who have "old farm" wheat acreage allotments for 1958 and who normally grow winter wheat.

Chairman Hunter explained that, under the 1958 program, each producer will be responsible for furnishing the County ASC Committee with the production history and other information needed to establish a "Soil Bank base" for his farm, and this must be done before the agreement may be signed. The required information should be supplied at least 15 days before the end of the signup period on October 4.

The "base" will be determined primarily on the basis of the average acreage of land devoted to Soil Bank base crops during 1956 and 1957; the base crops, in general, are all crops produced for harvest on a farm, except hay crops. If a farm already has a "base" established under the Soil Bank's Conservation Reserve program, that base will apply.

Farmers who earn payments under the 1958 wheat acreage Reserve program must reduce their wheat acreage below the farm's wheat allotment, must comply with any other allotments set for crops on their farm, and must not harvest more total acreage than the "permitted acreage"—which, in general, the Soil Bank base less the number of acres put in the Soil Bank.

Virginia Hereford Association To Hold Field Day August 31

A full day of interest to Virginia and Eastern cattlemen will be held on August 31, at Reed-Moor Farms, Forest, Va., as the Virginia Hereford Association holds its 1957 Field Day.

The program will get under way at 10 a.m., with welcomes by G. M. Reed, owner of Reed-Moor Farms and R. S. Orr, Dryden, Va., President of the Virginia Association. The remainder of the morning program will include a talk by Roland Mullinix, well-known Glenwood, Md., cattle feeder, on the topic, "What I Want in a Feeder Steer," and also a discussion of "A Sound Hereford Promotional Program," by Mag Greenhalgh, manager of Caw Caw Plantation, Orangeburg, S.C.

Also, a judging contest for both juniors and adults will be included in the morning program. Prizes will be given to the contest winners in the form of credit certificates for use in the October 5.

Take Precautions Against Mildew

In these damp hot days we may find a new annoyance in our housekeeping jobs. Any housemaker who has had clothing damaged by mildew will agree that precautions against this household annoyance are well worth taking.

Molds causing mildew have a liking for moisture, darkness, and warmth. Unfortunately, clothing stored in muggy summer weather can provide the perfect setting for mold growth.

Cleanliness, good ventilation, and dry atmosphere are effective weapons against closet mildew. Soil on clothing can supply nutrients for molds. Always wash or dryclean clothing before you store it. Hang clothes as loosely as possible, so that air can circulate around them. Store shoes, suitcases, and other leather goods on shelves. To dry the air in a closet, burn a small electric light in it. It's wise to open the closet door occasionally or to use an electric fan to keep the closet air circulating.

Chemicals to dry the air can also help combat mildew. Silica gel, activated alumina, and calcium chloride, often sold under trade names, help control mold growth by absorbing moisture from the air. Silica gel and activated alumina are not harmful to fabrics and can be hung in cloth bags in closets, placed in open containers on closet floors, or spread in the folds of clothing stored in drawers, boxes or trunks. Calcium chloride can be placed in open containers in closets. It should not come into contact with fabrics, however, since it can make holes in them.

Chemicals that give off mildew-discouraging fumes can be helpful when used in trunks or bags kept as airtight as possible. Para-chlorobenzene, often used for moth control, also controls mildew. You can scatter crystals of this chemical between folds of stored clothing, or hang bags of crystals in closed garment bags. Because it damages some plastics, you should remove buttons, ornaments, and hangers made of plastic before para-chlorobenzene.

A few precautions can keep mildew damage from clothing and fabrics not in storage. You should dry soiled clothes, towels, and washcloths before putting them in hamper. Keep wet shower curtains stretched out. They are likely to mildew if left bunched together or stuck to the wall or tub. If you find you've sprinkled more laundry than you have time to iron in a day, dry and air it. Dampened rolled-up clothes are an open invitation to mildew-molds.

Read-Moor "All Star" Production Sale

After lunch, Raymond Heins, Baltimore meat processor, will discuss "The Carcase Value of a Steer," and George Litton, head of the VPI Animal Husbandry Department, Blacksburg, will discuss the progress of the Hereford breed in Virginia through the efforts of the active Virginia Hereford Association. A very interesting discussion for most of the visitors will then follow by R. C. Causey, prominent Greensboro, N.C. registered and commercial cattleman, on the subject, "Selecting Commercial Bulls." Following this phase of the program, Paul Swaffar, Secretary of the American Hereford Association, Kansas City, Mo., will talk on the responsibilities of the purebred breeder in relation to the progress of the breed.

The group will then be conducted on a tour of the beautiful Read-Moor Farm, including a look at the sale cattle for the Read-Moor Fall Sale, the herd bull battery, and the brood cow herd. Last year's Virginia Hereford Tour was one of the best-attended in the nation, and this year's program promises to be even larger. All Hereford breeders and enthusiasts are cordially invited to attend.

Floyd Patrick Speaks Before C. of C. Board

The monthly Board of Director's meeting of the Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce was held Tuesday, August 13th with President, Harold Kellam presiding. Floyd Patrick, manager of the Virginia Beach branch of the C&P Telephone Company reviewed the action that had been taken relative to toll free calls to Norfolk and stated that his company's application to the State Corporation Commission seeking an increase in rates to effect toll free calling to Norfolk would be reviewed by the commission on October 10th. A motion was made and carried that the Chamber write a letter to the Commission approving the application of the telephone company to bring the rates in Virginia Beach in line with the Norfolk rates when same service is provided.

Patriot as chairman of the Housing Committee for the Shrine Convention, September 5, 6, 7th, reported that all temples and units have been housed and that the attendance is expected to be 10,000 or 12,000.

Leo Hoarty, chairman of the Concert Committee thanked Frank Tarrall for his assistance in presenting the Naval Aviation Cadet Choir at the Coast Guard Station on Saturday, August 11th. This choir of 70 were in this area for the commissioning of the Ranger.

Mrs. Lucy Traflet reported that the 17th Street Information Booth was being moved to the corner of Arctic and 17th Street as of that day.

Laura Lamb brought to the attention of the Board that through the 20 CBS network broadcasts from the Cavalier Beach Club that "beautiful Virginia Beach" reached the ears of millions of listeners across the country and that the Cavalier Tennis Tournament was carried on the AP wires and coverage given in Richmond, Philadelphia, and Washington papers of the sports page with a Virginia Beach date line.

The meeting was concluded with a motion from Lee Page that the Chamber of Commerce approve the paving of Pacific Avenue from 46th Street to 17th Street. The motion was seconded and carried.

EDITORIALLY SPEAKING

The Shriners Are Coming

Shriners representing 15 temples in the Mid-Atlantic Shrine Association will begin arriving in Virginia Beach on Wednesday, September 4, and it is up to us to be ready to serve these visitors and to make their visit to Virginia Beach a memorable one.

This is the third time in recent years that the Shriners have selected Virginia Beach to hold their annual convention. This speaks well for Virginia Beach and its people. However, we must ever be alert to this group and other groups that like our community. We must meet their every demand and must see that their desires are satisfied. That is our job as host to these groups.

Men and their families from several states as well as Washington, D. C. will be here for the annual meeting which will be held September 5, 6 and 7. All available hotel and motel space has been reserved for the Shriners.

The Sun-News takes this opportunity to welcome the Nobles of the Mid-Atlantic Shrine Association. We wish for them a most successful and enjoyable meeting here in Virginia Beach.

Beach Advertised in Financial World

Readers of the Wall Street Journal, the newspaper of the financial world, were told of all the virtues of Virginia Beach in the August 13th edition of that daily newspaper.

The readers were informed through an advertisement, the first in a series sponsored by the Tidewater Virginia Development Council. The council felt that the date in August was ideal for advertising Virginia Beach to attract the late season tourist to this area.

The new aluminum domed convention hall was prominently displayed in the advertisement along with surf bathing and beach activities to be found here.

It was a fine piece of publicity for Virginia Beach and Tidewater Virginia. The Tidewater Virginia Development Council is to be congratulated on this type of promotion. Future ads are scheduled for the same newspaper and this program should pay dividends in the future development of this progressive area.

This community continues to prosper and to be recognized as one of the nation's foremost tourist resort centers. The improvements here are many and the future is most promising with the erection of the convention hall, the proposed outdoor drama for next season and the improvement and paving of Pacific avenue. These are the major developments here at present and in the future we can look to the bridge-tunnel across Chesapeake Bay connecting the Eastern Shore with the County of Princess Anne.

The future of Virginia Beach and this area is bright. It is up to us to keep it that way by taking civic pride in our community and by thinking and acting optimistic at all times. Nothing is better medicine for a community or an individual than optimism. Always boost your community, never knock it.

Good News in Pendleton Plans

The future plans for Camp Pendleton just south of Virginia Beach are not completely formulated, but indications are that this military reservation will be used more extensively in the future.

Camp Pendleton is currently the scene of National Guard training and from a recent announcement by the State the World War Two camp will, in the future, be kept in a better state than in the past and the camp should take on an appearance of attractiveness once again.

It is understood that funds have been made available to keep the grounds and buildings in good repair. This, in turn, means that future planning calls for more and more military training at Camp Pendleton.

Whatever the exact future plans are for Camp Pendleton it is a promising sign that funds are available to improve and maintain the camp.

Guard Military Leaders To Be Entertained Here

The Virginia Beach Chamber of Commerce and the Virginia Beach Rotary Club are joining forces tonight in entertaining National Guard officers, who are presently in training at Camp Pendleton here.

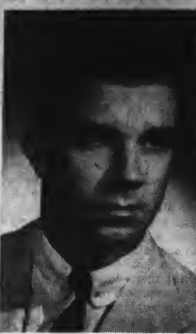

It was announced early this week that the Chamber of Commerce would be host at a cocktail party tonight at the Cavalier Hotel for the top military leaders here for the National Guard encampment. The cocktail party is scheduled for 6 p.m. in the directors room at the Cavalier.

Following the cocktail party the group will be guests of the Rotary Club at dinner in the Virginia Beach High School. The military leader's visit to the Rotary Club will highlight the club's regular weekly meeting.

The announcements of the two events were made by Harold B. Kellam, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and by William Temple, president of the Rotary Club. The Rotary Club meeting begins at 7 p.m.

Ninety-five shopping days until Christmas. Plenty of time if you don't have to spend too long in a hospital as a result of a labor Day auto accident.

Local DeeJay Gets Call from N. Y. Producer

WADE WILLIAMS

The World premier of "Parade" by the well known Broadway playwright, Marjorie Brown Waters, will open at the Gateway Theatre, Belpoint, N.Y., with a local radio personality playing the leading role.

Wade Williams, promotion director for WCMS in Norfolk, has been called on to create the leading role in a pre-Broadway tryout of "Parade." "Parade" will open for a two week run on Sept.

"It's a real break for me, and I appreciate the folks at WCMS making it possible for me to do this show. I've been living with this play for 2 1/2 years, since Marjorie first had the idea of writing it, and I am grateful to be in on the first production." Wade will return to his regular air stint of WCMS at 4:00 PM every weekday after Sept. 9th.

Sewage Plan Studied for Courthouse

A new step was taken Monday toward modernizing sewage disposal facilities for county-owned buildings on courthouse hill.

The Princess Anne Board of Supervisors authorized the board's executive secretary, Richard J. Webbon, to contract with engineers to draw plans and specifications for the proposed system.

The board has been advised by the county sanitarian that the existing system of septic tanks is "inadequate."

In a related matter, Webbon reported to the board that the water supply for the county administration building is being contaminated by a calcium-like chemical.

The contamination, he said, is forming hard deposits in the air-conditioning system and could affect boilers used for heating the building.

He was instructed to consult with the proper parties to determine what can be done about eliminating the contamination.

Water for the building is furnished by a deep well. A Shallow well not far from there is providing good water, without complications, the board was told.

fun for the informal dancing duo. Bernie Cummings and his band have opened at the Cavalier and Cabana Club where they are always seasonal favorites. The Cavalier also offers comedian Harry Taylor performing at the Hunt Room for the remainder of the season.

The northeasterly came howling down this past Monday, a gusty representative of what might be yet to come. Virginia Beach has enjoyed unusually good resort weather this season, but don't forget, the rains must come! Taking a quick ride up Atlantic Avenue, you notice a few broken windows and fragments of Shriners decorations. For a few moments, you could hear the old-timers once more recollecting some of the big blows we've had. When the summer is at an end, you'll remember this season—the business, the weather, and the aluminum dome.

We close for another issue with the mention that high school football gets under way at both Princess Anne and Virginia Beach on Monday morning. The two teams will be under the tutelage of new coaches. George Tepo will be at V. B. and highly successful Pete Sachon at P. A.

The Seahawks will be defending Group Two championship, and from all reports, the season promises a lot of surprises at both gridiron plants.

Sportsmen Plan Back Bay Study

Some 300 Tidewater sportsmen and conservationists concerned with the status of Back Bay as a hunting and fishing paradise Tuesday night agreed to request state and federal agencies to develop a scientific program for study and improvement of conditions at Back Bay.

On a motion from V. Alfred Etheridge, the gathering resolved to set up a Back Bay Conservation Committee, which would ask the State Game Commission to provide a full-time wildlife biologist for Back Bay.

The committee will co-ordinate conservation activities and studies made by the State Game Commission, the Army Corps of Engineers, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, the Soil Conservation Service and county authorities.

Tony Pugh, representing Isaac Walton League, hosts to Tuesday night's meeting, said "the committee will co-ordinate and back up the findings of the two biologists if and when they find an answer" to the steadily declining growth of duck grass.

Hunters, fishermen and conservationists have for some time been concerned at the poor growth of aquatic vegetation which in normal years provides an abundance of food for water fowl and food and cover for game fish.

The studies to be made by the state and federal agencies include questions of drainage and the effects of salinity on the growth of duck grass.

It was emphasized that none of these agencies plans extensive introduction of salt water until further studies are completed.

Storm Damage

The back section of the roof was blown off at the Oceana Skating Rink and the rink was flooded. Mr. Vidar, the manager, said that an estimate of the damage could not be made until conditions had cleared.

Between 2:00 and 2:30 p.m., at the height of the wind, a 10 x 6 foot building at the South-end Parking Lot was blown over twice. The windows and door were broken, and everything inside was destroyed.

The new Post Office Building located at 22nd Street suffered approximately $5,000.00 of damage. The building, just beginning to take shape, had the brick walls blown over.

As a result of the high winds, there were power failures in some areas which were repaired quickly, and there were a few broken windows along Atlantic Avenue, though many of the local store-owners had braced their windows with 2 x 4's as a precaution against breakage.

Pest Control Association to Meet at Beach

The Virginia State Pest Control Association's annual summer meeting is to be held at The Cavalier Hotel, Virginia Beach, August 23-24th.

Mr. Luther M. Church, Sr., who is Vice President of Region 4 Representatives of The National Pest Control Association is to be present, also Dr. J. O. Rowell, Extension Entomologist of V.P.I. Friendship hour will be from 7-8 PM August 23rd, followed by a banquet. The guest speaker is Mr. P. W. Hansen, who is a well known architect associated with Oliver and Smith, architects of Norfolk, Va., designers of the Convention Hall now being constructed at Virginia Beach. Soloist is the well known Virginia Beach vocalist, Bill Uley.

A dance at the Cavalier Beach and Cabana Club is to follow the banquet with music by Bernie Cummings. There will also be a show put in the Hunt Room of the Cavalier by Harry Taylor. The business meeting is to be held Saturday morning.

Pest Control Operators from Washington, D. C., Maryland, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia are expected to be present.

WATCH OUT FOR WITCHWEED

Witchweed is a parasitic plant that attacks corn, sugarcane, sorghum, many grasses, certain sedges, and some broadleaved plants. It was discovered in the Carolinas—the first time it had been recognized in the Western Hemisphere. It now infests more than 100 farms in North Carolina (Bladen, Columbus, Cumberland, and Robeson Counties), and South Carolina (Dillon, Horry, Marion, and Marlboro Counties).

Crop damage depends upon the degree of infestation.

Corn yields in some infested fields in the Carolinas were complete failures in 1956. Witchweed was observed parasitizing crabgrasses in fields of tobacco, peanuts, beans, peas, and sweetpotatoes.

Witchweed roots attach to and penetrate the roots of host plants. This robs the efficiency of host plants in obtaining food and water. Symptoms resemble those produced by acute drought. The plants become stunted, wilt, and turn yellowish. They die if they are heavily parasitized.

Roots of host plants appear to have masses of hairlike roots.

Witchweed plants above ground are small and bright green. The leaves are slightly hairy and the upper and lower leaf surfaces look alike.

The plants rarely grow more than 8 or 9 inches high. Some, however, may reach a height of 18 inches.

The flowers are small and usually pink or scarlet, although some may be yellowish red, yellowish, or almost white.

The seeds, which are nearly microscopic, may lie dormant 18 to 20 years. They may be spread by wind, water, or anything that moves seed-infested soil. A witchweed plant can produce up to half a million seeds.

To germinate, a seed normally must be stimulated by secretions from roots of host plants.

When the witchweed seedling starts to grow, its roots must contact, attach to, and penetrate the roots of a host. Otherwise, it dies.

After its roots penetrate roots of the host, the witchweed depends upon the host for food and water until it emerges from the soil.

The shoot emerges from the soil about 30 days after germination. After emergence, the plant turns green and manufactures its own food but continues to depend partially upon the host for water and minerals.

Flowering begins about 30 days after the seedling emerges. The first flower appears near the base of the plant. Seed pods burst about 4 weeks after flowers appear.

Seeds scatter over the soil for the next month or so. Flowering and seed production continue until cold weather.

The life cycle of the parasite—from germination to release of first seeds—takes 90 to 120 days.

Witchweed grows best in warm temperatures and on light soils containing considerable moisture. It will, however, grow under a wide range of soil, temperature, and moisture conditions.

Here are seven ways of controlling witchweed:

- (1) Notify your county agricultural agent if you find witchweed or suspect that a plant may be witchweed.
- (2) Do not move plants suspected of being witchweed—request an on-the-farm identification from your county agent.

- (3) Do not plant corn, sugarcane, or sorghum on infested lands.
- (4) Adopt these crop rotation practices:
 - a. Plant wheat, oats, barley, or rye in the fall; follow the practices recommended for your locality.
 - b. Follow these small grains the next year with either catch or trap crops.

Use a true host of witchweed, such as Sudan grass, as a catch crop. It attracts the chemical that causes the witchweed to germinate and will support the parasite's growth. Planting and plowing under the host crop before the witchweed produces seeds will reduce the weed seeds in infested fields.

Continue this practice as long as necessary to delete the soil of witchweed seeds.

Use for trap crops, plants that will cause witchweed seeds to germinate but are not true hosts. Cowpeas or soybeans, for example, will cause witchweed seeds to germinate, but they will not support the parasite's growth.

Trap crops should not be harvested on farms where witchweed is a severe problem unless the harvested crop is to be used in the infested area or on the farm where the crop is grown.

- (5) Treat noncultivated lands infested with witchweed and infestations found in cornfields with an herbicide, such as 2, 4-D, to prevent flowering and seed production.
- (6) Treat cultivated land where witchweed is noted for the first time, by either cultural or chemical means to destroy the pest.
- (7) Keep cotton, tobacco, peanuts, and sweetpotatoes free of witchweed host plants such as crabgrasses. These crops plants can be grown on witchweed infested lands so far as known now.

PLAN NOW FOR FALL GARDENS

The time is rapidly approaching for us to begin planning for our fall gardens and also the planting of the garden. Some of the vegetables we will want to seed in August here in this area are lima beans, snap beans, beans, carrots, collards, upland cress, cucumbers, kale, leaf lettuce, mustard, okra, parsley, radishes, squash, Swiss chard, turnips, turnip salad, and spinach. There are bulletins for you at your County Agent's office that will give more complete seedling suggestions. Ask your County Agent for Circular 639 and he will be very happy to supply you with one. Of course all of your efforts will be in vain unless we control insect and diseases and also control weeds and grasses. Fertilization is also extremely important and a good application is to use 500 to 800 lbs. per acre of a 5-10-5 analysis. We realize it is pretty hot these days and we just don't seem to have the enthusiasm for gardening (or anything else) that we had last spring. However, the evenings will soon be nice and cool for working in the garden. Let's plan the seed now and enjoy these fine, fresh vegetables this fall.

August 12 SOYBEAN OUTLOOK

Now let's take a look at the 1957 soybean crop acreage and production as of August 1 for Virginia. There are 276,000 acres of soybeans and the estimated yield at this time is 19 bushels an acre giving us an estimated production of a little over 5 million bushels to be compared with 1956 yields of 21.3 bushels an acre or more than 5½ million bushels produced. In the U. S. 21½ million acres are planted with an estimated yield per acre of 18.9 giving us an estimated production of 430 million bushels as compared to the actual yield in 1956 of 21.8 bushels per acre or a little over 465 million bushels in the country.

PASTURE SEEDING TIME IN NORFOLK, PRINCESS ANNE

It is also pasture seeding time in Princess Anne County and other adjoining counties and farmers should be taking soil samples and applying lime now. Boxes for taking soil samples are available from your County Agent's office and other agricultural workers in your county. The amount of lime needed is based on the test and should be applied at least 30 days before seeding and plowed or disked into the soil.

Bayside Elementary School To Hold Registration

Bayside Elementary School will hold registration for new students who have not already registered on August 23 and 26 between the hours of 9:00 A.M. and 12 noon. Students who attended Bayside School last year will not have to register.

Bayside School will serve diamond Springs area. Diamond Lakes Estates area for grades one through eight. Bayside School will also serve the East Ocean View Area grades three through eight. Pupils transferring from other schools should have their last year's report card. A birth certificate is required for all pupils attending Virginia Schools for the first time.

Town Council Receives Plaque

At Monday afternoon's Town Council meeting, George Elliott, safety consultant for the Tidewater Automobile Association, presented Virginia Beach the American Automobile Association's 1956 distinguished performance plaque for outstanding effort in pedestrian safety. With no traffic fatalities during 1956 and with only 14 pedestrians injured during the year, Virginia Beach established an impressive record. Elliott said in national competition with 741 other competing towns with a population under 10,000. The citation is a handsome, glass-encased gold inscription mounted on a decorative piece of wood. In presenting it, Elliott commented that "This is the most handsome award ever made to Virginia Beach in the field of pedestrian protection". On three other occasions, Elliott has appeared with presentations in the field of traffic safety. Previous awards for pedestrian safety achievement were for the years 1952, 1953 and 1954. Commanding Police Chief Reeves E. Johnson, who spearheads the local pedestrian safety program, Elliott said: "Certainly no one can work harder toward keeping citizens from pedestrian injury or death than Chief Johnson, Virginia Beach is fortunate in having a police chief who exerts so much conscientious effort, above and beyond the work-level ordinarily achieved by men in such positions."

The American Automobile Association has been working its pedestrian safety program for twenty years. During that time, Elliott said, the annual pedestrian death toll has declined 40 percent, while the toll for all other types of vehicle accidents has increased 33 percent.

Beach Methodist Church will hold their Bazaar on November 8th from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Luncheon will be served at noon and dinner in the evening, hours to be announced later.

Keep this date in mind—There'll be fun for the children and a good opportunity for early Christmas Shoppers.

Commissioner of Revenue Office Well Known

The fourth county government personality in this series of articles dealing with the governmental system of Princess Anne County is Ivan D. Mapp, the Commissioner of Revenue. Mapp has served in this position since October of 1950. Prior to that time, he also served as police chief of the county law enforcement agency.

This is one office which practically ever resident of the county knows a little something about. It is here that assessment of taxes for real estate, personal property tax, state income tax, and the issue of business licenses are handled by the commissioner and his staff.

The office staff is composed of 14 members who have the busy job of keeping this department running smoothly. James E. Garrett is Mapp's chief deputy. Like many of the other departments in the county system, the work is designated in sections in order to produce maximum efficiency. Others in the office who hold key positions are: Joseph T. Crosswhite, deputy in charge of real assessments; Donald Fantone, deputy in charge of state income tax; and Mrs. Marian K. Savage, who is in charge of the land book section.

The real estate assessment for the county continues to show a definite increase. This is contributed by the tremendous growth in the county which has been the cause for continuous construction in the area. To establish this factor, Mapp gave the following figures concerning total real estate assessment:

1956	$25,682,100

Following the mention of positive figures, mention was also made of the personal property revenue handled by the department:

1954	$2,941,990
1956	$3,538,940

One of the main features which was noticed while visiting the office is the card index system which is used in land assessment. On each piece of land assessed, a numerical and alphabetical file is kept to aid in making the land assessment book. The numerical file is used as a cross-reference for the property location maps. Altogether there are 45,000 parcels which bring the total number of both files to 90,000.

IVAN D. MAPP
Commissioner of Revenue

An addressograph system is being installed for the elimination of the necessity for proof reading the land books. "This will save our office staff a lot of valuable time," said Commissioner Mapp.

Faced with ever-increasing returns of a growing populace area, Ivan D. Mapp and his staff manage a job which never sees a completion. The Commissioner of Revenue's task is getting busier all the time down Princess Anne County way.

NAVY NEWS

SAN JUAN, P.R. (PHINC) — Midn. 3/c Allen M. Bissell, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bissell of 215 Avenue E, Virginia Beach, visited centuries old El Morro fort which guards the entrance to San Juan harbor in Puerto Rico before returning to the United States August 5.

In addition to three days in San Juan, Midshipmen of the summer's first training cruise spent eight days in Brazil and two days at Guantanamo Bay, Cuba. During the six weeks at sea, midshipmen were trained in seamanship, gunnery, engineering and navigation to prepare them for commissions as naval officers upon completion of college.

Cashman-Howard Vows Said in St. Petersburg, Fla.

The marriage of Mrs. Pearl Witherspoon Howard, daughter of William H. Witherspoon of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Portsmouth, Va., and Charles W. Cashman Sr. of London Bridge, son of George P. Cashman, took place at 10 o'clock in the morning of July 23rd at Turners Sunland Gardens, St. Petersburg, Fla. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Milo H. McMillen in a setting in the sunken gardens which were blooming with Bird-in-Paradise, gardenias, bougainvillea, azaleas, orchids, lilies and roses with a background of palm trees.

The bride, given in marriage by her son, Horace F. Howard, of Portsmouth, Va., wore a street length wedding gown of light blue chantilly lace over satin, fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and a gored skirt. She wore blue accessories and a hat covered in ice blue sequins. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and lilies of the valley with white satin streamers.

Miss Louise Howard of St. Petersburg, Fla., was her mother's maid of honor. Her gown was an orchid pink silk organza trimmed with lace, with white accessories and she wore a purple orchid corsage.

Mr. Cashman had as his best man, a son of the bride, Joseph L. Howard of Baltimore, Md., with the Rev. H. H. Nixon of the Belgian Congo, Africa, as an usher.

Mrs. M. H. McMillen sang "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." A reception immediately followed the ceremony at the home of the bride in St. Petersburg. The table was decorated with a three tiered wedding cake in yellow and white and yellow and white flowers were used for decorations of the home. Those arriving were Mrs. Florence Carnes, Mrs. Fred Visser and Mrs. L. F. Lehman. Mrs. M. A. Turnock was in charge of the bride's book.

Mr. and Mrs. Cashman left for a motor trip to Miami and Key West, Fla., where they flew to Havana, Cuba. The bride traveled in an orchid packable dress with white accessories. Since August 15 they have been residing at London Bridge.

The out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. L. F. Lehman of Elkhart, Ind., the Rev. and Mrs. Dan Hillis, Brazil, South America, Mrs. J. L. Howard, Baltimore, Md., Mrs. H. F. Howard and son Horace F. Howard Jr. of Portsmouth, Mrs. H. H. Nixon of Belgium Congo, Africa, Miss Sue Stanfield, Jacksonville, Fla., and Miss Jean Sterling, Bluefield, W. Va.

FORT STORY TELLINGS -

NATIONAL GUARD SUPPORT
U. S. Army DUKW's turned retriever last week off the beaches of nearby Camp Pendleton as troops from Fort Story supported National Guard training.

Units of the 107th Anti-Aircraft Artillery Brigade, Virginia National Guard, are conducting firing exercises during their annual two-week encampment at Pendleton. The DUKW's, from Fort Story's 344th Amphibious Truck Company, working in conjunction with a tug boat from Fort Eustis and the 14th Battalion's motor launch, were on hand to retrieve the valuable radio controlled "drone" targets from the Atlantic Ocean. Lt. Bruce B. Brown (sic) was the officer in charge of the Fort Story men and equipment.

NEW STAFF OFFICERS

Three new additions to Fort Story's Headquarters staff have been announced. Lt. Howard P. Keefe has been named Chief of the Internal Revenue Branch of the Post Comptroller's Office; Lt. William Balyeat has been appointed assistant Post Legal Officer; and Chief WO Robert S. Andrews has taken over as Post Personnel Officer.

Lieutenant Keefe, a 1955 graduate of the University of Oregon, was employed as an addition with Arthur Anderson and Co., of Chicago, Ill., before entering the Army in 1956.

Lieutenant Balyeat graduated from Ohio State University Law School and practiced law in Lima, Ohio, before entering the service. He was recently graduated from the Transportation Basic Officers' Course of the U. S. Army Transportation School, Fort Eustis, Va.

Chief Warrant Officer Andrews, a veteran of more than 20 years of federal service, served as personnel officer of the 10th Transportation Battalion before stepping up to the post staff. A Norfolk resident, CWO Andrews and his wife live at 1142 Bolling Ave.

FINAL MARLEX
Landing Craft from Fort Story's 606th Heavy Boat Company will take on cargoes of Marine Corps Tanks at Little Creek Naval Base Tuesday, as they prepare to support the Navy's Operation Marlex.

This week's operation will be the eighth and final amphibious assault problem staged by the Navy this summer that the Army staff have supported. The Marlex operations are designed to train Naval ROTC Midshipmen in amphibious assault tactics, by allowing them to participate in the assaults side by side with Regular Marine and Navy personnel.

The Army LCM-6's will join with Navy small craft in taking personnel and equipment into the beaches of Camp Pendleton, where the exercises are held. Capt. Alvin Thomas is the commanding officer of the 606th Boat Company.

RESERVISTS

The final encampment of the US Army Reservists to train at Fort Story this summer have embarked on an intensive training schedule this week. The Reservists, from six Transportation Corps units from the First, Second and Third Army Areas, will be attached to the 462nd Terminal Battalion of Trenton, N.J., for the duration of their two-weeks' stay here.

Nearly 2000 Reservists have served at Fort Story this summer, implementing training they receive during the year at their hometown armories. Summer training for 1957 here, as at other Army posts, have emphasized individual training aimed at qualifying each Reservist in his own military skill.

Units making up the final encampment are, in addition to the 462nd, the 297th Terminal Service Company, of Boston, Mass.; the 456th Amphibious Truck Company of Richmond; the 946th Terminal Service Company of Bangor, Me.; the 978th Terminal Service Company of Tampa, Fla., and the 459th Amphibious Truck Company of Cleveland, Ohio.

KOREAN OFFICERS VISIT

The Army's Landing Craft Retriever and the BARC, modern developments in Military Transportation, held the attention of three high-ranking Korean Army Transportation Corps officers at Fort Story Tuesday.

Col. Am Dong Yeup, Deputy Chief of Transportation for the Korean Army, and Colonels Oh Chel and Chul Dong H. Transportation Officers for the First and Second Korean Armies respectively visited the post on a brief orientation tour. They were accompanied by Col. Samuel W. Thompson, of the U. S. Army Transportation Supply and Maintenance Command and Capt. Gordon Avison, interpreter and escort officer.

After reviewing the Fort Story Honor Guard under the command of Lt. Jesse Smith, the visitors met with Col. George E. Woods Jr., Fort Story's Commanding Officer, before touring battalion training sites and observing amphibious equipment.

PX BRANCH OPENS

A branch of Fort Story's Post Exchange will make living a little easier for members of the 107th AAA Brigade, Virginia National Guard, who are currently undergoing training at nearby Camp Pendleton, Va.

Maj. Gen. Sheppard Crump, Adjutant General of Virginia, cut the ribbon officially opening the branch exchange at Camp Pendleton, which will be managed by Mrs. Mary Jenkins of Fort Story. Participating in the ceremony were Brig. Gen. F. H. Garber, of Richmond, commanding general of the 10th AAA Brigade, and CWO Darwin Givens, Fort Story Post Exchange Officer.

A barber shop and a canteen will be operated in conjunction with the exchange, which will stock shaving articles, stationery and other small items.

CEREMONIAL REVIEW

A ceremonial review by nearly 500 Reservists at Fort Story last Friday honored the retirement of Capt. Lester F. Fitzgerald of the 10th Transportation Battalion, who completes more than 22 years of federal service this month.

The parade, on the post parade field, marked the conclusion of two weeks of Active Duty Training for the USAR troops, members of 11 units from Massachusetts, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Florida. Commanding the troops for the parade was Lt. Col. Andrew J. Kelly, of Detachment (3), 8001st Army Reserve Transportation Service Unit, Boston, Mass.

Maj. Gen. Rush B. Lincoln Jr., commanding general of the U. S. Army Transportation Training Command, shared the reviewing stand with Capt. Fitzgerald and Sgt. James C. Russell, Fort Story's Soldier of the Month.

Captain Fitzgerald enlisted in the Regular Army in 1933. He was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in 1944 and served at various posts on the West Coast and in the Far East until reporting to Fort Story in 1955. Captain Fitzgerald numbers among his decorations the Commendation Ribbon with Medal Pendant.

INTER-SERVICE SALUTE

The Fort Story Color Guard and a battalion of troops from this US Army post joined Navy and Marine units Friday afternoon in a parade at the Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base as an inter-service salute to Adm. H. Kent Hewitt.

The Fort Story marching unit, was made up of members of the US Army post joined Navy and Marine units Friday afternoon in a parade at the Little Creek Naval Amphibious Base as an inter-service salute to Adm. H. Kent Hewitt.

MR. MRS. DERRICKSON TO ENTERTAIN SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Derrickson Jr., of Indianapolis, Ind., will entertain at an "at home" on Sunday afternoon in honor of Miss Elizabeth Anne Huffington and Herman Richard Furr Jr., whose marriage will take place August 31. The party will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Derrickson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Derrickson on Pocahontas Drive.

The guests will include the members of the wedding party and immediate families.

Mr. Joseph Yeamans of Richmond was the guest last weekend of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Winn Jr. at their home on Raleigh Drive.

Mrs. Frank Dusch and Mrs. E. A. Eagerstead of Norfolk have left for a trip to Salt Lake City, California and Mexico.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Arnold of Bayside announce the birth of their second child, first daughter, Elizabeth Setarah, on Tuesday, August 6 at Virginia Beach Hospital. Mrs. Arnold is the former Miss Behjat Mansoor of Tehran, Iran.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl L. Fogelgren announce the birth of their first child, a son, Mark Leonard, on Saturday, Aug. 10, at De Paul Hospital. Mrs. Fogelgren is the former Miss Alta Jeannette Towe of Lynnhaven.

Dr. and Mrs. Claborn Willcox Fitchett announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, Mary Page, on Saturday, Aug. 10, at Norfolk General Hospital. Mrs. Fitchett is the former Miss Margaret Page Hiltch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rives C. W. Hiltch. Dr. Fitchett is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Marion S. Fitchett of Norfolk.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher F. Garlock and Mrs. Garlock's mother, Mrs. D. Gray Langhorne will leave Monday to spend 10 days at the Homestead, Hot Springs.

MY FRIEND

Folks used to wonder what Grandpa Brown and I had in common. He must have been close to eighty when I was just a kid. But I remember him as one of the best friends I ever had.

He was a wonderful old man, with a simple, native wisdom. We used to go fishing together, and he would talk to me about God and Faith and Love. I remember he used to say people shouldn't wait until they're in trouble before going to Church. "When you're happy," he told me, "take time out to offer a prayer of thanks for your good fortune."

The Church, he used to say, had acted as a balance wheel for him during good times, and a bulwark during bad times.

Down through the centuries the Church has made great Christians out of unassuming people, who in turn have transmitted the blessings of the Church to the coming generations. I hope I can impress Grandpa Brown's Faith and Wisdom upon others as I was impressed by him.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest force on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his community and nation. (3) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to Church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sarah Sadler School of Dance In Two Locations

Sarah Sadler, Director of the Sarah Sadler School of Dance, has announced that this year for the first time, she will conduct dance classes at the Baylake Pines School on Shore Drive. These classes will be in addition to the classes conducted at the Virginia Beach Studios for the past six years.

Miss Sadler, who in private life is Mrs. Wade Williams, has recently returned from New York where she studied with some of America's leading Dance Masters for the latest techniques in the dance field. While in New York, Miss Sadler attended the Dance Educators of America convention at the Plaza Hotel, which was attended by Dance Educators from throughout the United States. As there is a growing trend and interest in the field of Modern Jazz, Miss Sadler will include this dance phase in her curriculum this coming season, along with ballet, and Ballroom.

Registration for the fall season will be held Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons, September 10th and 11th, from 3:30 to 5:30 PM at the Baylake Pines School on Shore Drive for students residing in that area. Virginia Beach registrations will be held Thursday and Friday afternoons, Sept. 12th and 13th from 3:30 to 5:30 PM at the Virginia Beach Studios, 214 6th Street. Classes are scheduled to begin Sept. 16.

BAYLAKE METHODIST NEWS

The Methodist Youth Fellowship of the Baylake Pines Methodist Church held a "Back to School Party," Saturday night, August 17, at 7 p.m. at the home of Erna Reynolds on Ben Gunn Road. The young people were all dressed like First Graders, first day at school. Mr. and Mrs. David Whitaker are counselors for the group.

COMMISSION ON EDUCATION AND SUNDAY SCHOOL WORK

The Commission on Education and Workers Conference of the Sunday School met jointly Wednesday night, August 14, at the home of David Whitaker, on James Street.

Teachers made plans for "Promotion Sunday" which will be the last Sunday in September at which time the Sunday School pupils will be promoted.

The group also discussed programs and plans for Family Night in the church for the coming year. It is the custom of the church to have Four Family Nights during the year.

CHESAPEAKE BEACH MEN'S CLUB FISH FRY

The Men's Club of Chesapeake Beach, under the direction of their president, U. L. (Pete) Harmon, are planning a huge Fish Fry, Friday night, August 23, at the Chesapeake Beach Community Center.

Their deal is "all the fish you can eat for $1." Which should bring a big crowd. Dinner will be served from 5 p.m. until 8:30 p.m.

The fish will be fried by none other than the Sheriff of Princess Anne County, John Marr, who is a past master at the art of frying fish.

The committee in charge of arrangements are: R. E. Meyerhoffer, W. J. Slade Jr., D. J. Wilkins, J. D. Bender and Carey Fox.

According to Pete Harmon all of the proceeds of the Fish Fry will go towards paying off the indebtedness on the parking lot.

BAYSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Junior High Class of the Bayside Christian Church visited Temple Israel and the Greek Orthodox Church on Granby St. Wednesday afternoon, August 14.

The class is studying altars of the different faiths and the trip was arranged by the class teacher, Mrs. D. B. Smith Jr., who accompanied the group.

By previous arrangement, the

Scanning... THE BEACH By MIKE KATSIAS

In the last few months the nation's newspapers and magazines have elaborately inspected the worth of the modern teenager of today in this democratic country of ours. Our own Norfolk papers have given us a picture of glowing scope concerning the youngsters of the Tidewater area. What about a look at Virginia Beach's crop?

The teenager of our town is a power-packed assortment of an energetic person who always has something to do. Many of the tourists who have visited our resort remark of the willingness to work exhibited by the youngsters. They work at every feasible job the beach offers and on top of this, participate in such after-hours play as baseball.

Even before the summer draws to a close, they are out searching for employment after school during the rest of the year. Yes, we can take a great deal of pride in the youngsters of our ever-growing city, they'll hold their own against any comers!

Glad to hear that Bob Gheba, former WBOP announcer, is back on his feet and saving these days for WVEC-TV. Bob's the easy-going type of guy who has the knack for fitting like a tailored glove. Peace!

The recent heavy rains reminded me of a joke that is guaranteed to wipe a smile on your face: Driving through a blinding rainstorm, Mr. Wheelie was further harassed by the incessant pinging and criticism of his wife beside him. Suddenly, however, she ceased talking, and simply sat there shaking her head back and forth vigorously. Mr. Wheelie enjoyed the respite without question for about twenty miles, but then decided to investigate the phenomenon. He soon discovered what had happened. Mrs. Wheelie's nose was firmly caught in the windshield wiper!

This is the time of the season when evaluations are in order and merchants are eyeing the Labor Day holiday and the arrival of the mystic Shrine to boost the final results. The Shriners are of colorful vintage, the beach is in for some hilariously, hectic happenings.

Large, looming shadow of Tom Strangle is dominating the golfing scene these days. The Princess Anne linkman has garnered a host of tournaments this summer and he appears to have every indication of continuing his winning ways. Many of the onlookers who follow the golfing trail say this fellow shoots like a pro.

In this day of high wages and still higher prices, here's a joke with an evident moral: An $8000 limousine shot by a jalopy on a country road. The driver leaned out and bellowed, "Hey, rube! What's making that awful rattle in that chariot of yours?" "I reckon," answered the owner of the jalopy, "it must be the $7600 jingling in my pocket."

W. Russell Hatchett Named Pollution Committee Head

Virginia Beach City Manager W. Russell Hatchett was named chairman of the joint committee of cities to help overcome oil pollution in Hampton Roads area waters.

Hatchett was elected to head the group in a meeting held in Newport News on Tuesday. Hampton's City Manager C. E. Johnson was elected secretary.

In his first official act Hatchett named Johnson, City Manager of C. B. Higgins, of Newport News; C. H. Dalby, of Norfolk; R. J. Webbon, executive secretary to the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors, and John Lullie, of South Norfolk to the committee.

"We've got to meet often enough to keep this ball rolling," Hatchett told the officials. He said it is largely a matter of educating the public to cooperate and report violations, and added it would be necessary to determine to what extent area members of Congress will help.

Earlier, Newport News Mayor Robert B. Smith—at whose invitation the first oil pollution conference was held here June 24—said Reps. Robeson of the First

W. RUSSELL HATCHETT

District and Hardy of the Second have endorsed the movement and asked to be kept informed of its steps.

During their first conference, officials indicated the answer to the problem may rest in stricter enforcement of existing laws and regulations.

Friends School Is Growing; New Building Ready Soon

By Kay Doughtie Sewell
VIRGINIA BEACH—The two-year-old Virginia Beach Friends School (youngsters of all grades) in the U. S. 51 will embark on its third year September 9. Not only will a fourth grade be added, but a new building, which is expected to be completed by Oct. 15. Many are already familiar with the existing building, in the traditional red brick characteristic of most Quaker schools and of characteristically simple architecture, set on eight acres of wooded land on Larkin Road just west of Linton Park School.

Fresh, bright, and adequate for the first two years, the 1957 student enrollment demands another new building. This new building, also of red brick, with two sides of glass, giving out on terraces, will be situated south of the playground. There will be four classrooms, each 32 feet by 22, plus rest rooms, heating plant, and individual student lockers on each side of the main corridor.

This year, there will be two kindergarten classes, and these will have their home in the original building. The upper grades will have the new building. Each class will be limited to 20 pupils. The size of each room will permit room for library space, a science corner, and other special activities.

Fourth grade teacher will be Mrs. John B. Doyle, Jr. for the past two years president of the Virginia Beach Art Assn., and already well established in the community as an experienced fourth grade teacher. Because her class, to date, consists mostly of boys, she expects to be disappointed in her classroom a workbench for manual training. Girls will have a simple course in cooking and homemaking.

Dr. John E. Lippincott and Mrs. Robert Wilson, both members of the Friends School Committee, have already on hand blueprints for the gradual construction of other similar buildings, or clusters of buildings. This long range plan embraces a co-educational school plant which will extend through high school.

To quote William Penn, who founded the first Friends School in America, in Philadelphia in 1689, when he wrote his wife still in England regarding the education of their own children:

"Let their learning be liberal... but let it be useful knowledge such as is consistent with truth and godliness, not cherishing a vain conversation or idle mind, but ingeniously mixed with industry is good for the body and the mind too."

Also, to quote Penn: "The first thing obvious to children is sense is sensible... it were happy if we studied nature more in natural things, and acted according to nature whose rules are few, plain, and most reasonable." On such basic principles, and more besides, the Virginia Beach Friends School, like other Friends Schools, is operating, according to Mrs. Wilson. Their building plans are equally in accord.

City School Bus Schedule Set

The route of the city school bus which will begin operation on September 8 has been announced by Elmer Tarrall, assistant superintendent of schools.

The bus will leave 49th Street and Atlantic avenue at approximately 8:15 a.m. It will proceed on Atlantic avenue to 40th Street then over to Pacific avenue to 28th Street to Mediterranean avenue to 24th Street and Baltic avenue to 14th Street to Cooke School.

The bus will then leave Cooke School at approximately 8:30 a.m. to Mediterranean avenue to Norfolk avenue, north two blocks to Caribbean avenue, South to Carolina avenue, east to Baltic, south to Winston-Salem avenue, east to Atlantic avenue to 9th Street and Norfolk avenue to Mediterranean avenue to 14th Street to Cooke School.

Annual Shrine Meet Set For Virginia Beach

George E. Stringfellow, Deputy Imperial Potentate, A.A.O.N. M.S., of North America, will represent the Imperial Potentate at the 14th annual meeting of the Mid-Atlantic Shrine Association to be held at Virginia Beach September 5th through 8th.

The 82,690 members of the 15 temples comprising the Mid-Atlantic will be represented by some 12,000 shriners and their wives who will occupy 60 hotels and motels, which have begun preparations to receive these shriners from six states and the District of Columbia.

Virginia Beach has taken on a festive air, as gay bunting and "Welcome Noble" banners are being draped across the front of business houses. The streets will also be hung with the red, gold and green colors of the shrine.

Beach activities, which usually close Labor Day, will remain open through the last day of the convention.

In addition to the long and colorful parade scheduled for Saturday, September 7, at 2:30 p.m., there will be other activities open to the general public. These include the Chanters Concert, consisting of 125 voices from the chanter groups of several of the temples, the competitive performances of the drill teams, oriental bands, Drum and Bugle Corps, street dancing and like forms of entertainment. Herman S. Nowitzky, past potentate of Khedive Temple, Norfolk, is the president of the association. Joseph Bassett, also a past potentate of Khedive, is general chairman.

J. Ronald McLean, illustrious Potentate of the host temple, Khedive, will have all uniform units of his temple present for the occasion.

Boat Handling Course Again Planned Here

The U. S. Power Squadrons course in "Piloting and Small Boat Handling" will again be given at the Cavalier Yacht & Country Club beginning Tuesday evening, September 10th at 8:00 p.m. Elizabeth River Power Squadron, which is the sponsoring organization, has given this course at Virginia Beach for the past five years. Nearly a hundred local boatmen have successfully completed the course.

These classes are free and are open to persons over 18 years of age who are interested in boating. You do not have to own a boat to join the class. While the Squadron is a men's organization, many ladies have taken the course and received certificates.

The piloting course is now almost a national institution since it has been given for many years in boating centers all over the United States. At the present time the Squadron has over 32,000 members and several times that number have passed the course.

Classes at the Cavalier Yacht & Country Club will require one night a week for thirteen weeks and include the following subjects:—Equipment and Government Regulations, Rules of the Nautical Road, Seamanship, Safety Afloat, The Compass, Aids to Navigation, Charts and Piloting, and Manners and Customs Afloat.

Men who enroll in the class are under no obligation to join the Squadron, but become eligible for membership upon successful completion of the course. Those who do join may if they wish take additional courses which include, Advanced Piloting, Celestial Navigation, Engine Maintenance, Weather and Seamanship.

While the Squadron is primarily an educational organization, it also arranges several cruising rendezvous and piloting contests each summer season.

Final Scene in City Recreation Program

This was the scene last week as youngsters sorted paring gifts as the city summer recreation program at Virginia Beach High School was brought to a close. The scene took place in the school gymnasium.

Summer Recreation Program Successful

The 1957 Summer Recreation Program of Virginia Beach has come to a close last Friday with a whopping party which was held at the Va. Beach High School. Each child received at least five or more gifts and plenty of goodie bags were on hand to pacify the hundreds of hungry children who attended the closing out party.

The summer program was a tremendous success because of the thousands of children who used the facilities at the W. Cooke school and the Va. Beach high school. The average weekly attendance exceeded 1500. In addition to this a large number of children and adults made very good use of our park and tennis courts.

Some of the highlights of the 1957 program were exhibits which were held at the board walk consisted of model displays, arts and crafts, tournament week, field events, checker and chess tournaments and in addition to the special events the children were treated to beach parties and parties which were held at the Park and the AAA.

Mr. Tepp, the recreation director wishes to thank his co-workers Mrs. Avert and Miss Ewing for a job well done. It was their interest, devotion, enthusiasm in the welfare of the children which made this year the most successful of all. Thanks to the parents who gave up some of their time to come by and help us entertain the children on Friday. Thanks to the people of Va. Beach and the Recreation Committee, Chief Bubba Bayne, Frank Tarrall, Charles Kiley, F. M. Durham and Jim Johnson for your appropriation in making this program possible for the children. Your consideration made many a youngster a happy child this summer. Thanks to the local and the Norfolk newspapers for your wonderful cooperation in publicizing our program. It was your media through which we were able to encourage many youngsters to attend our programs. And in parting may I say "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You Until We Meet Again."

Service Medal Given Governor In Ceremony

Governor Thomas B. Stanley received Virginia's highest civilian award last Friday at special ceremonies at Camp Pendleton. The Virginia Distinguished Service Medal was presented to the governor by Major General Crump, the adjutant general of Virginia.

A citation accompanying the award said: "For conspicuous and meritorious service to the United States and Commonwealth of Virginia from 1929 to 1957. His devotion to duty, unquestioned integrity, matchless seal for the welfare of state and country, and his unselfish characteristics have been an inspiration to all who served under his leadership."

"His distinguished public record reflects great credit and honor upon him and the Commonwealth of Virginia." A colorful review of the six battalions of the 107th Brigade took place on the parade ground of this state-owned military reservation which is located near this city. A 19-gun salute for the governor preceded the formal review of troops. A reception and luncheon in the governor's honor was held that noon and later in the National Guard anti-aircraft battalions put on a firing display for the more than 400 military and civilian dignitaries on hand for the ceremony.

OFFICIALS WANT NORTH-SOUTH BAY CROSSING

Delegations from Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County are expected to be on hand for the hearing in Richmond on September 5 before the State Highway Commission on the routing of the proposed bridge-tunnel across Chesapeake Bay.

Both delegations are going to Richmond by private car, it was announced. Among the Virginia Beach group will be city officials and civic leaders representing all phases of community life here.

Richard J. Webbon, executive secretary to the Princess Anne County Board of Supervisors, announced this week that all five members of the Board of Supervisors will make the trip to Richmond.

In addition to the Board members most of the constitutional officers of the county are expected to go to Richmond.

It is the hope of both city and county officials that a large group from this area will be present in Richmond so that a solid front favoring the north-south routing of the bridge-tunnel may be presented.

Several weeks ago an engineering survey report revealed that the north-south route would be by far the more desirable, but opponents on the Peninsula have continued to argue for an east-west crossing.

The hearing is being conducted by the State Highway Commission on the feasibility of adopting as the best or most desirable route the project.

In Virginia Beach persons who wish to go to Richmond should contact the Chamber of Commerce office, telephone 362, and transportation may be arranged. Information can also be obtained by calling the City Hall.

Webbon is handling arrangements for those in Princess Anne County who wish to join the Board members and the county officials at the hearing on September 5.

Million Plus Set For UCF Fund Campaign

The United Communities Fund campaign goal to be raised in the October drive has been set at $1,202,383. It was announced Tuesday following a meeting of the executive committee of the fund.

Chest officials felt that the goal is a good workable one since it includes the agencies of the former Virginia Beach - Princess Anne Community Chest and also represents one new agency, the Association for Retarded Children. The fund now has 56 agencies.

The new United Communities Fund embraces the territory of Norfolk City, Princess Anne County, the City of Virginia Beach, East Norfolk County and South Norfolk.

The goal for this year represents a four per cent increase over last year's total. Last year's goal for the Norfolk Community Chest alone was $1,068,000. The new goal shows an increase of only $172,483 over last year including the 60,000 goal for Virginia Beach-Princess Anne.

Fund President J. W. Wood expressed extreme pleasure with the total amount to be raised. He complimented the agencies in submitting their budgets and holding them down.

The drive this year will be held from October 21 to November 1, it was announced.

Anne Stark, Leigh P. Forbes Exchange Vows

St. George's Episcopal Church, Port Arthur, Tex., was the setting Saturday, Aug. 17, for the marriage of Miss Anne Stark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bailey Stark of Port Arthur, to Leigh Powell Forbes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hobday Forbes of Virginia Beach.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. M. Lindgren. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of peau de sole in bridal white, fashioned along princess lines. Her veil of imported English illusion was arranged from a cap of orange blossoms and pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade of white orchids with yellow throats, surrounded with clematis, lily of the valley and white roses.

Miss Suzanne Forbes of Virginia Beach, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor and Mrs. Charles Hobday Forbes III of Virginia Beach was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Misses Marianne Picton, Norma Matlock, Donna Leskey of Shreveport, La., Jane Hanemann of New Orleans, Gay Baker, Roberta Atkinson and Becky Fuqua of Texarkana, Ark.

Miss Linda Ball of Virginia Beach, cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Ann Mulkey were junior bridesmaids. The attendants wore ballerina length gowns of mauve pink silk organza over tulle, fashioned along princess lines. The attendants carried crescent bouquets of white gardenias and the junior attendants carried nosegays. Matching bow headbands completed their attire.

Charles Hobday Forbes III of Virginia Beach was best man for his brother. The groomsmen were Charles Hobday Forbes Jr., father of the bridegroom, Gene Sutter of New Orleans, Jimmy Everett of Olden, Tex., James N. House, of Houston, Tex., David Provost, Charles E. Williams and Edward Linn III, all of Port Arthur.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the Port Arthur Club. Later the couple left for a wedding trip to Virginia. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Forbes will reside in North Carolina, where both will continue their college education.

Busy Activities At Scott Memorial During Past Week

During the past week, the youth of Scott Memorial Methodist Church of Oceana, have been busily engaged in "Youth Activities Week." The program included a youth supper each evening, served by the ladies of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. Subjects discussed by the youth each evening included United Nations, Juvenile Delinquency, Integration and others. General theme for the week of activities was "I Serve."

Climax of the activity was reached in the Sunday morning worship service in which the youth had entire charge of the service, in keeping with an annual custom. Presiding in the special service was Miss Joyce Watson. The Youth Message was given by James Glasscock. Misses Betty Upson and Deloris Laney sang a duet.

Much of the success of the special period of Youth Activity was due to the fine leadership of the new superintendent of the Youth Division, Mr. Robert Van-Druff.

The pastor of Scott Memorial, the Rev. F. H. Strieby, with Mrs. Strieby recently returned to Scott Memorial after a vacation which included a trip to their cabin in West Virginia, to Niagara Falls and a visit with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ross E. Alger in Princeton, N. J. The Alger, with their infant son, Eric Drawbaugh, will be guests of the Striebys during the Labor Day weekend.

Also guest of the Rev. and Mrs. Strieby for the past several days have been Mrs. Strieby's father, Dr. E. M. Coffey, of Rome, Ga.

The Scott Memorial Church is now making plans for Home Coming Services on Sunday, Sept. 15.

Letha's Shop New Addition To Shopping Center

Another new addition to the Hilltop business area has been added with the formal opening of Letha's Shop Saturday, August 31. Earlier this month, James Pharmacy formally opened their doors for business. Owned and operated by Mrs. Letha Fendren, Letha's Shop was located at London Bridge. The present location will be on Laskin Road near the Virginia Beach Drive-In Theatre. Mrs. Fendren announced that Letha's will feature ladies and Misses wearing apparel. During the formal opening, there will be gifts for the children and carnations for the ladies. Door prizes will also be awarded.

Va. Beach Represented At Canadian Exposition

Through the Chamber of Commerce and The Hotel Association, Virginia Beach is being represented at the Canadian Exposition in Toronto by Miss Bess Melvin from The Laura Lambie Advertising Agency.

The two week's travel show which started September 23rd is the largest exposition of its kind in Canada and attracts an attendance estimated well over 500,000. Virginia is one of the three states in the entire United States to be invited to participate. The Canadian Exposition is one of the many travel shows through which The Virginia Travel Council promotes travel and vacationing in the Old Dominion State.

Robert Nelson, President of The Virginia Travel Council and former President of NATO is attending the show with a staff of workers from various parts of the state representing the Travel Council. These representatives will man The Virginia exhibit area throughout the show. This year the exhibit displays a large background screen with four by five feet photo murals of various attractions in the state including Virginia Beach. Other promotional material includes folders and posters and advertising souvenirs.

Chapel To Use Linkhorn Park School Building

The Virginia Beach Community Chapel on Laskin Road will be holding Sunday School and morning worship services at the Linkhorn Park Elementary School on Laskin Road beginning this Sunday, the first of September. Richard Woodward, the pastor of the Community Chapel, stated that the Princess Anne County School Board gave permission for the use of the new school building at a meeting of the school board on the 20th of August. Mr. Woodward announced that Sunday School classes will be held at 9:45 a.m. with classes for all ages, and the morning worship service will be held at 11:00 a.m. The Sunday and Wednesday evening services which meet at 8:00 o'clock will continue to be held at the Community Chapel's future building site on Laskin Road near the Linkhorn school.

The move to the Linkhorn school was made necessary by the growth the chapel experienced when a Sunday morning service was begun and Mr. Woodward was taken on as a full-time pastor early this month. Plans have been accepted by the steering committee of the Chapel for a contemporary modern edifice to be erected soon on the property next to the American Legion on Laskin Road. Mr. Edwin A. Wilson, an architect from Charlotte, N. C. presented these plans to the congregation early in the summer.

The people of this interdenominational church would like to extend a cordial invitation to everyone in the Virginia Beach area to come and worship with them this Sunday and in the near future at the Linkhorn Park Elementary School.

Children's Home Chairmen Meet

Plans for the Fund Drive for the Children's Home Society were completed at the luncheon meeting at the Pine Tree Inn on Wednesday, Aug. 28.

The campaign, an annual door-to-door solicitation, will begin on September 9 and will last for a period of one week. A Gordon Stephenson, well-known realtor and civic leader, is general chairman for Princess Anne County and Virginia Beach. He is being assisted by the following district chairmen: Mrs. David H. Clark, Va. Beach; Mrs. James Buffington, Princess Anne; Mrs. W. T. Byrnes, Mrs. J. B. Maddrey, Mrs. J. D. Gregory, Mrs. Ryland J. Shipp, Kempville; Mrs. Marie Carawan, Blackwater; Mrs. James P. Local sponsors of the Children's Home Society include the Rev. Henry C. Barton, Mrs. G. Bentley Byrd, Mrs. Richard M. Cook, Mrs. Charles D. Dean, Mrs. H. Floyd Dornire, Mrs. Ralph Gifford, Mrs. Henry C. Lewis, Mrs. Alfred L.

Nicholson, Mrs. A. P. Randolph, Mrs. F. S. Royter, Mrs. L. Crawford Syer, Mrs. James P. Sadler. The Children's Home Society of Virginia is the largest adoption agency in the state. This agency takes each child, places it in a carefully-selected home, and maintains a complete program of social service until the time when adoptive parents are chosen. Their method of fitting the child with the adoptive parents has proved highly successful. Last year, because of the generosity of the people of Virginia, they were able to care for 367 children, and place 127 for adoption. Any person interested in helping with this deserving drive, may contribute directly by sending his gift to Children's Home Society, General Delivery, Virginia Beach, Virginia.

August 19 — The game between the American Legion and Amnacs was rained out and will be played during the week of August 26th.

August 20 — Behind the 2 hit pitching of Everett Horton the Bears won over the Peppers 9 to 1. Horton struck out 10 and walked 10. He also collected 2 hits for 4 tries. Don Russell had 3 for 4 tries for the Bears. Glen Withrow pitched for the Peppers, gave up 9 hits, collected one of the Pepper hits and teammate J. P. Orsigs the other one. The Peppers scored 1 run in the second and the Bears tied the score in the third. A big fourth inning scoring 6 runs put the Bears too far in front to catch.

August 21 — The American Legion defeated the Peppers 15 to 5. For the Legion, Gerald Bolling gave up 5 hits, walked 8 and struck out 3. James Turner had a heavy bat, getting 4 hits for four tries: 1 a homerun with 1 on and 1 double, 2 singles. Bobby DeMille followed Turner at bat with a homerun for 1 for 2. Tommy Moyer and Mike Stowe each collected 2 for 3. Dick Cannon went 4 innings on the mound for the Peppers, giving up 9 hits, 3 walks and striking out 2. Mickey Stever gave up 2 hits, 3 walks and struck out 1. Johnny Sprull had 1 for 2 for the Peppers and J. P. Orsigs 1 for 3.

August 22 — The Pirates and Amnacs battled to a 3-3 tie and after 7 innings the game was called because of darkness and will be replayed at a later date. Steve Gallagher went 6 innings for the Amnacs, giving up 7 hits, striking out 6 and walking 2. Mike Oxner pitched 1 inning, striking out 2. Steve Gallagher, Robert Mike, and Mike Oxner collected singles for all the Amnacs hits. For the Pirates Tommy Garceau gave up 3 hits, struck out 7 and walked 8. Eddie Johnson pitched 1 inning, striking out 2. Robert Kelton had 2 for 3 times at bat and Tommy Garceau 2 for 4.

August 23 — The Peppers finished their season with a loss to the Pirates—9 to 5. For the Pirates Robert Kelton and Dale Honeck gave up 6 hits, walked 4 and struck out 4. Tommy Garceau had 3 hits for 3 times at bat, scored 3 runs and batted in 4 runs. Johnny Sprull went the distance for the losers giving up 9 hits, striking out 4 and walking 1. He collected 2 hits for 3 at bats; Larry Bell had 2 for 4 and Wayne Dickson 1 for 1.

Carnival Scheduled for August 24th at Carey Field. The Carnival scheduled for August 24th at Carey Field was cancelled because of the weather. The Carnival is now planned for Saturday, August 31, starting at 5:00 p.m. at Carey Field. The field is located on Virginia Beach Boulevard at Lynnhaven. There will be food, drinks, homemade cakes and candy, popcorn, ponies, cars, and many games with interesting prizes for winners. At the last regularly scheduled meeting the following officers were elected for next year: W. B. Allen, President; Irving Rosenberg, Vice President; Charlene Dugan, Recording Secretary; Mary Dubosky, Corresponding Secretary.

Recreation Group to Stage Social Meeting

OCEANA — The Oceana Recreation Committee will stage a social meeting Thursday night, September 5th at 8 p.m. in the Oceana Volunteer Fire Department. First on the agenda will be bingo. Eight prizes will be given and no admission charge for playing. In addition to the bingo games a short movie will be shown by Jim Lall, County Recreation Director, on the summer playgrounds. Also door prizes will be given and refreshments served. No admission will be charged for the refreshments or any portion on the program. The idea of the social is to interest more adults in the Oceana and surrounding community in becoming members of the Oceana Recreation Committee.

The social is being staged strictly for the adults and no children will be permitted. The Oceana Recreation Committee is an organization working for the betterment and improvement of recreation and facilities for the youth and adults in the Oceana vicinity. This is a non-profit organization and more parents are urged to attend these meetings to find out just what can be done in the line of recreation and facilities.

Currently, the committee has been organizing and supporting various athletic leagues and teams; however, their future plans call for a teenage club, playground and apparatus, additional athletic fields, etc.; however, before this is possible more adults must take an active interest in the welfare of the youth of the community.

Those non-musical participants in the television program included Senor Wences, a gifted ventriloquist, and Elvis Presley, a powerful argument in favor of compulsory military service. J. P. Shanley in the New York Times.

Girls' Basketball League Creating Teen Interest

For the past several years, the boys of Virginia Beach in the age 9 to 16 group have had a good athletic program during the summer months with their Little League and Babe Ruth programs. However, the girls in this same age group have had little to keep them occupied during that same period.

Recently, John Tucker, local life insurance man and coach of the state champion Virginia Beach Surf Queens basketball team, decided to experiment with a summer basketball league for girls of high school or in the 13 to 18 age bracket. Tucker, being highly interested in the sport and having three daughters of his own, had heard much about the desire the girls had for playing basketball.

In late July a meeting was called to determine the interest of the girls. The turnout was very gratifying with approximately 45 girls registering for the program. A schedule was drawn for one round of play and a final playoff for a championship and teams were chosen (four).

Members of Tucker's Surf Queen sextette were appointed to coach the different teams and league play commenced the following Wednesday night in the high school gym.

Many of the girls, especially the ones in the 13-14 group had never played in a regular game, but the league was organized with the idea that everyone who wished to play could get in the game. Each night there has been a marked improvement in the play of the girls.

Parents of many of the girls have been on hand to cheer the daughters and their respective teams. One thing that worries these interested in the league is that there are not more parents present.

A round has been played and last night the first round of the Tournament got underway. The semi-finals will be played next Wednesday night with the Championship and Consolation games on Wednesday night, Sept. 11th. All games start at 8 p.m.

The girls are already looking forward to a better organized league that will operate all of next summer. It is hoped that arrangements can be made to play outside under lights and that civic groups or church groups will sponsor the various teams. The cost would be negligible and with the teams representing some group the interest would be increased. This summer's teams have been known as the Whites, Greens, Blues and Yellow and the girls wear short sleeve blouses to match their team name.

Members of the Surf Queens that are helping the girls are: Barbara Kernan, Doris Eberidge, Geraldine Midgett, Becky Gallup and Allison Aylidette. These girls have regular drills to teach the girls the proper way to pass, catch, dribble, guard and shoot and next summer they think a few seasons in these phases of the game before the regular season starts would be of great benefit to all the league.

For those parents who haven't been out to see the girls play, a real treat is in store each Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the Virginia Beach High School gym.

County Baseball, Softball Play-offs

OCEANA — With the coming of fall "Old Man Baseball" and "Old Man Softball" are just about ready to hang up their spikes. The majority of the county baseball and softball leagues have completed their league play and are now in their play-offs for the county championships.

In the County Midget League, Diamond Springs met Davis Corner last Monday night to determine which would meet the Shelton Park nine in a two out of three series for the Midget championship. Diamond Springs and Davis Corner were tied for first half honors while Shelton Park won the second half with 10 wins and 2 losses.

Creeds defeated Diamond Springs in a crucial game last Sunday afternoon, 9-0, to gain a tie with the Diamond Springs Blue Devils for the second half of the County Junior League. Both teams had an 8 and 4 record for the second half of league play. The Blue Devils and Indians played a single game last Tuesday night for the second half lead. If Creeds won the game last Monday night they will meet each other in a two out of three series beginning Wednesday night at Kempville; however, if the Indians should lose, the Diamond Springs Blue Devils will win the county championship without a play-off since they would have won both halves of league play.

Down Oceana way a double elimination softball tournament is under way to determine the county championship of the Oceana Softball League. The five teams participating are Knotts Island, Western Auto, Oceana, Chesapeake Beach and NAS Oceana. The tournament started last Monday with two games scheduled nightly for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The results were not known when the paper went to press. Tonight a single game is scheduled in the semi-finals of the loser's bracket. Friday night the finals will be played and if necessary an additional game Saturday night. Games Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be played beginning at 8 p.m.

Western Auto and Knotts Island ended the second half of league play in a deadlock with 10 wins and 2 losses each.

The Oceana Women's Softball League ended in a three way tie between Creeds, Diamond Springs and Knotts Island. Each had identical records of 3 wins and 1 loss. A play-off will probably get underway Saturday afternoon, August 31st at 5:30 in the Oceana Stadium.

In the Mid-County Training School, the Kempville Blue Socks have taken in as many starts. The league will continue until September 20th.

Thalia Lynn Baptist Church Calls Pastor; Starts Sunday

A full program will begin at Thalia-Lynn Baptist Church with the coming of the new pastor, E. Irwin Moshier, to serve the church starting Sunday, September 1, 1957.

Thalia Lynn Baptist organized as a mission chapel under the auspices of First Baptist Church, Norfolk, has had an unusual growth and acceptance in the community extending from Davis Corner to London Bridge including most of the developments on either side of Virginia Beach Boulevard. So rapid was the growth that it was decided to organize the work into an independent church, June 30, 1957. A full organization for conducting Sunday School under the capable direction of Sunday School Superintendent Hilary Gilbert has been largely responsible for the interest and increase.

Other activities have been organized. There is a 15-man deacon board with Haywood F. Forbes, chairman. Other officers include Training Union Director, J. M. Duncan; Brotherhood President, George E. Powell Sr.; W. M. U. President, Mrs. Roy Booker Sr.; Chairman of Trustees, M. M. Bateman; Treasurer, B. Noel Fallwell; Clerk-Secretary, Mrs. W. L. Robinson; and Chairman of Ushers, U. A. Sallwasser.

The church recently purchased a home for the pastor on Pine Tree Drive in Thalia Shores. Negotiations are presently being made to secure property for a site for the church building. Meantime the church is holding its meetings in the Thalia Elementary School.

The new pastor, E. Irwin Moshier, is a graduate of Ouachita Baptist College, Arkadelphia, Ark., Bachelor of Arts Degree, and of Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Chattanooga, Tenn., Bachelor of Divinity Degree. He has served pastorates at Curtis, Wilmot, and Batesville, Ark., and the Ridgeview Baptist Church, Chattanooga, Tenn. While in "Arkansas" Mr. Moshier was Moderator of Ouachita and Independence Baptist Associations, Vice President of Arkansas Baptist State Training Union Convention, member of the State Baptist Executive Board, and served as an associational missionary under the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Mr. Moshier served as a Chaplain in the U. S. Army during World War II in European theater with the Fifth Tank Destroyer Group. He was recalled to active duty and served again as chaplain during the Korean conflict.

At present he is Vice President of the Norfolk Baptist Minister's Association and Associate Director of the Norfolk Baptist Association Training Union. He has most recently served as Associate Pastor, the First Baptist Church, Norfolk. Mr. Moshier is married, and he and his wife, Evelyn, have one son, David.

Miss Betty Louise Murden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Murden, of London Bridge, left today to spend several days in New Jersey with her roommate, Miss Natalie S. Wittich, from Sweet Briar College. On Saturday Miss Murden will be maid-of-honor for Miss Wittich when her marriage to John P. Marrow takes place at the Fortnightly Club in Plainfield, N.J.

New Automobile To Be Shown Here

TWO VIEWS OF THE EDESEL four-door hardtop in the Citation series dramatically illustrate the new styling concepts which make all Edsels so vitally different. The vertical grille, dual headlights and wraparound turn indicators which follow the bumper lines, plus the concave side scallop and horizontal taillights blended into the luggage compartment lid, present a completely integrated look of tailored elegance when viewed from any angle. The Edsel will go on display in all dealer showrooms Sept. 4th.

First Edsel Dealership In Area Opens Sept. 4

The first Edsel dealer in the area is building a new showroom here.

Adams Edsel, Inc., now engaged in remodeling an existing building on 17th street, extended, will add a new, six-car showroom to the structure.

Rhase Adams, owner of the new dealership, said that when it opens for business in time for the Sept. 4 showing of the new line of automobiles, the dealership will represent an $85,000 investment.

Adams said that he will have 10 new Edsels to show the public. He added that the new line, intended to compete with the Buick line, will feature four models: the Ranger, Pacer, Corsair and Citation. Four of the new cars have been shipped, Adams said.

Believed to be the first in the Tidewater area, Adams Edsel will begin operation with 12 employees. Lynn Kennett has been named manager of the firm, and Elwood Rea has been appointed service manager.

Parts for the new autos are now arriving to stock the complete service department, Adams said.

Exams To Be Held For Stockmen at Naval Shipyard

PORTSMOUTH — Applications for the position of stockman will be received for a two-week period at the Norfolk Naval Shipyard, according to an announcement by S. J. Casey, executive secretary of the Board of Civil Service Examiners there.

Applicants must have had at least one year of experience in two or more of the normal warehousing activities, including the physical receipt, storage, inventory, issue and rewarehousing of various classes or types of equipment, supplies, component parts, and checking against covering papers or documents.

In addition, competitors must undergo a written examination, lasting about two hours, to test aptitude for performing the duties of the positions.

Purpose of the examination is to establish an eligible register for filling future stockman positions at the shipyard, Naval Hospital, Naval Ammunition Depot, and the Marine Corps Supply Forwarding Annex, if the latter activity is not closed down.

Rate of pay for the position is $1.40 an hour.

Application card form 5000-AB, which may be obtained from shipyard or from any post office, must be filed at the shipyard not later than Monday, Sept. 9. Applications accepted after that date must be received by mail and bear a postmark on or before midnight, Sept. 9.

Ever-Growing County School System Set for New Fall Term

The final article in this series which has dealt with the important offices in the Princess Anne County governmental system is that office which handles the operation of our school system. Here is a personality sketch of a man and a system which have risen together to a formulated policy which represents an estimated $18,000,000.

For the past 24 years, Frank W. Cox has served in the challenging position of superintendent of this county's school system. It has been a tenure of office which he has blessed with a conservative, but visionary sense of direction. His is a position which has demanded the dedicated service which this educator and able administrator possesses.

The doors of Princess Anne County's schools will once more welcome its children for another academic year. Friday, September 6, is the opening day for the system's schools. It is estimated that a total of 18,500 will be entered in schools throughout the county. This figure includes 17,000 in the county schools, and 1,500 at Virginia Beach.

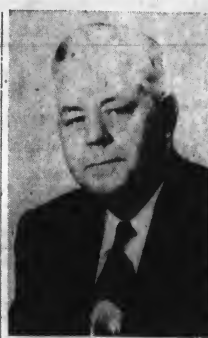

In order to properly meet the demands of such an ever-growing school enrollment, a staff of 800 full-time workers will be necessary. This figure represents teachers, clerks, maintenance workers, and those employed in the vital transportation system.

Cox mentioned that at the present time, 14 vacancies remain to be filled for teaching positions. The majority of these being on the elementary level. Properly staffing the system is one of the most important jobs which faces his office.

Three new educational structures will see occupancy for the first time next week with the formal opening of the schools. One of them is the new primary building at Little Creek. Then, the Larrymore School at Little Creek, a 28-room building, and the Woodstock School in Kempsville, a 20-room one are also ready.

"They will help fill the growing demand throughout the county for more school structures. They are good examples of a system which has grown to its present number as compared to the 3,500 when Cox first entered office.

Besides having the buildings ready, other features of the system are also in readiness. Faculty members for the various schools are ready to begin their teaching chores, clerks are prepared for the deluge of paper work, and those who compose the transportation system are in readiness to handle the county's school population.

FRANK W. COX
Superintendent of Schools

This business of running a school system is a continuous process which offers its administrators a continuous challenge. With such a man as Frank W. Cox at the helm, it is a process which shall continue to run smoothly.

NEWS FOR VETERANS

Asiatic influenza that, for the first time, recently hit the United States is the subject of a study by Veterans Administration to determine whether ultra-violet light can help prevent its spread.

The pilot project is functioning at the VA hospital in Livermore, Calif., core of the area where the disease first was noted in the United States, VA said.

The Livermore hospital is one of the few in the nation that is equipped with ultra-violet lights.

Dr. Ross McLean, director of professional services at the VA hospital in Baltimore, Md., is on temporary duty at Livermore as coordinator for the study. The research will be carried out by Dr. Harrison S. Collett, manager of the Livermore hospital, and his staff.

Dr. McLean said the primary aim of the project is to learn the value of irradiating indoor areas with ultra-violet light as a protection against influenza.

"We are particularly interested in determining if the Asiatic influenza virus is airborne and, if so, the effect of ultra-violet irradiation on airborne virus," he said.

Q—I have made arrangements to be admitted to a VA Hospital for treatment of a service-connected injury. I have no way of getting to the hospital, which is almost 100 miles from my home. Could the VA help me?

A—Yes. Government transportation to the hospital may be authorized. Also, when you are ready for discharge, you may obtain Government transportation home again.

Q—I am a disabled Korea veteran. If I take vocational rehabilitation training, will I receive one VA check each month, the same as Korea GI Bill trainees, out of which I'm supposed to take care of all my training costs?

A—No. Under the vocational rehabilitation program, VA will pay all training costs directly to your school, and also pay you a monthly subsistence allowance, based on the type of training and the number of your dependents.

Railway Historical Society to Convene in Roanoke This Weekend

A large number of people who glory in the sight and sound of trains will converge on Roanoke over Labor Day weekend for three intensive days of riding their hobby.

It will be the annual convention of the National Railway Historical Society, Inc. and some 400 members from thirty-odd chapters all over the country will attend. There will be no business sessions, resolutions or long-winded speeches for these railfans. They will just look, ride and take pictures.

Plans for Saturday, August 31 are for tours of the Norfolk and Western's shops and Shaffers Crossing engine facilities, the Virginian Railway's yard and engine house and optional trips on an N&W branch or to the nearby summit of the Blue Ridge where heavy main line steam trains surmount the grade.

The only formal gathering will be a Saturday night banquet in the Hotel Roanoke ballroom where the group will be addressed briefly by Stuart T. Saunders, N&W executive vice president, and E. Suter, the Virginian's general agent in Roanoke. NRHS President Edward G. Hooper, of Baltimore will welcome new chapters formed since last year's convention in Cleveland. They include units from Winston-Salem, N.C. and Bakersfield, Cal.

The convention's main event is on Sunday when a special train equipped with coaches, diners and open gondola cars departs early on the N&W main line west down the New River gorge to Bluefield, W. Va. and out a coal branch to Pocahontas where passengers will tour the exhibition coal mine. The train then will run up another coal branch to Matoka, W. Va. and return on the Virginian. On N&W tracks the special will be powered by a giant Class steam locomotive and returning it will be pulled by a huge electric motor—the first time a passenger train has ever operated on the Virginian with electric power.

On Labor Day the special run from Roanoke up the Alleghenies and out the N&W's Blacksburg Branch, this time pulled by two little class M steam engines.

Both railways will have model rail layouts operating in Hotel Roanoke's Pocahontas Room during the convention. There will be other exhibits there and railroad movies will be shown in the ballroom on Sunday night.

Railfans wishing to make the trips may write the convention secretary at 2741 Lansing Drive, SW, Roanoke, Va. Cost of the Sunday trip is $11 for adults, $5.50 for children under twelve, tax included. No tickets will be sold the day of the trip.

FORT STORY TELLINGS -

NODEX

A preparatory training exercise for NODEX (New Over-the-Shore Discharge Exercise) which will take place later this year in Southern France, was completed this week at Fort Story.

Supporting the 399th Transportation Battalion, Fort Eustis, was Fort Story's 347th Amphibious Truck Company, commanded by 1st Lt. Scott Berridge II and Companies A and B of the 159th Transportation Battalion also from Fort Eustis.

NODEX is an over the beach operation utilizing all types of equipment to move cargo and personnel over the beaches under combat conditions.

RESERVISTS

The last of more than 2000 Reservists to train at Fort Story this summer conclude their two-weeks of Active Duty Training here this week.

The encampment of reservists, consisting of the 462nd Terminal Battalion of Trenton, N. J., three Terminal Service Companies and two Amphibious Truck Companies which were assigned to the Battalion for their summer training period depart Friday, Maj. William Montford, commanding officer of the 462nd was the Senior Unit Commander for the encampment.

The reservists, while here at Fort Story, trained in their MOS (Military Occupational Specialty) to further their skills as an individual soldier which implements the training received at their hometown army.

DEDICATION CEREMONIES

Ceremonies at Fort Story Wednesday, September 11, will draw high ranking Army officials to the dedication of Speir Field. Maj. Gen. Paul F. Yount, Chief of Transportation, and Maj. Gen. Rush B. Lincoln Jr., Commanding General of the US Army Transportation Training Command are scheduled to speak at the ceremony which will see the air strip at the post named in honor of the late 1st Col. Frank Wheeler Speir.

Colonel Speir was one of the Army's foremost proponents of amphibious warfare. An extremely energetic and industrious officer, he often traveled by air while carrying out his duties. A rated aviator, Colonel Speir lost his life on July 8, 1956, when his private plane crashed as he was attempting to take off from Dunkirk, a municipal New York airfield.

Colonel Speir's wife, Mrs. Frank Speir of Westhampton Beach, Long Island, N. Y., will attend the dedication ceremonies, along with many of the Colonel's close friends and military associates. The Fort Story airstrip, a low-cost steel matting runway, was recently lengthened and improved. It will accommodate any of the Army's fleet of aircraft.

RA APPOINTMENT

First Lt. William A. Schilling Jr., whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Schilling, live at 25 Woodland Road, Feasterville, Pa., has received notification of his appointment as a Lieutenant in the Regular Army.

Leutenant Schilling, who recently departed Fort Story for duty in Hawaii, served as Company Commander of the 344th Amphibious Truck Company during his tour of duty here. His Regular Army appointment was earned as a result of his performance of duties as well as intensive oral examinations.

RESERVES INSPECTED

Brigadier Gen. William Otten, commanding general of the 370th Transportation Terminal Command "C," United States Army Reserve, visited Fort Story last week and inspected Reserve units from the First Army Area who are currently undergoing two-weeks of Active Duty Training here.

General Otten, who in civilian life is the vice president of the Erie Railroad, was on a two-week tour of active training at Fort Eustis with his unit. After inspecting the 462nd Terminal Battalion of Trenton, N. J., the 297th Terminal Service Company of Boston, Mass., and 946th Terminal Service Company of Bangor, Me., the general returned to Fort Eustis by helicopter.

C.W.O. KOLACHNY

Chief Warrant Officer Clarence D. Kolachny, who has spent more time at Fort Story than any other officer or warrant officer on post, left Monday for Fort Bliss, Texas.

Mr. Kolachny reported for duty at Fort Story in November 1953 and was assigned as assistant personnel officer and in 1956 he took over the duties of the post personnel officer. Upon reporting to Fort Bliss, Mr. Kolachny will be assigned to the Student Detachment, A-4 and Guided Missile School where he will attend the Guided Missile Electronics Material Course.

Kolachny entered the Army in 1944 and took basic training at Camp Barkley, Texas. In April 1951 he was assigned duty in the Replacement Depot, Sasebo, Japan. In 1953 he was transferred to the United States and assigned to Fort Story.

INSPECTION IN ARCTIC

1st Col. Joseph E. Bostick, commanding officer of Fort Story's 14th Transportation Battalion is inspecting resupply operations in the Far North this week. Colonel Bostick is accompanying Maj. Gen. Rush B. Lincoln Jr., commanding general of the US Army Transportation Training Command and members of his staff on the inspection tour.

Transportation Corps troops from Fort Story and Fort Eustis are currently participating in Operation 572, Gap-Pine, and SUNEK, joint Army-Navy missions to resupply the vital air bases and DEW-Line radar sites that constitute the country's first chain of Northern defenses.

The inspecting party is spending 10 days in the Arctic visiting the various sites at which the soldiers are handling cargo in a "round the clock race against the ice."

NEW CIVILIAN HEAD

Mrs. Agnes M. Maher of Seattle, Wash., has been named the head of Fort Story's Civilian Personnel Office, a spot that has long been vacant here.

Mrs. Maher, an Employee Utilization Representative, reported for duty at Fort Story, the 21st of August. She transferred here from the Seattle Army Terminal, Seattle, Wash., which is now in the process of being inactivated.

Also a new comer to the Civilian Personnel office is Mrs. Winona Shirey, civilian placement clerk. Mrs. Shirey replaced Miss Audrey Taylor who is now in Boston, Mass.

RAILS THAT NEVER RUST

Gleaming in the midday sun... shimmering under the moon's pale glow... afire with gold as the night headlights bear down... rails that never rust!

Rolling wheels won't let them! Some folks wonder whether it's important to go to Church every Sunday. Why not twice a month—or now and then—or at certain special seasons?

When the wheels stop rolling: RUST! When we relax in our quest of God or interrupt our pursuit of faith, then all the destructive influences in life begin to attack the soul.

The Church helps us keep open our spiritual right of way. And not only church-worship, but personal prayer, Bible reading and family worship rightfully deserve a place on our timetable.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of a character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Democracy, nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should support the Church. They are: (1) children's sake, (2) for his own sake, (3) for the sake of his community and nation, (4) which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Peach Turnovers

Peach Turnovers, still warm from the oven, and cream team up for a truly scrumptious dessert Wrap fresh peach slices in tender biscuit dough to make these attractive Peach Turnovers. It's a wonderful way to feature this popular fresh fruit.

Make the biscuit dough with self-rising flour for extra-good results. Self-rising flour already contains baking powder and salt in correct amounts. Since these two ingredients are already present, you save time in measuring and sifting too.

Cinnamon and a dash of mace flavor the peaches to perfection. Serve Peach Turnovers warm, with whipped cream or plain cream.

PEACH TURNOVERS

1 cup sifted enriched self-rising flour
2 tablespoons shortening
1/3 to 1/2 cup milk
Melted butter or margarine

3 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
Dash mace
1 cup sliced, fresh peaches
Cut or rub shortening into flour until mixture is crumbly. Add milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out to circle about 10 inches in diameter. Brush with melted butter or margarine. Mix sugar, cinnamon and mace and sprinkle over dough. Cut into 6 equal pie-shaped wedges. Place 3 or 4 peach slices on each wedge. Roll up, beginning at wide end. Seal point and edges. Place in greased 3-inch muffin pans with point of roll underneath, and curl roll to fit muffin cup. Bake in hot oven (425°F.) about 15 minutes.

Makes 6 turnovers.

The MIXING BOWL..

IT'S Fun TO COOK

By LUCILE CLARK
SUN-NEWS FOOD EDITOR

For the very latest in food fads and foibles... for practical, down-to-earth recipes that please both palate and pocketbook, read the "Mixing Bowl" by Lucile Clark each Thursday in the Sun-News.

Everybody partial to peaches! Even the dignified dictionary admits "Peachy" to mean "delightfully pleasant." And the smart homemaker knows that the fresh peach is delightful in more ways than one. It brings happy, healthful eating to the family - the luscious, rosy-gold fruit is a source of minerals and vitamins, especially vitamin A, which does so much for vision, teeth and general vitality. And the peaches' versatility - the many simple but delicious ways in which it can be prepared - makes for lazy-easy summer cooking.

Fresh Peach and Grape Salad, composed of golden slices of peeled fresh ripe peaches, pale green seedless grapes and richly red Tokay Grapes on a tray centered with a crystal bowl of cottage cheese, is lovely to look at and delectable to eat. Orange glazed Fresh Peaches - fresh peach halves baked in syrup tanged with fresh orange juice - add the ambrosial touch to an ordinary meat dish. Fresh Peach Ice Cream made the low calorie way brings velvet textured goodness to the palate without padding the midriff. And, of course, a ripe peach eaten out of hand is one of the best summer joys anytime - at meals or between them.

Our name for peach derives from the Latin meaning Persia, and for centuries the peach, or "Persian Apple", was believed to have originated there. Another version from the Latin origin "Prunus Persia", meaning plum from Persia. The Greeks of Alexander's time wrote of the peach, both as a garden embellishment and as a fruit for feasting. It was brought to America by the earliest Spanish explorers. About 1871 peaches were growing in Mexico and spread northward. Modern botanists have found a number of types of Peach native to China.

References to the Peach by its Chinese Name, "Tao," appear in Chinese literature dating back to 2,000 B.C., which is 500 years before it is mentioned in Hebrew literature, or Sanskrit. These findings led historians to believe that China not Persia, may have been the land of the fruit's birth.

There were three types of Peaches growing in Mexico when they were first planted. The French in Louisiana, the English in Virginia, at Jamestown and the Pilgrims in Massachusetts planted peaches soon as their settlements were established. I was shocked at the number of varieties of peaches - Wise's Encyclopedia of Cookery says, "there are 2,181 varieties of peaches, differing in size, shape flavor and color."

No where else in the world does the peach thrive as it does in the United States. The peach is now thoroughly Americanized. I like our soil so well that there was a widespread escape from cultivation into the wild, in fact, early botanists found so many peach trees outside orchards that they considered it a native. With the orange and the grape, it ranks next to the apple among fruits of Commercial importance, the annual crop having a value of more than $45,000,000.

Fresh Peach and Grape Salad (With Cottage Cheese)
6 fresh ripe peaches
1/4 cup fresh orange juice
1/4 pound green seedless grapes
1/4 pound Tokay, Malaga or Ribier grapes
Heed lettuce
Mayonnaise
Cottage cheese
Peel peaches, cut in half and remove stones and slice. Dip in orange juice. For each serving, place 6 peach slices and some of each kind of grape on lettuce. Top with Mayonnaise. Serve with cottage cheese. YIELD: 6 servings.

Orange Glazed Fresh Peaches

(A meat or poultry accompaniment)

2 tablespoons dark corn syrup

Peel peaches, cut in half and remove stones. Mix orange juice with corn syrup into which dip the peach halves. Place, cut side down, in a shallow baking dish. Four in the remaining orange juice mixture. Cover with aluminum foil. Bake in a preheated oven (400°F.) 20 minutes or until peaches are tender basting 2 to 3 times. Turn cut-side up and place under the broiler 2 to 3 minutes to brown. Serve with meat or poultry. YIELD: 6 servings, 1/2 peach per serving.

Fresh Peach, Pear and Blueberry Medley

2 cups peeled sliced fresh ripe peaches

1 cup peeled diced fresh pears

1/2 cup fresh blueberries

1/4 cup fresh lemon juice

1/2 cup sugar

Dash of salt

Place peaches, pears and blueberries in a bowl. Combine fresh lemon juice, sugar, and salt and pour over fruit. Toss lightly. Chill and serve. YIELD: 6 servings.

Low-Calorie Peach Ice Cream

1 rennet (Junket) tablet

1 tablespoon cold water

2 cups skim milk

1/2 cup sugar

3 tablespoons white corn syrup

1/16 teaspoon salt

1 1/2 teaspoons pure vanilla extract

1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice

3 cups crushed ripe fresh peaches

Crush rennet, tablet and dissolve in cold water. Combine milk, sugar, corn syrup, salt and pure vanilla extract. Mix well. Heat to lukewarm, stirring constantly. Test a drop on the inside of the wrist frequently. When it is comfortably warm (110°F.) not hot, remove from heat at once. Add dissolved rennet tablet. Stir a few seconds only. Four, at once, while still liquid into an ice cube tray. Do not disturb for 10 minutes while milk sets. Place in the freezing compartment of refrigerator and freeze until almost firm. Remove from bowl and break up with fork and beat with an electric or rotary beater until free from lumps, but still thick and mushy. Beat at high speed 2 minutes. Fold in fresh lemon juice and crushed fresh peaches. Turn into 2 ice cube trays. Return to freezer and freeze until firm and ready to serve. YIELD: 12 servings

Approximate calories per 1/2 cup serving - 74.

DESSERT IN A JIFFY:

Twin-Flavor Delights

Looking for an easy dessert with a sure-to-please flavor, requiring only minutes of kitchen time? Here's a tasty new one that you'll welcome these hot summer days. "Twin-Flavor Delights", individual puddings with the rich double flavor of crumbled vanilla wafers and chocolate, can be made in a jiffy during cool morning hours, or even the night before you want to serve them. They'll keep fresh and delicious overnight in the refrigerator. Here's how to make them:

Twin-Flavor Delights

- 1 1/4 cups finely crushed Sunshine Vanilla Wafer crumbs
- 6 tablespoons melted butter
- 1 package chocolate pudding mix
- 1/2 cup chopped pecans
- 1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped (optional)
- 4 pecan halves (optional)

Heat oven to 350°F. (moderate oven). Roll vanilla wafers very fine with a rolling pin on a piece of waxed paper. Combine wafer crumbs and melted butter in a bowl. Blend. Pack crumb mixture onto bottom and sides of four 5-ounce custard cups. Bake at 350°F. for 8 minutes. Chill. Prepare pudding as package directs. Stir in chopped nuts. Cool. Pour into crumb shells. Chill. To serve, loosen crumb shells with a thin, sharp knife. Invert puddings on to chilled serving plates. Top, if desired, with whipped cream and a half pecan; outline base of each pudding with ribbon of whipped cream. Makes 4 "delights".

"Who Says You Need Costly Shots To Relieve 'Hot Flashes' And Irritation From Change-Of-Life?"

Mrs. A. M. Watonga, Okla., adds, "Middle age was torture. Had costly shots 3 times a week but got no relief. Then took Pinkham's Tablets. They brought me new happiness, comfort!"

BAYSIDE BAPTIST CHURCH NEWS

Church Member to Enter Ministry in September

Mr. C. L. Winslow, 505 Lakeview Road, Lakeview Park, decided on a full time life of Christian Service on July 14, in the morning worship service.

Mr. Winslow plans to enter the University of Richmond this fall to study for the ministry. He has served the Bayside Baptist Church as Teacher, Lay Committee Member, Deacon, General Sunday School Superintendent, Finance Committee Chairman and Adult Sunday School Superintendent. He has been loyal in attendance, and has performed his duties and responsibilities faithfully and well, placing Christ and His Church first.

Mrs. Winslow has served the Church as Intermediate Girls Teacher, Cradle Roll Superintendent, member of the Nominating Committee, Girls' Auxiliary Counselor, and Mission Study Chairman of the Anita Roper Circle of Women's Missionary Union.

The Winslows have three children, Virginia, Charles and Carolyn. The Church in business session gave sanction and commendation to Mr. Winslow—in his decision to enter the Gospel Ministry. The Bayside Church will miss him and his family but send them forth with their prayers and best wishes for a fruitful ministry wherever God leads.

CHURCH CAMP

Mrs. Norma Emmons served as a Camp Counselor at the recent Princess Anne County Baptist Church Camp, which was held at Camp Owaissa August 12-16. Each summer the Baptist Churches of Princess Anne County rent Camp Owaissa from the YMCA for a week. A full program of study and recreation provides a marvelous opportunity for spiritual and physical growth for our Junior and Intermediate Boys and girls. Others who went from Bayside Baptist were Judy Sanford, Steve Johnston and Margaret Garrett.

PLANS FOR CHURCH BUILDING

Upon the recommendation of the Deacons Committee the church voted unanimously to apply to the Norfolk Baptist Council for a loan of $100,000.00 to finance the building of the first unit of the church (Bayside Baptist). The proposed building will provide for both worship and educational services.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY UNION

The circle of the Woman's Missionary Union held their regular monthly meetings Tuesday, August 20. Each Circle had a well planned program, and the meetings were well attended.

The Pearl DuVal and Anita Roper Circles conducted services at the Municipal Hospital, Thursday night, August 22. From the Pearl DuVal Circle, those attending were: Mrs. Harry Herring, circle leader, Mrs. Cathy Gregory, Mrs. Martha McLawhorn. From the Anita Roper Circle, those attending were: Mrs. Ottilie Harlow, circle leader; Mrs. C. T. Congleton, Mrs. Margaret Congleton, Mrs. Maud Pavey, and Mrs. Martha Wright. Mrs. Wright, Community Missions Chairman of the W.M.U. gave the program. Refreshments were served by the circles.

MASSANETTA SPRINGS

The Bayside Baptist pastor, Rev. John R. Wright, Mrs. Wright, Rebecca, John, Jr., and Elizabeth returned from a week of study and inspiration at Massanetta Springs Assembly, near Harrisonburg, Virginia. Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Winslow, Virginia, Charles, Carolyn have also returned from Massanetta Springs. The week attended was State Sunday School Assembly for the officers and teachers of the Baptist Churches of Virginia.

Dr. Frank Voligt, Secretary of the Sunday School Department was in charge of the program. Dr. Henry E. Turlington, Professor of New Testament at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary conducted the Bible Study Hour. Dr. W. L. Howe, Secretary of the Educational Division of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board brought the study of Teaching for Results. Rev. Wayne Dehoney, pastor of Central Park Baptist Church, Birmingham, Alabama preached the evening sermon. Age group conferences were conducted each morning and evening.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED FOR 1957-1958 CHURCH YEAR

The following Church Officers were elected to serve the Bayside Baptist Church for the new church year: Mr. Charles S. Brown, Sunday School Superintendent; Miss Ailene Padgett, Training Union Director; Mrs. A. D. Young, Woman's Missionary Union President; Mr. Thomas L. King, Brotherhood President; Mr. Sam B. American Legion Breaks Child Welfare Records

The 1957 Child Welfare Report of The American Legion has broken all records according to Department Commander John J. Howard of Blackstone, Virginia.

"Nationally, 6,711 Legion Posts, 10,943 Auxiliary Units, Department (States), the National organization including the Forty and Eight and Eight and Forty Societies expended $1,918,784.71 during the Legion year just ended May 31, 1957," Commander Howard said.

Since the Child Welfare Program was started in 1925 a total of $139,733,587.61 has been spent.

The annual report of Department Commander James H. Putnam reveals that 19,290 Virginia children benefited directly to the extent of $35,343.96 last year.

Commander Howard added, "we realize this is only a relatively small contribution to our children's welfare but, when added to our other youth programs we feel we have reason to be proud of the effort being made by the American Legion of Virginia."

Intendant; and Mr. E. D. Pettengill, Jr. Adult Men's Teacher.

INTERMEDIATES BEACH PICNIC

The Intermediate Department of the church plans to have a picnic at Baylake Beach, Saturday, August 31. Mr. William Davis, Superintendent, of Baylake Pines and Mr. M. C. Hilton, Associate Superintendent of Lake View Park are in charge of arrangements and activities.

THE VERY NEWEST

The Congratulations of the Church are extended to the following: Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Keisling. Upon the arrival of Jack David, June 3; Mr. and Mrs. Lansing Lee Fulcher, upon the arrival of Dorothy Gail, July 3; Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Wilson upon the arrival of Gail Lynn, July 23; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hupman, upon the arrival of Warren Ashley, August 17.
